Citizenship Classes Again.
First of the fall citizenship classes being conducted by the YMCA was held last night with a class of 10 present. This is regarded as an exceptional turnout at present, when a majority of the men are in the hop yards. Instructions were given by C. A. Kells, executive secretary of the PMCA. These classes will be held regularly every Saturday night. The next citizenship hearing will be October 3.

Takes Bookkeeping Job.
Fred Wilkinson has joined the staff of the MacDonald Auto company as bookkeeper. Mr. Wilkinson is well known to a number of Salem residents, having been one of the feature numbers of the Cherrian revue last spring. Imitation of beasts and birds is his specialty. Mr. Wilkinson said yesterday that he would be glad to lend his services when needed again this year. He appeared at several of the American legion smokers during the winter.

Hop Pickers Are Wanted.
While the owners of the larger hop ranches of the district are having little difficulty in obtaining sufficient pickers to harvest the crop, owners of the smaller clubs are having considerable difficulty in obtaining the necessary amount of help and a majority are working with short crews. Through the recreational programs are attracting many to the larger yards, the opening of the Portland public schools last Tuesday is working a hardship on the growers, a number of whom have been dependent upon Portland families.

priceless souvenirs of the visit of the armies. These are the long-stemmed churchwarden pipes which the aviators smoked one evening when they visited the inn. These pipes, each autographed by the smoker, are proudly displayed by the innkeeper. Already an order has been given for a glass case in which to preserve and display them in years to come.

When the time came for the Americans to hop off for Kirkwall their leave-taking of the villagers demonstrated once more the genuineness of the friendships formed in the space of less than a fortnight. All the village folk were assembled by the riverside to see the visitors take off. The birdmen bade good-bye to each by name, with many promises to write letters and send snapshots which the fliers had taken of their friends.
