Recent Fire to Be Replaced By Fall

PORTLAND, Or., Aug. 1 .- The poard of directors of the Portland Chamber of Commerce today approved the immediate reconstruction of the buildings of the Pacific International Livestock exposition recently destroyed by fire. The approval was made on condition that the buildings be completed in time to hold the exposition this year and that the cost not exceed the $350,000 insurance carried on the old buildings. If these conditions are met the chamber directors agreed to support sale of $261,000 in bonds which have been authorized but not issued. Funds from the bonds are to be used to pay debts of the livestock exposition and to cover operating costs. Exposition officials will decide finally whether or Lot to rebuild the exposition buildings at a meeting here Monday.
