LUSCIOUS FRUITS AVAILABLE HERE

Markets are Filled With Many Varieties to Attract the Housewife

The markets of Salem are filled with the most luscious fruit obtainable. Grapes of every variety can be had. The Concord and Tokays are in greater abundance. Below is given a recipe for grape conserve. The Oregon grapes contain such a large percent of sugar that many may prefer to make the sugar a scant cup.

Grape Conserve.—Three cups of grapes, 1 cup raisins, 1 cup nut meats (cut), 1 large orange. Remove the seeds from the grapes. Cook the pulp and put it through a sieve to remove the seeds. Allow one cup of sugar for every cup of mixture. Cook the sugar, one-half the grape skins, the raisins and orange until thick.

A general recipe for fruit jams is given, using commercial pectin. This is so generally done now as it requires so much less cooking, consequently it appeals to busy women. This recipe may be used for peaches, plums, pears, or pineapple.

Fruit Jam.—Two cups shredded fruit and juice, 3 cups sugar, 1 cup commercial pectin. Boil the fruit and sugar for one full minute. Count from time the full boiling point has been reached. Add the pectin and boil another minute. Remove from fire and stir until partially cooled so that fruit and syrup will not separate.

Your grocer will advise you on your fruit for jams and jellies at any time. Always use first class fruit. It is the best investment. Wax and green stringless beans, sweet potatoes, egg plant, cauliflower, are among the vegetables. Egg are higher these days. Tomatoes are the right price for canning or preserving. So are the fruits. Canteloupes and muskmelons continue to appeal. Home grown watermelons that retain their flavor better than the shipped ones, are being sold in large quantities.

America's Wealthiest Chef Preparing a Meal in the Open for 210 Glacier Park Mountain Climbers

Dan Tachet doesn't have to stand over a fire unless he wants to, for he is the wealthiest retired chef in the country. Nevertheless Dan cooks for the Sierra club of California on all its summer hiking trips. He was one of the best known and highest salaried chefs, having been with the California club for nine years and presided in the kitchen of the University of Los Angeles for five years. This photograph shows him at the height of his glory, preparing a meal in the open for the 210 members of the Sierra club on their recent mountain climbing trip through Glacier national park. Tachet, a Swiss born in Geneva, speaks five languages. He was formerly amateur champion wrestler of California.

Raspberries in September
There was brought to The Statesman office on Thursday a limb from a raspberry bush, literally filled with ripe raspberries, as good as those raised in the raspberry season. They are of the Plum Farmer variety. They were grown by P. G. Deuber, route 9, box 31, out north of Salem. The berry patch is on dry land, not irrigated.

The trouble with most inventions to end wars is that they shoot in any direction you point them.

GRAIN PRICE DROPS IN CHICAGO MARKET

Persistent Selling Has its Effect—Prices Go Down Rather Sharply

CHICAGO, Sept. 6.—All grain markets showed the effect of persistent selling by longs during the day and prices eased rather sharply and finished near the bottom. Wheat was 7-8 to 1 3-8c down, with September $1.22 7-8 to $1.23 and December $1.27 7-8 to $1.28; corn was off 1 1-4 to 2c; oats 1-8c higher to 5-8c lower and provisions declined 10 to 40c. Rather light speculative interest gave wheat a lower average throughout the day, the market developing considerable weakness at the finish. Sentiment was very much mixed because of the light trade and persistent hedging pressure against spring wheat which finally offset the effect of the removal of hedges against export sales. There were estimated at around 750,000 bushels in all positions. Strength in Liverpool and reports of continued drought in Argentina, gave wheat here an upward swing at the start but the market failed to hold under selling pressure. Weather conditions were reported generally favorable and movement of wheat from the northwest was reported extremely heavy.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Talking of prison reform—
And they have been talking of prison reform in Salem for two days in the allocation conference under the direction of the National Committee on Prisons and Prison Labor.

The most important thing in prison reform is employment, and every prisoner should receive wages, and the wages should largely go to the families of the prisoners on the outside; the innocent sufferers.

OREGON STATE FAIR BECOMES INSTITUTION FOR NORTHWEST

The Oregon state fair long ago outgrew the stage of being merely a community fair, and today it ranks as an exposition of the wealth and progress of the entire northwest. Its exhibits are drawn from the four corners of the state and from numerous other places as well. Its championships are sought by livestock breeders in Washington, Canada, Oregon and states much farther east. Many things seem ideal for a fair greater than ever this year. There is a tremendously renewed interest in better livestock and boys' and girls' club work is making giant strides along all lines, livestock in particular.

Between State and Ferry Streets

There is a certain store somewhere in Oregon who has adopted the Slogan "Watch Us Grow." Surely there is a strong feeling of egotism in such a slogan. We do not boast any such slogan, but we are growing just the same. The four reasons—First: We give you a square deal. Second: We have the goods, the finest in quality. Third: Our prices are right, (can you beat them?) Fourth: We give you service. Our clerks are on their toes to wait on you, to give you the best of service and advice.
