Magazines Stacked High

As a result of publicity to the request for magazines to distribute in the hop yards as a part of the recreational program, the office of C. A. Kells, executive secretary of the YMCA, is being high with magazines of almost every shape and description. Some almost unknown publications have been dug up from places where they were stored and brought to the YMCA. Nearly 1,000 magazines have been received so far. These will be distributed as rapidly as possible.

Miller Complimented

Compliments are bestowed upon the Miller Mercantile company here in a recent issue of "Retail Ad News," which gives considerable space to the August issue of the "Merchandise News and Farmers' Exchange," a monthly publication issued by Millers. The four full pages of the issue are shown in fac-simile, with the material of the cover page being selected as the prize advertisement of all stores in the country in March. S. E. Keith, advertising manager for Millers, is responsible for the issue.

Prune Prices Cut

Brokers in New York city telegraphed to Salem Wednesday that representatives of the Mason-Ehrman company are offering dried prunes in carload lots of straight 50s at 6 cents and 4s at 8 cents, for delivery in October. These prices are a half cent under prevailing prices. The dried prune market is reported to have a generally strong tone and unless there is a price cutting war, the northwest product should move swiftly and at good prices. Outside the New York market the Drager Fruit company yesterday sold a carload of assorted sizes which include 400 boxes each of 30-40s, 40-50s and 50-60s; 300 boxes of 60-70s and 70-80s and 250 boxes of 80-90s. The price received was that given at the opening of the season.

Proud of Members

That the Salem Rotary club has the largest and smallest member of all clubs in the world is the boast of several members who plan to send photographs of Dr. H. C. Epley and Dr. C. E. Powell to the Rotary International magazine in Chicago. The claim is based upon the size of the club, which has 100 members at present.

Excursion Rates

The public service commission yesterday announced excursion rates of one and a third round trip fares that have been filed by Oregon railroads for several county and district fairs and for the Oregon state fair. The rates will be in effect for all stations on the Spokane, Portland & Seattle, the Oregon Electric and the Oregon trunk for the state fair at Salem September 22 to 27. For the Linn county fair at Albany September 17 to 20 the Oregon Electric will have the excursion rates effective at all points between Harrisburg and Fayetteville inclusive and on the Corvallis branch. For the Deschutes county fair, October 9 to 11, the rates will be effective on the Oregon Trunk between Opal City and Bend. For the Interstate fair at Prineville October 1 to 4 the Oregon Trunk will have the rates effective between Maupin and Bend.

Rate on Prunes

The Portland Electric Power company has filed with the public service commission a special freight rate of 18 cents a hundred pounds for prune shipments between Estacada and East Portland for minimum carloads of 26,000 pounds. The service commission has approved the tariff.

More Bonus Blanks

Though the fact has not been generally advertised, the Salem postoffice has received and distributed a number of blanks for service men, according to John Farrar, postmaster. Many people called at the postoffice for the blanks simply because it was known the postoffice was directly connected with the government.

Visit Mt. Angel Tonight

The fourth good fellowship tour of the Cherrians will be staged tonight, with Mt. Angel as the destination. Word was received from that city yesterday that the Cherrian caravan would be met at the city limits and escorted through the monastery grounds overlooking the city. The program will be held in front of the high school building, with provisions made to transfer the program to the auditorium should it rain. The band concert, which will begin at 8 o'clock, will be preceded by an official welcome and a probable drill by the uniformed Cherrians.

Fine Word Accepted

Word was received by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mills yesterday that their son, Harry Mills, had just accepted a position as accompanist.

Is This True?

The Dalles prune growers have received far better prices for their crops than those in the Willamette valley, according to J. A. Riggs, a fruit buyer, who has returned to his home in Wasco county after a business trip which took him over valley horticultural districts. While Wasco county prune growers have been getting $50 and $60 a ton for their fruit.

Signals to be Tried
WASHINGTON, Aug. 20.—(By the AP.)—On the mere chance that radio signals from Mars may be heard during the period when that planet is nearest the earth, Prof. David Todd, formerly head of the astronomy department at Amherst, has asked that the principal governments of the world agree to keep high powered radio stations within their jurisdiction silent during August 22 and 23.

MARS IS PHOTOGRAPHED BY LICK OBSERVATORY

The observatory whenever weather is favorable.

Professor Todd

Professor Todd approached most of the foreign governments through their embassies and legations here and he appears confident that in the end his suggestion will have widespread acceptance.

Life Theory Proved

Capt. T. J. J. See, professor of mathematics, United States navy and government astronomer at Mare Island, in a statement made today said that astronomical research has proved beyond doubt that Mars is a habitable planet and therefore it is inhabited by vegetable and animal life of some kind. Of that Captain See is certain. All other details are speculative, according to his statement.

FLAGSTAFF, Ariz., Aug. 20

Areas that may be continents, vast sections of marsh land or prairie, the remains of what are believed to have been the oceans that once divided the surface of the land are continually and regularly shifting on the planet Mars before the gaze of scientists at Lowell observatory here, it was revealed today.

When the air is steady

According to Professor Earl Slipher, photographic expert and astronomer, he captures the planet's appearance on very sensitive photographic plates.

While the question of the habitability of Mars is a live one with practical astronomers here the experts do not bother their heads about whether men or beings like men are in Mars going about daily rounds of duties and pleasures like those on earth.

These men are attempting to determine the temperatures and the conditions of atmosphere on the planet in an effort to ascertain the possibility of human habitability it was pointed out.

HERRIOT FACES SENATE TODAY

Even Worst Enemies Do Not Predict the Downfall of French Premier

PARIS, Aug. 20.—(By the AP.)

Parliamentary groups today were actively generating enthusiasm or depression, according to their political complexion, but even Premier Herriot's worst enemies would not predict his fall when he faces the legislature tomorrow. His friends say that the approval of the London accord is certain, while his adversaries expect merely to give him a few disagreeable hours and get themselves on the record.

The premier's opponents are downcast because they think they have excellent material to attack the government, particularly on Premier MacDonald's letter which they interpret as showing that Great Britain is not a friend and as a proof that the bankers will try to drive the French from the Ruhr before the time agreed upon in the international conference.

The trouble is that M. Herriot's political enemies do not care to attempt an overthrow of the government now that an apparent solution of the reparations question has been reached. M. Poincaré's course is still unknown but it is believed he will make a bitter analysis of the premier's negotiations in London. His group assembles to vote on its attitude tomorrow.
