INSURANCE MEN ARE AROUSED

More Equitable Distribution of School Insurance Is Demanded

Insurance men are expressing some dissatisfaction over the distribution of $581,300 worth of policies covering the Salem public schools and as a protest against an alleged unjust and inequitable placing of policies, will meet at the office of A. C. Bohrnstedt, local realtor, at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Several committee meetings have already been held and an equal distribution of the policies listed as the committee believes should be adopted by the school board.

Allotment of policies for insurance on the new $170,000 J. L. Parrish junior high school on North Capitol is apparently the one big bone of contention. During the course of construction $15,000 worth of insurance was allotted to Anderson & Rupert, which firm already had a policy for $3,000, giving it a total of $18,000. Becke & Hendricks were given permission to write $11,000 on the building at the same time, having already been signed for $7,000, giving this firm $18,000.

As the building progressed the school board increased the insurance holdings by $40,000, the committee points out, this to be distributed equally in five $8,000 policies among A. C. Bohrnstedt, W. H. Grabenhorst & Co., J. A. Mills, S. G. Robinson and J. C. Tibbits, with the understanding, it is said, that policies of $10,000 each would be given these five insurance dealers, bringing their holdings to $18,000, the same amount as was held by Anderson & Rupert and Becke & Hendricks. This agreement is said to have been acceptable to all concerned. The remainder of the insurance was to be distributed among other firms.

Insurance of the school properties is divided into two classes, one protecting the brick buildings and the other the four frame structures. There is $489,300 in insurance carried on the brick buildings, including the new junior high school and $92,000 on the frame buildings. Buildings are insured for 90 per cent of their value above the ground and in case of the loss of one or two separate buildings, the district will receive 100 per cent on the buildings.

On October 31, 1923, the total amount of insurance carried was $389,800, including $55,000 on the new addition to the Salem high school. This insurance was distributed to five insurance firms, each taking $11,000. Firms holding policies on the addition are Dyer, Bell, Smith, and Burkhardt and Hueckstein. On October 31 the policies held by various insurance men in the city were as follows:

Homer H. Smith, $80,500; Burghardt, $43,800; Bollinger, $57,500; Laflar, $6,500; Dyer, $77,500; Bell, $13,500; Kuntz, $13,000; Boise, $10,000; Moore, $10,000; Stanley & Foley, $21,000; Liston, $9,000; Ford, $10,500; J. E. Scott, $8,000; Becke & Hendricks, $7,000; Hueckstein, $11,000; W. D. Smith, $5,000; Anderson & Rupert, $3,000; White & Son, $2,000, and J. H. Scott, $2,000.

Additional policies on the new J. L. Parrish junior high school have been issued in the following amounts:

Dyer, $8,000; Homer H. Smith, $8,000; Bohrnstedt, $8,000; Ford, $8,300, and Mangis, $8,000.

Name Most Horrible Sin in the World

What is the most horrible sin in the world? Mr. A. B. McReynolds, noted lecturer and evangelist of Texas, will give a five dollar bill to the boy or girl who guesses what the most horrible sin is. "The Most Horrible Sin in the World," is the subject of a popular lecture that Mr. McReynolds has delivered before thousands of people. He will deliver this lecture at the Bungalow Christian church Tuesday evening, Sept. 9. All boys and girls are invited to write their guesses on a piece of paper and leave them at the Statesman office. Each boy and girl can guess as many times as he wishes and the first one to guess the correct answer will be given the $5.00 Tuesday evening.

Mr. McReynolds is a typical Texan who talks about cotton fields, sugar cane, darkies, possum-hunts, cowboys and long-horn cattle. He has attracted attention in several states with his lecture on "The Most Horrible Sin in the World." According to the newspaper reports he speaks to capacity houses wherever he goes. The Coos Bay Times says of his lecture in Marshfield August 22, "The building was literally packed. People were seated in the aisles, in the Endeavor room, packed in behind the pulpit, and many stood outside throughout the service. Although the lecture was announced to begin at 8:15 the crowd began to assemble at 6:45 and the building was filled by 7:30. At least 200 people were turned away after all the standing room had been utilized. The congregation listened spellbound to a sermon an hour and a half long and many told the pastor of the church that it was the finest thing they had ever heard."

Mr. McReynolds usually delivers this lecture on a 50 cent admission fee, but he expects to visit with his friend Rev. R. L. Putnam, minister of the Bungalow church and will deliver this lecture Tuesday evening at the Bungalow Christian church with admission free. All boys and girls should take their guesses to The Statesman office to win the $5.00.

HER HAIR BOBBED AT 83, CLAIMS TO BE OLDEST NEW ENGLAND FLAPPER

Mrs. Elizabeth Doane, 82 years old, declares there is no doubt she is the oldest flapper in Winthrop, Mass., and perhaps in the New England states. She had her long white hair bobbed by her granddaughter, Mrs. Gladys Merchant, while two of her little grand-children looked on. "It saved

BUSINESS LOOKS GOOD SAYS KELSAY

Local Lumber Man Looks for Building Activities This Fall

A. B. Kelsay, manager of the Cobb & Mitchell company, local lumber and building material dealer, is very optimistic on the building outlook for this fall. Mr. Kelsay states that business with his company has been very good this summer and that they are looking forward to a great deal of building activities this fall. Most everything in the line of building material is handled by the company from lumber to the finishing paint and they are pretty well able to tell what is going on in building in Salem. Lumber is received by the car load lots at the Salem yard from the company's mills at Valselt which is about twenty-five miles west of Independence. They have some very fine timber which they are cutting there now.

Multiple Listing Bureau Continues Its Activities

The new "List," publication of the Marion-Polk County Realty association is off the press and contains 150 properties. The State Chamber of Commerce will receive 250 copies of this for distribution, these copies containing the names and addresses of all members. Around 600 copies are used locally, at the auto park, the Salem Chamber of Commerce and the railroad stations. Individual members of the association distribute about 230 more copies. During the last two weeks four properties listed in the multiple listing bureau have been sold. Three of these were moderate priced residences.

Phone official says only one in a hundred uses the phone correctly, but he may mean successfully.

Cows From Many States Headed Towards Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 6.—Dairy cattle from many states will be gathered here Sept. 29 to Oct. 4, at the National Dairy Show, which has been styled "the dairy cows homecoming," inasmuch as it meets where many herds originated.

Directors of the show expect one thousand head of the world's best foundation stock will be shown. Beside these there will be 500 head of America's best grade dairy cattle exhibited by cowtest associations to be sold at auction at the show, and 500 calves from high producing cows, exhibited by boys' and girls' calf clubs. Two judging contests will be held. Agricultural college students' contest in judging cattle will be held Sept. 27, and the dairy products judging will come on Sept. 29, on which day the boys' and girls' cattle judging contest will be held.

"Eye was the first flapper," says a professor who may have been looking at her pictures.
