fine band will be on the grounds early next Friday and they will report 100 or more strong. BEARCAT SQUAD HAS MANY WEAK PLACES

alumnus of the year '22, was the mainstay of the alumni team, although Bain, acting as captain, did some good work also.

The only score of the game was made in the middle of the third quarter when an intercepted pass of the varsity was knocked back of the goal line for a safety. Toward the end of the fourth quarter the varsity team was walking down the field with the well-winded alumni, but the gun came too soon to allow them to utilize their new-found spirit.

The four or five letter men who played in the varsity line did only mediocre work, although Sheppard, Stoltz and Hartly showed some old time spirit. Rathbun will pick out the squad next Monday, and then get in as much time as possible in hard work-outs before the Oregon game.

The alumni line-up was: Quarter, Ganzans; halves, P. Farey and Zellar; fullback, Coughlin; ends, Patterson and Jackson; center, Bain; tackles, H. Rarey and Wapato; guards, Skirvin and Mormon. Three from the Salem high school were in the alumni line-up, Jackson, Mormon and Cougal, who substituted for Skirvin in the second.

The schedule for the Bearcats opens with the game with Oregon here on September 27, followed by University of Washington at Seattle, October 4; Linfield here, October 11; College of Puget Sound here, October 25; Idaho university here, November 1; Whitman at Walla Walla, November 8; Pacific at Newburg, November 22, with the Thanksgiving game still open.

LITTLE BOXERS IN FINE SHAPE

Bayes and Warren Train Hard—Hunt and Hayes Arousing Interest

Warren and Bayes are in fine shape for their match at the armory next Wednesday night.

Warren has been working out every day at Well's ranch near Independence and is down to 132 pounds with four days to go before the fight. He will have no trouble in taking off the other two pounds necessary to get within the featherweight limit. Bayes is already down to 130 and is confining his work to boxing seven or eight rounds at the armory every night and going five miles on the road each morning to harden up his legs and get endurance. If condition means anything the bout should be a hummer from bell to bell.

Warren's trouble heretofore has been in getting down to weight and he has come in above the featherweight limit more often than below it. "Tiny" Hayes fought the eight round main event at Independence last week and made such a hit that the independence people will be over in force to see the return go. The bout was called a draw there after both the boys had taken plenty of punishment but as Hayes is just a beginner with only a couple of fights to his credit, the boys from over there are coming over Wednesday night prepared to back him with something more than their vocal organs.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Fair week; busy days.

Do the old timers remember what Salem looked like in the not so long ago when this was a wide open town?

A dispatch to Congressman Hawley from Hon. Fred C. Hicks, dated at New York yesterday, said "Itinerary from San Francisco to Washington not complete, owing to plan to operate caravan from there to Southern California prior to northern run. Our advance agent now in Iowa making plans covering your territory. You will hear from us in the near future."

The above refers to the Coolidge-Dawes automobile caravan that is coming across the country. It is partly under the auspices of the college people. From the above it is evident that the caravan will pass through Salem on its way to the state of Washington, and it will no doubt stop here.

Marion county has more paved roads than any county on the Pacific coast with the exception of Fresno county, California," says an item in the Salem Chamber of Commerce weekly bulletin.

Here is another: "Marion county has more rural paved roads than all the other counties in Oregon combined." The latter is not new. But it is well to be reminded of the fact. More than this, Marion county is going to keep right on building paved market roads.

The Salem Chamber of Commerce bulletin suggests two auditoriums—a community house at the auto park where displays may be made, and a big one to attract conventions. Good idea. May as well shoot the whole scheme through, and not make two bites to the cherry.

The auto buses have taken away a quarter of the business of the railroads and now they say the flying machines will soon get

There are now more than 18,000 public libraries in the United States and they have more than 70,000,000 volumes on their shelves. We are great readers—and we seem to be rather good readers as well.
