Drager Says Hold Prunes— Store and hold prunes, is the message to growers and packers brought back to Salem by W. F. Drager, who has returned from a trip to California. With the proper handling the Oregon fruit will sell equally with the California prunes, he said. This year the Oregon prunes were dried as early as those in the south, an unusual procedure. There are fewer prunes of the 1924 crop unsold now than there was for the sale of the 1923 crop in April, and the market is strong, he said. Mr. Drager believes that an effort will be made to reduce the price on Oregon prunes and that every grower should store and insure his fruit.

Before You Leave— Your home or car have it insured properly. Phone 161, Becke & Hendricks, U. S. Bk. Bldg.—S7

Sue for Lost Profits— Some amateur delving into the realm of high finance came to light when a complaint was filed against Henry Domes in circuit court yesterday. In the complaint it is alleged that M. D. McCallister and C. C. Witzel, who are bringing the suit, last February contracted for the purchase of nine head of cattle from Mr. Domes. The price agreed upon was $207.50, which they say they paid in full. But it seems that at some later date Mr. Domes had another opportunity to sell his cattle, this time at a higher price. The second bidder got the cattle, it is claimed, and the firm of McCallister & Witzel, cattle dealers, got its money back. The firm now claims, however, that the cattle were worth more than they had paid. The difference in price, plus the costs involved, it is asserted, amounts to $167.50, for which they are now suing.

The apples were of an assortment, including Jonathans, Rome Beauties, Delicious, King Davids, Newtowns and Spizzenbergs. Contracts for nearly 50 carloads of apples have been signed by this firm, it is understood. Efforts are now being made to ascertain the extent of the damage done to the fruit by the high wind earlier in the week, but early reports indicate that the amount of damage will have no material effect upon the crop, as it was comparatively light.

Alexander and Bruce Norton $25 each for possession of intoxicating liquor. All three were connected with amusements at the state fair grounds.

Two False Alarms— To have their slumbers disturbed twice in one night by false fire alarms was the lot of the Salem fire department yesterday. About midnight Wednesday some excited person reported that there was a fire at the White House restaurant. An investigation revealed that some swarks from the chimney had given the impression of a fire. Shortly before 5 o'clock Thursday morning the department was summoned by another excited person to the Marion garage. Here it was found that smoke from the paper mill, drifting over in the direction of the garage, had given rise to the fear of fire.

Crossan Fined Again— Possession of intoxicating liquor cost Russell Crossan $75 when he appeared before Marten Poulsen, police judge, Thursday. He was recently convicted for a similar offense. Disabled Veterans to Put on Big Film Here— Salem chapter No. 3, Disabled American Veterans of the World War, is to put on a big seven-reel feature film at the Grand theater on the nights of Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 30 and October 1. This film is entitled "Over the Top," taken by the United States signal corps, showing actual battle scenes and conditions, and containing many thrills, and cost the lives of 11 Americans. A 30-minute prologue entitled "Somewhere in France," with a cast of 15 people, precedes the film.

The profits of this show are to go to Salem chapter No. 3, to be used as a fund for the benefit of needy disabled veterans of the World War, and the show is the opening gun of Salem chapter's membership drive. Qualifications for membership in this order are as follows: "Any person who served in the military or naval service of the United States at any time during the period between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, both dates inclusive, or who, being a citizen of the United States at the time of enlistment and at the time of application for membership, served in the military or naval service of any of the governments associated with the United States during the great war of 1914-1918 and who was wounded, injured, or disabled by reason of such service during the period of said war, and who was discharged honorably, under honorable conditions, or is still in the military or naval service, shall be eligible to membership."

All persons who are eligible under the above specifications are to be invited to join the chapter. Any information can be furnished by T. H. Green, 122 North Commercial street, state vice commander.

Arctic Ice Interferes With Far North Radio

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 25—Establishment of the farthest-north radio station in the world, on Herschel Island in the Arctic Ocean at the mouth of the Mackenzie River, has been abandoned for this year, the National Defense Department of Canada announces, because of failure of the motorship Lady Kindersley to get through ice in the Arctic Ocean with equipment.

Ice in the Arctic Ocean this summer not only caught the Lady Kindersley, but seized the trading schooner Arctic of San Francisco, and crippled and turned back the cutter Bear of the United States Coast Guard. This vessel was to have taken off a group of 13 persons left on Wrangell Island, north of Siberia, in 1923.

Japanese Book Discusses Chance of War With U. S.

TOKIO, Aug. 17—"Will There Be War Between Japan and America?" is the title of a book just published in Tokio by a noted Japanese author, Toshio Fujiwara, who, in addition to being a writer, is one of Japan's leading business men. He has lived for several years in the United States, where he served the Mitsui interests.

Among the most interesting chapters are the following: "Roosevelt's Threat Against Japan"; "How the Anti-Japanese Movement Is Carried on in the United States"; "How American Former Service Men Carry on the Movement Against Japan"; "Japan's Future Course with respect to the United States." The book is having a wide circulation in Japan, and has received favorable comment from many thoughtful critics.

Chapman Says C. of C. Is Lined Against Farmers

The Statesman yesterday received the following telegram which speaks for itself. The dispatch did not come through the regular news channels, but was paid for by the party sending it or rather by the men furnishing the money for this campaign:

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 25.—Portland Chamber of Commerce directors today endorsed the repeal of the state income tax law and issued a resolution stating:

"The board of directors examined many signed statements of investors both from within and without the state to the effect that 'by reason of the passage of the Oregon income tax law many investments have been and are being reduced, withheld, withdrawn or suspended pending repeal of the law, and finds the evidence substantiates the contention that, due to this law, many millions of dollars have been diverted from investment in Oregon industries that would provide a home market for Oregon agricultural products and contribute to the development of our state.' It also sets forth its opinion: 'The only substantial relief that may be looked for from our present tax burden is through the increase of industry, population and taxable wealth, which increase is being and will be greatly retarded by the present law as shown by the evidence.' It mentions that: 'No competing state has ever adopted an income tax law; that only thirteen states have passed income tax laws; the only northwestern states in this number being Oregon and North Dakota.' C. C. CHAPMAN.

And would win against the wide world. We are just beginning to appreciate the things we can do better than any other section, with our soil, sunshine and showers. Ole Olson says the man who stops to ask himself a question is likely to get a foolish answer. La Pollette has the biggest war chest, as well as the best wishes of Moscow. But this election will be decided in America. Germans abandon idea of denying war guilt. Nobody would have believed them, anyhow, and the abandonment is a contribution to the world's peace. The pitying lady visitor who wanted to know what had brought the interesting criminal to his cell was impressed when informed that it was a patrol wagon and five policemen.
