

PRISON GUARD HOME AFTER MEXICO TRIP

me that the maximum was preferred.

White Lost Opportunity

"White talks fluent Spanish and if he had any sense he would have beat it, for our position was reversed and he was practically free and I was the prisoner. White strutted around with the soldiers and the sharpshooters, who gave him cigarettes and chicken. They hardly gave me anything to eat."

Carey was finally permitted, after being kept under an armed guard of men for 48 hours, to send telegrams, but failed to get an answer. An effort was made to learn how much money he had, but Carey refused to be bluffed. Both he and White were finally placed in a jail. A newspaper man kept following him around, causing a little worry. He watched the men working in a chain gang and was informed that he would probably join them. He had been searched and his gun, papers, tickets and handcuffs confiscated. Carey learned first hand what a through "frisking" meant, he said.

So Near, Yet So Far

"I stood on the bank of the river and looked across to the other side. It did not look so very far away but to me it was a long way at that. They finally got tired of me after four days and permitted me to take White across to El Paso. No, sir, I did not put the handcuffs on White this time, but waited until after I had stepped across the line."

Carey was given every consideration at El Paso and was treated fine, he said. It was when he reached this city that he received word from Warden A. M. Dalrymple to proceed to Phoenix after Fred Blake, whose conditional pardon had been revoked. Blake, according to Carey, was in jail, having been mixed up in several activities. Blake was serving time at the prison from Umatilla county for highway robbery.

Prisoner Escapes Irons

All his troubles were not over yet, as Carey learned later. About 4 o'clock Saturday morning he permitted Blake and White to enter a toilet on the train as it was passing over the Siskiyou in southern Oregon. The men were handcuffed together and had on leg irons. Carey stepped in the vestibule and looked out the window. He saw the window being raised, called a brakeman, had the door unlocked and ordered the men back inside. Blake, in less than five minutes, had rid himself of double-locked handcuffs and the irons. Had the guard not kept his eye on the pair, they would have disappeared in a few more minutes.

Carey was informed at El Paso that White was the first prisoner to be brought back from Mexico for nearly 15 years, to the best knowledge of the Texas officials. They were particularly glad to learn that it could be done, for there are several "wanted" men at Juarez.

Under Terrific Strain

Evidence of the strain he had been under were shown in Carey's eyes, which were bloodshot and puffed out just beneath. He is a large, well-formed man and possesses the physical attributes that enabled him to stand up under the hardships. While in the jail at Juarez he was kept on a "diet," being forced to eat the food offered other prisoners twice a day.

"Say," Carey said just as the interview ended, "if war is ever declared on Mexico, James R. Carey is going to be the first to hit the border for that is the only way that I can get my revenge on the Mexicans."

The Episcopal bishop of Haiti is a sky pilot in the full sense of the word. Bad roads and poor transportation on the island brought to him the realization that an airplane would provide the best method of reaching his flocks. While pointing the way to heaven, he is also demonstrating to his charges that he can take a few gallons of gasoline and reach the skies.

Mrs. Elva Pickles has succeeded her deceased husband as pastor of the leading Congregational church in Liverpool and is said to be the first woman in England to receive the responsible charge of an orthodox church. There are numerous brands of Pickles and not all of them are sour. The congregation knew all this before reaching a decision. At least they made their own selection and are content.

PERSHING ISSUES MESSAGE TO VETS

Retiring American General Sends Appreciation to Disabled Soldiers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—General Pershing today sent this farewell message to the disabled American veterans:

"As you all perhaps know, on the 13th of this month I am retiring from active service in the army. I cannot do this, however, without expressing to you once more my deep appreciation of the great sacrifices which you made in the world war. Your indomitable courage and will made possible the brilliant victories achieved by our army, and your deeds will live forever as a record of your lives to the ideals upon which your nation is founded.

"While as your former commander in chief I must bid you adieu you may feel assured that your interests and welfare will always be close to my heart in civil life as they have in the past."

"With my best wishes and affectionate regards, I remain, as always,

"Cordially yours,
"John J. Pershing."

A British woman writer says women can't understand men. Well, we say this is lucky for both sides.

Are First Women To Climb Mt. Hungabee, One of the Most Difficult of Canada's Towering Peaks

Dr. Best is a well known member of the Alpine Club of Canada and has climbed many high mountains, including Mt. Assiniboine. She has lectured all over the United States for the Bureau of Economics at Washington.

Every Child and Young Person Entering School

SHOULD HAVE A COMPETENT EXAMINATION OF THEIR EYES BY A VISION SPECIALIST

OUR POLICY

TO PARENTS

MOST DEFECTS of vision in children are discovered by chance and you positively should not take a chance with the eyes of your child. Faulty vision does retard a youngster's progress in his studies and, worse yet, it may cause permanent injury if not properly cared for. Do not let a foolish prejudice keep you from bringing your children in for an examination. Please read our policy.

We repeatedly hear people say they are afraid to have their eyes or the eyes of their children examined for fear glasses will be given when not absolutely necessary. For your protection against such a procedure we have always used the following policy: If upon the completing of an examination of the eyes glasses are not required or glasses now being worn do not need changing, we will immediately inform you of this and a moderate charge will be made for our service. This positively protects you and permits us to make a competent examination.

TO HIGH SCHOOL and COLLEGE STUDENTS

YOUR efforts have now brought you to a time in your education when your eyes are subjected to long hours of close application in study. Your own reasoning and logic will tell you of the importance in properly protecting your vision to withstand this unusual use. Remember the eyes were not primarily intended for modern usages. In case you need glasses we have many sturdy, good looking frames to mount them in.
