ODE TO MEN

By Margaret McBride Hoss. I wish you'd quit raggin' us wimmin' 'Bout everything under the sun. The clothes we don't wear. An' our fuzzy bobbed hair. Ain't none of yore bizness—jest none!

You don't never hear us beratin' yore waist line an' morals an' socks. They're homely, Lord knows. But don't never suppose That we let 'em give US any shocks.

You're allus so het up an' peevish. An' scotch'in' the atmosphere blue; WE don't sit all riled. When YOU act kinda wild. An' sling all that langwidge at YOU!

Can't nothing we do never please you? Why blame ALL the mischief on US? Since ole Adam ragged Eve, I t'pably believe That men ain't did nothin' but fuss!

Usher in Movie: "How many, please?" Absent-minded One: "I'll play these!"

What Women Wear. Wife (dressed in a modern bathing suit): "How do I look?" Hubby: "Oh, you look alright, but if you were arrested it wouldn't be for carrying concealed weapons." —E. N. Richardson.

'Ataboy. Jerry and Constance, sweethearts, were standing at the kitchen sink. Constance was preparing to make some lemonade, but could not locate the necessary utensils. "I wonder where the lemon squeezer is?" she asked. "Why, dear, right here!" he answered.

While There is Life. "What is woman's dangerous age?" "From the cradle to the grave." —J. L. Sherard.

We MUST have made the world safe for democracy. At a railroad restaurant a gentleman noticed a young man's hand moving in the direction of his coffee cup and looked up from his paper. "Excuse me," said the young man shyly, "but would you mind if I dipped my toast in your coffee? Mine's all gone."

Slight Misunderstanding. French Typewriter Mechanic: "I have brought ze keez for your typewriter." Office Manager: "Sorry, but we do not allow that sort of thing in the office. Save it for her after 5 p. m."

THE JINGLE-JANGLE COUNTER. My wife won't talk very much today. I mixed cement in her beauty clay. —G. Clarkson.

Early to bed and early to rise, And up every time the baby cries. —Francis Yamote. Girls are shy 'bout giving kisses. But still more so 'bout washing dishes. —Leonard King. A little pup went on a tear, And tore up all my underwear. —A. Earle Frid. Try, Try, Again. Tears were in her large brown eyes and she smiled sadly. Her husband's face was pale with anxiety. "David," she faltered, "I have missed you, oh, so much!" Then she raised the revolver and fired again. This time she hit him. —Mrs. Paul Powers. All that glitters is not sold.

What's Wrong With This Picture? Knick: "What kind of lip sticks does she use?" Knack: "Don't know. Never tasted them." —Sinbad.

Love. Across the moon-lit lawn she came to me. Like a wisp of white she crossed the grass, scarcely seeming to touch the ground. She was not mine—could never be mine—but my low call brought her to my arms, where she nestled as I pressed her to my heart. I could feel her little heart beating—beating as if she was too happy or too frightened. The rich man in the great house beside my little cottage called her his—but she came at my call. I stroked her silken hair and pressed her small form in my arms. Suddenly a voice sounded from the great house. Her small form stiffened in my arms, her heart beat fast, fluttering. I tried to soothe her with loving words and caresses, but all in vain. Like a flash she was gone, and I was alone with only a rude voice breaking the silence: "Kitty—Kitty—Come here and get your saucer of milk!" —Gertrude Lawrence. Surely Not. Twister: "Do you think, if things continue as they are, there'll be any change?"

Buster Keaton, who is coming to the Oregon Sunday.

Turner: "Can't say as to that, but I know that if things continue as high as they are, there won't be any change in my pocket." —Ernest Rutherford. Ima Model Daughter. Ima goes to parties gay, plays the keyboard. Spoils dad's collars; Learns new lessons day by day; saves her pennies, Dimes and dollars. Some day off she'll go to college, write grave themes, And make fine fudge, Fill her head with useful know- ledge, queen of sports Or I'm no judge! Balanced quite with no reactions, a model, she Who'd knock 'em cold; The cream of parents' satisfactions, is Ima Ware, One year old! —Zaida Packard Edwards. JENNINGS LODGE SERVICES ENDED

Final Session Held Thursday; Two Associations are Consolidated

The sessions of the summer assembly of the Evangelical denomination held at Jennings Lodge July 22-31, closed Thursday evening after a splendid series of meetings. One day was given over to the Woman's Missionary branch and another to the Sunday school board. The Evangelical Endeavorers had charge for a day and a half. The remaining time was spent in intensive Bible study and evangelistic work. Seventy-five young people became candidates for definite life service work. At the assembly the Quinaby Park association and the Jennings Lodge district, located north of Oregon City on the Willamette, consolidated, the two associations to come together under conference jurisdiction hereafter, rather than local. For next year an amph-theater accommodating 2500 persons will be constructed at Jennings lodge. Landscape plans are already being gone over. Over 100 delegates from local Evangelical churches were in attendance at the camp meeting.

LABOR SEEMS SET TO SUPPORT THIRD TICKET

and presidential and vice-presidential candidates would be unanimous and would be the only report submitted to the council. Commission Flayed. Another development was a statement by Mr. Gompers commenting on a telegram reported in news dispatches to have been sent to the labor leader from Chicago today by Joseph Manley, campaign manager for the workers' party, whose presidential nominee is William Z. Foster. The news dispatch said the news telegram attacked Mr. Gompers as the "arch betrayer of the working classes." In his statement Mr. Gompers said in part: "Foster and Ruthenberg (the workers' party presidential and vice-presidential nominees) tried to endorse Senator La Follette in their St. Paul convention but the senator forestalled them by denouncing the whole communist outfit. "Thus chagrined, Foster and Ruthenberg, in control of the machinery set up in the St. Paul convention betrayed the men and women who went there with honest purposes and convictions, set up dummy candidates who were almost immediately discarded without ceremony and then proceeded to attack Senator La Follette. "Without expressing any further opinion I am sure the senator will be pleased to know that international revolutionary communism opposed him. For my part I should consider it extremely fortunate for any political leader, or for any bona fide trade union leader or official to have the friendship of those whose first object there is the destruction of all our domestic institutions and finally of the Republic itself." Mr. Gompers described Foster and Ruthenberg as "disappointed men" who know "they cannot carry out the orders of their masters in Moscow and who know the reason for this is the unyielding defense of democracy and the American institutions by the American federation of Labor."

SALEM IS TO HAVE NEW OIL ACTIVITY

(Continued from page 1) miles south of Salem, along the Willamette river, on the Marion county side. How many leases have been taken the reporter does not know, for the California drilling concern has been very secretive. But several leases have been signed up. Will Prospect for Gold, Too. Information has been conveyed to an owner of land in that locality that the company, having just "brought in" a paying well where it is operating in California, has several months of work ahead there, and therefore cannot begin boring on the farm mentioned, in the East Independence section, till some time next winter. Will Prospect for Gold, Too. Information has been conveyed from the same company, in the same manner, that its managers expect also to see what there is under the hills out that way in the way of gold in paying quantities. The fact has never before been published, to the knowledge of the Statesman reporter, but it has

Gas in the Wells

It has developed that the wells in that neighborhood have been known locally to contain gas for a long time. The neighbors knew it, but they thought nothing of it. The indications are that the managers of this California company have for some time had knowledge of these oil and gold prospects, for some of the leases have been on record for months. From the fact that they intend to come, as soon as they can finish up the work they have in hand in California, and begin drilling for oil and prospecting for gold, it is evident that this is no stock selling proposition. Who knows but there may be developed a great gold mining camp under the Skyline and Rosedale hills? That would make for more than a three story prosperity, with the tree and bush fruits and strawberries and poultry and other things, now there, to say nothing of the walnut and filbert orchards, some of the finest in the world, out that way.

TWO TRUSTIES RUN AS GUARD LEAVES

(Continued from page 1) near Commercial to borrow a hammer with which to make a few minor repairs. When he returned the two men had disappeared. He waited a few minutes, and when they failed to show up, notified the prison and guards took up the search. Penwell was received from Marion county October 13, 1923, to serve five years for forgery. In addition to a previous sentence here in 1913, he had served time in Walla Walla in 1919, and in Canada. He is 5 feet, 8 inches tall, medium build, gray eyes and was wearing overalls, with the number 8501. Howard was received August 6, 1921, from Multnomah county, to serve not more than three years for larceny not in a dwelling. He is 5 feet, 10 inches, of a muscular build, brown eyes and wore overalls with the number 8772. Howard was made a trusty May 8 and Penwell on May 21. By occupation the former is a sailor and the latter a boiler-maker. Both are said to be excellent workmen.

Anti-Alien Bill Planned By Missouri Legislator

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 1.—Senator A. S. McCawley of Carthage announced here today that he had drafted an anti-alien bill to be introduced at the next session of the state legislature. Mr. McCawley stated that he had received copies of the California Japanese exclusion act and that the bill to be presented to the Missouri legislature is similar to that of California.
