

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Returns From Camps—
Sergeant C. R. Lucy, who has charge of the Salem army recruiting station, returned to the city Tuesday morning after serving as an instructor at two of the summer military camps at Camp Lewis. Sergeant Lucy has been absent from the city for two months. He left here with his wife for the opening of the citizens' military training camp on June 19, remaining for the reserve officers' camp which closed August 10. Mrs. Lucy returned with him as far as Portland, where she is visiting for a few days until Sergeant Lucy can find a place to live, having given up his apartments before going to Camp Lewis.

Cherrians Are Triplex—
Because no more invitations have been received, the Cherrians have no more trips in view at present, according to King Bing A. Pierce. Visits to other communities will not be made unless a special invitation is received, he said. Each of the three fellowship trips taken by the Cherrians this summer have brought out large crowds. The places visited were Woodburn, Silverton and Stayton.

Paving Work Continues—
Paving operations on the Albany-Corvallis west side highway have placed the hardsurface as far as Granger, completing six miles of the road, with three and a half miles remaining. The work is slightly ahead of schedule, 625 feet of pavement being laid each day. Work will be started on the Corvallis end in a few days where a mile and a half of pavement was put down when the work first began.

Vandals Wreck School—
Vandals believed to live in Mill City were held responsible by Mrs. M. L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent, for the wanton destruction of the furnishings of the school in the Taylor district. Mrs. Fulkerson paid a visit to the school Monday and found maps, books, blackboards, seats, windows and other furnishings completely demolished. The school has been closed for the past five years and the board was planning on opening it this next year.

Final Hearing Fixed—
The date for the final hearing of the estate of Minerva Jessup has been set for September 6 by the county court on the motion of Marie John, administratrix. A petition to fix the date of final hearing for the estate of Margaret Bell was filed with the county court by Anna Wilcox, administratrix yesterday.

Cannot Rescind Action—
In an opinion to the district attorney of Klamath county, Attorney General I. N. Van Winkle holds that the voters of a county in which the county unit system of school administration has been adopted may not rescind their action except by an enabling act of the legislature. The county unit act of 1921 is a general statute, and upon the vote of the people of Klamath county it became effective there to the same extent as if there had been no condition requiring a vote of the people to make it effective. The initiative and referendum powers reserved to the voters of every municipality and district as to all local, special and municipal legislation of every character do not confer upon such municipal subdivisions, it is held, the power to repeal general statutes.

Attention Iowans—

Elks Ready for Trip—
At least 100 Salem Elks are expected to attend the state convention in Tillamook August 14 to 16, it was announced Tuesday by Dr. C. B. O'Neill, exalted ruler. Names of the 10 official delegates who will attend are August Hucksstein, Arthur Brock, I. W. Lewis, Edgar Rowland, Howard Hulsey, A. H. Moore, J. C. Herren, J. R. Pursley, J. Cherrington and J. H. Gantenbein. As a majority of the members propose to make the trip to the coast in private automobiles, the plan to charter a special train has been dropped. As a number of the Elks will be unable to take in the entire convention, it is expected that Saturday, the final day of the convention, will find the local delegation much strengthened by fresh recruits as a great many are making plans to be present for the closing day.

Hubbard to Have High—
Hubbard is to re-establish a high school, according to Lee Byers, principal, who was a caller at the office of the county school superintendent yesterday.

Sever on Payroll—
It became known here yesterday that Frank Sever, who was assistant state treasurer under the late O. P. Hoff, and who was defeated as a candidate for the Republican nomination for treasurer by T. B. Kay, is now in the employ of State Treasurer Myers as a legal advisor in the inheritance tax department at a salary of $250 a month. His offices are in Portland. He continues to practice privately. It is said he entered the employ of the state about three months ago.

Salem Agents Square—
W. A. Mullin, superintendent of the real estate department of the state insurance commissioner's office, commends the real estate dealers of Salem and nearby territory, declaring that not a complaint against them has been made. Complaints have come, it is said, from every other city of any size in the state.

City Council Complains—
The city council of Canyon City, Or., complains to the public service commission about the lack of service rendered by the Consolidated Electric Light company, declaring that not enough power to operate ice-making machines is furnished with the result that meat cannot be preserved in the city. The company replies by explaining that it holds a contract with the Prairie Power company whereby the latter was to supply Canyon City, and that the Prairie company has failed to comply with the contract.

Drunk Man Fined—
Only one item was booked on the day report at the police station Tuesday. This was the case of A. B. Emmett, who was fined $10 for being drunk. Emmett was arrested Monday night by Officer Olson.

Gets Building Permits—
Two building permits were issued by the city recorder Tuesday. These were to R. A. Harris, for the erection of a story and a half dwelling, Swiss chalet type, at a cost of $6300 on what is known as the Island property, 701 North Capitol. The other permit was to J. M. Clifford for the erection of a story and a half dwelling at 125 Superior, to cost $1000.

YMCA Boys Returning—
The YMCA boys' camp on Trask river will be broken up at noon today and the happy youngsters start home from a two weeks' outing in Tillamook county. Trucks and private automobiles will bring the boys back to Salem. Those who travel in the latter vehicles will probably get back here in time for dinner, but those who ride back on the trucks are not expected until after dark.

Special Services—
Dr. Blaine E. Kirpatrick will preach at the picnic grounds, Brush college on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. A big bonfire and a good time will be enjoyed.

Elks Ready for Trip—
At least 100 Salem Elks are expected to attend the state convention in Tillamook August 14 to 16, it was announced Tuesday by Dr. C. B. O'Neill, exalted ruler. Will Not Charter Car—
Because there are not 25 Kiwanians in the district who will make the trip to Spokane by train, plans for a special Pullman car to carry delegates to the district convention August 25 and 26 have been abandoned, it was announced yesterday by N. D. Elliott, secretary of the Salem Kiwanis club. The local club will be represented by two delegates and while it is expected others will make the trip, these plan to motor to the convention city.

Birth Is Reported—
A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lundy Maxwell Case, of Stayton, at the Salem hospital on August 4, according to a birth report filed with the city health officer Tuesday.

OAC Picnic Thursday—
Thursday, at the Silverton park, members of the Salem and Silverton OAC clubs will stage a joint picnic. All former students and alumni who are able to attend will receive a cordial welcome at the picnic.

Arrested for Larceny—
J. H. Wheeler was brought into the justice court Tuesday upon a complaint signed by Sarah L. Hulen, of Stayton, who alleges that Wheeler peeled a number of chitter bark trees that were on her property and without her permission. Wheeler, who was charged with larceny by severance, entered a plea of not guilty and will be given a hearing.

Speeder Pays Fine—
A. C. Kehr, a tourist, was fined $25 in the justice court yesterday after he was arrested for speeding by O. O. Nichols, state traffic officer. The visitor was traveling as high as 62 miles an hour between Woodburn and Gervais and the traffic officer was unable to catch up until Kehr slowed down a little. Leniency was recommended by Officer Nichols because of the other's courteous conduct. Under the scale of fines operated by P. J. Kuntz, justice of the peace, the fine could have been placed at $50.

Kidding Elks' Steward—
One of the favorite indoor amusements at the Elks' club these days is the kidding of George Miller, steward. With a new temple now under construction, the boys all insist that Miller must be decorated in fitting with his position and in keeping with the new building. The latest suggestions that are being made are that Miller will wear a green suit, gold braid and a skull cap.

Picnic Date Changed—
The Joint home and foreign mission picnic of the Jason Lee Methodist church will be held at the Englewood park on Friday of this week instead of Wednesday as previously announced in the church bulletins. Ladies of the church are cordially invited to attend.

Quinaby Home Burned—
Damage to the amount of $1,000 and the destruction of the farm home of Arthur Girod, two miles south of Quinaby, on the Oregon Electric railroad, was caused by fire of an undetermined origin Tuesday noon. The chemical apparatus of the Salem fire department was rushed to the fire and by prompt action managed to save the barn and other outbuildings, though the house was entirely consumed by the flames. There was no one at home when the fire was first noticed, and neighbors who hurried to the scene were able to save most of the household effects.

Camp Average Good—
Nearly 100 camps are being made by tourists at the auto camp grounds each night, according to T. G. Albert, superintendent. This number has been averaged for several days. A majority of the machines are registered from the east.

Charged With Assault—
In justice court Tuesday Iky Ott entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of assault and battery filed by Adam Trout. A similar charge against Bill Trout was dismissed upon motion of John Carson, district attorney. Adam Trout showed unmistakable indications of having been damaged. His face and lips were swollen and his ear and face bleeding. Ott based his plea upon his contention that Adam Trout started the trouble. The battle is said to have begun during an argument over the actions of Adam Trout's son.

Addressed Rally—
Governor Pierce, Professor Herzog of Kimball college and Congressman Elton Watkins of Portland addressed a rally of Clackamas county Sunday schools at Colton last Sunday. The audience numbered about 1200 people.

Schooner at Newport—
The schooner Robert Johnson is now at Newport loading lumber for San Pedro, according to information brought to Salem yesterday. The craft is said to be over 300 feet long. Other schooners are to load at Newport, soon.

Prune Buyers Here—
Three buyers of green prunes are now in the Salem district. Those who are now buying are John Young, of Young & Wells, of Spokane; the Denney & Co. and the Ryan Fruit company. The prevailing price is $25 a ton, with owners of hill orchards where the sizes are small making up the bulk of the sellers.

Salem Couple Married—
Charles White, 16, and Lillian Green, 15, both of Salem, were married in Stevenson, Wash., on August 8, according to word received here. The consent of both their parents was necessary before the ceremony was performed, owing to the extreme youth of the contracting parties.

School Meeting Quiet—
Routine business occupied the attention of the school board last night. Announcement was made of the election of the following janitors: G. W. Smalley, head janitor, high school; J. T. Barnes, Alfred Broughton and Bruce Fox, other janitors at the high school; E. A. Bobell and G. P. Volkel, J. L. Parrish junior high school; S. H. Drake, Englewood; J. H. Brock, Garfield; C. W. Stewart, Grant; E. L. Welch, Lincoln; J. W. Woolery, Park, and Charles Gobeley, Richmond. Upon recommendation of George W. Hug, superintendent of schools, five teachers were hired by the board. These will be Mildred Christensen, a graduate of Linfield college, French; Dorothy Nicholson, a graduate of the Ohio state university, English-Latin, and Vivian Marsters, home economics, transferred from the junior high school, all for the high school; C. F. French, arithmetic, junior high school, and Hazel Van Orsdail, fifth grade.

Large Crowd at Concert—
With only one concert to be offered at Willson park by the Cherrian band this week, music lovers turned out en masse last night and one of the largest crowds of the season heard the excellent program that was offered by the Cherrian band. The clarinet duet was very much appreciated while Oscar B. Gingrich was well received in his vocal numbers. The extra treat was arranged by Oscar Steelhammer, director, on account of the postponement of the Friday night concert. The regular program of semi-weekly concerts will be resumed next Tuesday night and the postponed concert offered at the end of the season.

Four Girls Escape—
Escape of four girls from the feeble minded school was reported to the police about 8:30 o'clock last night. The girls were Violet Berry, 16, brown bobbed hair; Hazel Holt, 15, brown hair; Ruth Howard, 18, also with brown hair and Florence Mater, 15, with black hair.

West Salem Has Fire—
Burning brush alarmed residents in west Salem about 11 o'clock last night and a call was sent to Salem for the fire department. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

Speeders are Arrested—
Two speeders were arrested by Officer Wiley Tuesday. C. A. Kaboro, of Route 4, was cited to appear at two o'clock this afternoon while Lester Smith deposited $10 bail to assure his appearance in the police court at the same hour.

Copper and Cooper Back From Eastern Oregon Trip
Percy A. Copper, senior member of the firm of Copper, Simpson & Cooper, consulting engineers and attorneys, and R. D. Cooper, civil engineer, returned to Salem this week after having made extensive investigations in eastern Oregon. Mr. Copper returned from Wheeler county where he had conferred with irrigation interests in regard to the adjudication of the water rights on Bridge creek. He also spent some time at his eastern Oregon stock ranch, making the trip by automobile via the McKenzie river highway.

Mr. Cooper returned to the city after having completed on investigation of power sites on the Deschutes river in the vicinity of Madras. This work was done for the Columbia Valley Power company, and consisted chiefly in ascertaining dam sites and locating

Floored of $45,000, Texan Straps on His 45, Gets Crooks After Chase Over U. S. and Canada

While J. Frank Norfoot was living close to nature five years ago as a Texas ranger, a group of swindlers got $45,000 of his money. As a matter of fact he notified the proper authorities but he also started out on the trail of the crooks after girding himself with his trustiest gun. The chase, which cost him $17,000, ended successfully and he then went to New York City to raise cash to pay off the mortgage on his ranch. Representative Marvin Jones of Texas has introduced a bill in Congress appropriating $11,110 to pay the expenses incurred by the ranchman in the pursuit. The photograph shows Norfoot with his police dogs in Central Park, New York.

transmission lines across the Cascade mountains to connect up with accurate government surveys from which the balance of the location may be taken. Diamond drill test borings were made at four station sites and accurate surveys made of the river canyon up to the flow line for the reservoirs. The firm of Copper, Simpson & Cooper, engineers and attorneys, with whom is associated Harold L. Cook, public stenographer, has recently moved its offices from the fourth floor of the Oregon building to more spacious quarters on the third floor, being rooms Nos. 213, 314 and 315.
