Covers were placed for 45 members and guests yesterday at the luncheon of the American Association of University Women at the Marion hotel. The luncheon, at 12:30 o'clock, opened the new fall season for the club.

With Mrs. George H. Alden presiding, the happy plan of having each guest introduce her right hand neighbor was an early feature of the afternoon. Rose colored gladioli were used on the tables.

Miss Lena Belle Tartar sang "There is No Spring But You" (Lehman) as a beautifully rendered contralto solo. Miss Genevieve Findley played the piano accompaniment.

The personnel of the year's committees was named during the afternoon with a promising forecast of plans by each chairman.

Dwight Findley gave an interesting summary of his impressions from a summer spent in Japan, while Miss Mary Eyre talked in a delightful manner of her European travels. Cedric Chang talked in an instructive manner on the subject of Chinese rugs, illustrating with some beautiful ones which he has in his possession.

The annual rally of the Live Wire class of the Leslie Methodist church will be an anticipated event of this afternoon at the A. C. Bohrstedt home on Fairmount avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne D. Bain (Pauline McClintock) were guests of friends here yesterday. They will leave by motor for Springfield today.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Stevens passed through Salem Tuesday evening on their way East. Mr. Stevens is a coach at Harvard University and will report for duty on the twenty-second. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens were recent guests of their sister, Mrs. Josephine Stewart and of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Slater.

At one of the prettiest home weddings of the week, Miss Clemma Sauder, the daughter of Mrs. Lillian Sauder, became the bride yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock of Walter B. Frazier. The ceremony with Reverend W. C. Kantner of the First Congregational church officiating, was performed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Amos Vass, 1653 South Commercial street.

The couple, who were unattended, stood in the archway of the living room, festive with vines, asters, and petunias. The bride wore a beautiful suit, with harmonizing hat, of dark blue Poiret twill.

An informal reception followed with the dining room attractively decorated with pink and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Frazier left immediately by motor for a wedding trip after which they will be at home at the Kurtz Apartments.

The members of the Business and Professional Women's club are planning an interesting hike for today. Meeting at the Stage Terminal they will leave at 2 o'clock. A number of similar hikes are planned for the winter.

Chapter AB of the PRO sisterhood will meet tomorrow evening with Miss Grace Osborne.

With the staff of workers already named, two of whom are from Salem, plans for a health and recreation service at the Nunamaker-Downing apple orchard at Hood River is announced to open on September 25th, to continue for four weeks.

Miss Carin Degermark has been named as the executive in charge of the playground and program work. She has not only been recreation supervisor for the Portland Park board, but has done special wartime therapeutic work for the government hospital in New York. She has had a further year's experience in Community service work in New England. Added to her other duties she will conduct a first aid service for minor injuries. For this she is already fitted.

The remaining two members on the staff are Miss Carrie N. Chapel and Miss Constance Kantner.

Miss Chapel, a primary teacher in Salem, will organize all possible school work for the migrant children up to nine years of age (the age at which the compulsory education law takes effect.)

Miss Kantner, who has had valuable Red Cross experience, aside from administering first aid, will have charge of the younger children with whom she has much marked success.

Neighboring orchards are in co-operation with the Nunamaker-Downing farm with arrangements having been made to bring the children from these to the Day Nursery and School by automobile.

The Hood River Apple Growers' association is co-operating officially through the appointment of the following committee members: C. King Benton, Milton O. Downing, and A. A. Hukari. The project is being organized by the council of women for home missions in co-operation with the Oregon State Board of Health and the Hood River County association.

A special meeting of the Salem Arts' League council has been called for Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock when a number of important business matters will come up. Members of the league are invited to meet with the council.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Foster motored down from Portland late in the week to be the guests of Mrs. Foster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Rosebraugh. Mr. Foster has returned to Portland while Mrs. Foster will be here for a few days.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Sept. 19.—A tornado dipped to earth late today, demolishing the St. Luke's Episcopal church and unroofing a portion of the Eastman hotel. No fatalities were reported early tonight.

The New Season's Smartest Coats

SIMPLICITY—that is the outstanding feature of the new autumn apparel. Simplicity of line. Simplicity of trimming. Simplicity of accessories. Not the simplicity of last season, but a new mode that depends on cleverness of line for its success. Here you will find all the new fashions emphasizing this note—fashions so lovely, that you can only approve—fashions so moderately priced, that they are doubly a joy in which to indulge.

Choose from this Collection of Autumn Coats

A distinguished group of smart models, developed in kasha, Juina, twills and novelty weaves. Each is a masterpiece of graceful design and finished workmanship. Luxurious furs, bandings of braid or fringe, and inserts of self fabric are a few of the trimmings that complete their beauty. All handsomely silk lined.
