

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Jail Is Fumigated—

In an effort to make the city jail free from all "permanent residents" and to protect transients and occasional visitors from undue annoyance, strong fumigants were used Wednesday. As a result, the entire police station and the city recorder's office smelled like a goat and the aroma was sufficient to bring tears to the eyes of visitors before the fumes disappeared.

Members of the Red Cross life saving corps will participate in the demonstration, all of whom, with two exceptions, are Salem fancy, high and comedy divers. The exhibition will include life saving demonstrations, various distance swims and a variety of strokes.

Students Registering—

Though the fall term at Willamette university is still some time in the future, applications for admission are being received at present. Nat E. Beaver, acting registrar, said yesterday. From present indications it is expected that a new record for attendance will be set. The type of application this year is said to be the highest in the history of the college and there will be a high quality of material from which to select representatives of the various student activities.

Charles A. Carroll of Bend, who with H. J. Overturf and others, was convicted and fined in the federal court for alleged fraud in the appraisal of lands from the state bonus commission, has applied to the state real estate department for a license to operate as a real estate agent. His application was turned down by Real Estate Commissioner Will Moore, but Carroll asks a hearing, which he is entitled to under the law. The hearing will be at Bend on August 18, conducted by W. A. Mullin, deputy real estate commissioner. It is said Carroll has operated without a license.

Taken by Army Officials—

So that he may be transferred from the Oregon penitentiary to the federal prison at McNeil's island, Governor Pierce has issued a conditional pardon to James Arnold, alias Lon Ferra, who was sentenced to serve 10 years in the Oregon prison for assault and robbery while armed with a dangerous weapon. He was first sentenced to serve five years at Leavenworth, but escaped the day before he was to be taken to the prison. At the Oregon prison he has been an expert brick maker, and once escaped from the brick yard by hiding in a carload of brick, other prisoners escaping at the same time. Arnold returned the same night voluntarily, having gone as far as Albany.

when the first water was run through the nozzles on the Henry Houli placer mining plant. Although nothing but surface dirt was run through Sunday, a good show was found in the sluice boxes and encouraging symptoms are found in the old diggings that for years have held a large store of gold and have yielded very little to the efforts of numerous prospectors. This placer mining outfit is modern and continuous operation at the plant is expected. The first real clean-up will be made in 30 days. Future development of the mines is regarded as certain.

We wish to extend our sincere thanks and appreciation to the many friends and relatives who so kindly assisted us during the last illness and death of our beloved wife, mother and daughter, Mary Emaline McCormick; also for the many floral offerings. We wish the same loving courtesy extended to you. C. L. McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Harold, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Baker.

Need More Hop Pickers—

Fifty workers to start picking in hop yards on August 11 are needed, a call for this number having been received Wednesday morning by Sam Phillips, who has charge of the federal employment bureau at the YMCA. This is contrary to earlier reports which were to the effect that the hop growers had lined up sufficient pickers to harvest the crop. The supply of labor has exceeded the demand this week, a number having completed their work in the harvest fields, due to unusually favorable weather conditions. There is still some need of more evergreen pickers, Mr. Phillips said.

Work on Rifle Range—

Work on a new rifle range to be used by the two Salem military organizations will begin in a day or two and will be completed in about 10 days, according to an announcement made Wednesday by Maj. Charles E. Gjedstad. The range is to be installed on the Tanager road about five miles from Salem. It will be used by men from the 349th coast artillery, headquarters detachment, and the men of Company F, 162nd infantry. Funds for the construction of the range are received from the federal government. The range will be fully equipped with pits and firing points and will be available up to and including 600 yards. Men from the different units will be on the range each week, a few at a time scattered through the week, with no effort to take the entire command out at once.

Here From Nebraska—

Two young men from North Platte, Neb., have arrived in Salem to spend the winter with their grandmother, Mrs. D. F. Lane, 1155 Court street. The boys are Joe Lane and Albert Lane. Joe will enter Willamette university this fall while the other brother will be in Salem until spring.

Will Erect Warehouse—

Chief of the $10,000 worth of building permits issued by City Recorder Marten Poulsen Wednesday was one to the H. A. Hyde company, a California nursery concern, which will erect a warehouse at 2090 Portland road, at a cost of $6,000. Other permits issued yesterday were to B. P. Taylor, dwelling at 1896 State, to cost $2500; Lucas V. Wade, a store building, 1825 Garden road, $600, and to Peter J. B. ## The Measure of a Town

Cities are built—they don't grow.

The measure of a town is the extent that it builds on opportunity.

When a man takes a self inventory it is a hopeful sign. If he is candid he will find much fault—if he is wise he will strive to correct it. Cities do not differ from men.

People who shop away from Salem have a reason—or they think they have. When that reason is discovered the constructive thing to do is to correct it.

The Salem Business Men's League needs and merits your support in its efforts to better Salem's shopping business. Get behind the committee.

Keep the sale in Salem.
