

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

Justice Court Has Record—Of the 42 criminal cases handled by the justice court during fair week and final action taken Monday, 17 were cases involving violations of the prohibition amendment, and Miss Zola Birdwell, stenographer, was kept busy making out complaints and attending the necessary routine. The remainder of the cases for the greater part were traffic law violations. Last year during fair week there were only 23 criminal cases handled, only a few of which were for liquor violations.

Handball Dinner Thursday—All members of the Y. M. C. A. handball teams, about 20 in number, will hold their annual dinner at the Spa Thursday night. Lawrence T. Harris, of Eugene, former justice of the Oregon supreme court and an ardent handball enthusiast, will be the guest of honor. Those who will attend have been playing on regular teams during the summer months. The dinner is a get-together affair and impromptu speeches will feature the occasion. According to R. R. Boardman, physical director, plans are now under way for the winter program, including several tournaments.

Stucco Bungalows—Small—We have two with hardwood, furnaces, fireplaces, garages, cement walks and paving. $4100 and $4600. Terms. Becke & Hendricks, U. S. Bk. Bldg. s30ff

Liquor Owner Jolted—Rather than face a more serious charge, Zeno Hansard, alias L. Hawk and Zeno Jones, pleaded guilty to possession of two gallons of moonshine and an additional pint in a separate receptacle when he came before Police Judge Marten Poulson Monday. He was fined $250. The equipment seized by Officers Olson and Davis at a Marion street rooming house early Sunday morning included a small glass for dispensing individual drinks and a rubber hose to siphon the liquor from the large containers. With Hansard was his brother E. Hansard and Jack Kearns, charged with possession of liquor and breaking glass on the street, and Roy Miller, charged with possession, transportation and breaking glass. These three decided to stand trial, the date of which has not been set. According to the police, Zeno Hansard has been under surveillance for some time and he was raided at the opportune moment.

High School Seniors—See the new 20-inch bottom, English style senior corduroy pants at Bishop's. Get yours while they have a full stock.—s30

Truck Driver Jailed—Headless of warnings from the public service commission regarding operating a truck without first securing a permit, Floyd Hadley was sentenced to 10 days in jail and a $50 fine when he appeared in the justice court Monday. He was arrested by Percy Varney and Gene Halley. For two years he had taken out the necessary permit and was a regularly licensed commercial truck driver. Last May he allowed his insurance to lapse and the commission cancelled his permit to operate a truck for hire. Sunday he attempted to transport some livestock from the state fair grounds to Silverton when he was arrested. Upon plea from his mother, the jail sentence will be suspended providing he pays the fine.

Larceny Trial Soon—In the justice court this week J. C. O'Reilly will go on trial for larceny. He appeared in the justice court Monday and entered a plea of not guilty.

Cannery Ends Season—The Producers Canning & Packing company has closed its regular run for the season with blackberries. It is possible that a few more of the berries may be handled, but there is nothing definite on the matter, according to Manager Gibson.

Liquor Brings Fines—Five liquor cases were handled in the justice court Monday. Carroll Wright receiving the heaviest jolt when he appeared before P. J. Kuntz, justice of the peace, charged with selling intoxicating liquor. He was sentenced to 60 days in the county jail and to pay a fine of $300. With him was Harry Frasier, who escaped a jail sentence upon the payment of a $250 fine. E. D. Fish and William Myers were each fined $25 for possession of liquor. A. A. Borgeson plead not guilty to a charge of possession of liquor and his trial date was set for Friday.

Big S. Meeting—The Hayesville district Sunday School convention at Auburn Sunday was an unusual success. The commodious school house was full of interested participants in the convention. The next convention will be held at Brooks.

Card of Thanks—Thanks to our many friends and neighbors for their many beautiful floral offerings and their many expressions of friendship during the recent illness and death of my mother. J. N. Gairnard. s30

Extension Allowed—The state irrigation securities commission yesterday voted to give the Deschutes county municipal improvement district an additional six months interest guarantee, or until January 1, dating from July 1. Conditions are that the district appoint a manager and foreclose on delinquent tax payments, which are mainly on 4400 acres of privately held land in the district. The district is solvent, it is said.

Expert Packing—The H. L. Stiff Furniture company has secured the services of an expert furniture packer. If you have furniture to pack telephone 941 and it will be properly packed ready for shipment. 02

Barn Authorized—The board of regents of Oregon Agricultural college met here yesterday and authorized an expenditure of $15,000 from the college funds for the rebuilding of a barn that was burned at the college recently.

Barlow Took Pictures—Herbert Barlow, a Salem boy now in the navy, was so fortunate as to get numerous views of the world fliers at San Diego. The pictures were sent to P. M. Gregory here who showed them around yesterday.

Card of Thanks—We desire to sincerely thank our many friends for their spiritual aid and beautiful floral offerings during our great bereavement and sorrow in the loss of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary Nash.—Her children and grand children. s30

Curfew to Sound Sooner—Beginning October 1, the curfew will blow at 9 o'clock instead of 9:45 o'clock and from information received from Chief of Police Frank A. Minto, the law will be rigidly enforced this year. During the summer months and vacation season the officers have been a little lax, but all are receiving instructions to bring in all those under 18 who are out alone after the whistle blows unless they are able to provide a valid excuse for being away from home.

Remains Sent South—The remains of the late Mrs. Margaret Neal have been forwarded to Bandon where the funeral and burial will be held. The Salem Mortuary was in charge of local arrangements.

Next Dance—Salem's New Auditorium, Wednesday and Saturday. Music by Jazz Kings.

McNary to Speak—United States Senator Charles L. McNary is scheduled to speak in Portland tonight before the United Spanish War veterans. His subject will be on proposed legislation of interest to veterans.

Portland To Be Host—The annual meeting of the 91st division will be held in Portland in 1925, according to word received in Salem. Thomas H. Boyd, of Portland, was chosen president of the association at a meeting which just closed in Los Angeles. The meeting next year will be the sixth annual affair.

Dedicate Annex Sunday—Dedication of the new Sunday school annex to the First Methodist church will be observed next Sunday, according to Rev. Blaine E. Kirkpatrick, pastor. The first class, the student forum, composed of more than 125 Willamette university students, was held last Sunday, taxing the capacity of the room. John L. Brady is the leader of the forum. The annex will take care of all immediate needs and all the room will be used next Sunday, at which time the annual Sunday school rally will be held. The furnace and other equipment will be installed during the week. The building, which is a substantial affair, will take care of from 300 to 400 students in addition to the present quarters. It was built, for the most part, by volunteer labor.

Bible Classes to Start—Bible classes for men will open again at the Elks theatre. During the summer months the class has held together, meeting at the First Christian church. Attendance has been kept up during the vacation season and the class has nearly double the number that it had formerly. The programs each Sunday morning at the theatre attracted a great amount of interest and because of this it was decided to continue them again this fall and winter. Final plans for the program Sunday have not yet been completed and will be announced in a few days.

More Apples Shipped—Oklahoma and Texas are proving good apple markets this year, according to Mr. Wells, of Young & Wells, who yesterday shipped out five more carloads of the fruit from the valley, three of the cars being made up here. A carload of Vanderpools and a carload of Jonathans were billed for Texas and the carload of Ganos, from the L. T. Reynolds orchard, was billed for Oklahoma City. Two of the five cars shipped were sent from Monroe, one of Delicous and the other of Jonathans. Both were billed for Texas.

Large Crowd at Church—The capacity of the new Unitarian church at Cottage and Chemeketa was taxed to the utmost Sunday when the dedicatory services were held. Several prominent men in the church were present. During the last year while the church was under construction, services were held in the Professional and Business Women's building, formerly the United Evangelical church.

Two Carriers—Two auxiliary city mail carriers will be added to the Salem post-office beginning October 1. It was announced yesterday by John H. Farrar, postmaster, upon receiving authority from Washington, D. C. The carriers will be selected from the list of eligibles obtained at a civic service examination a year ago this summer.

Elks Begin Meetings—Thursday night will mark the resumption of the regular meetings of the Salem Elks lodge. A series of Ellison-White lyceum attractions will be offered again this year, beginning some time in November, augmented by the Elks' orchestra. Members of the program committee are A. L. Wallace, Clifford W. Brown and E. Cooke Patton.

Mill City Woman Hurt—Bruises and a severe shock were received by Mrs. Henry Brown, of Mill City, when her husband attempted to drive past another automobile about two miles east of the state prison Sunday night and drove into another machine, which was met head on. Mr. Brown failed to obtain the name of the other driver or the number of his automobile. The accident was not reported to the sheriff's office. At the Salem hospital, where she was taken, it was said she would be able to return home in a day or two.

Inquiries Are Fruitless—Though John Quinlan, chief engineer at the state prison, spent the week-end at Oakridge in the hope of picking up some clew as to the whereabouts of his son, Eldon, 14, who disappeared from Salem three weeks ago, his efforts were unrewarded. Young Quinlan, escaped convict, spent one night in jail at Oakridge, but escaped during a big mill fire. No other word was received by Warden A. M. Dalrymple yesterday, following the receipt of a telegram from the chief of police at Denver that Sherman had been captured at Green River, Wyo. Pending further word relative to the man, a guard will not be sent after him. Warden Dalrymple said last night.

Junor vs. Riggs Today—The case of Andrew B. Junor vs. Zadoc Riggs barely got under way yesterday, and some doubt has been expressed whether it will be completed this afternoon. Junor was formerly a professional golf instructor employed at the Illihee Golf club, and is bringing suit for damages alleged to have been incurred at a point called Manning's corner, on the Pacific highway, 12 miles north of Salem. The accident is said to have taken place last March.

Marriage Licenses Issued—Wedding licenses were issued yesterday to Thomas T. Engle and Joyce Fredia Otjen, both of Woodburn, and to George W. Edwards, 2295 North 5th street, and Nena Gillingham, 1751 North Front street, Salem.

Property Foreclosed—Property belonging to W. R. Millican and Thomas Bump was foreclosed upon according to an order filed in circuit court yesterday. Action had been brought by the state aid commission, which first conveyed the loan.

Date Changed—The lecture of Dr. Clinton, which is to be given at the Jason Lee Memorial church, has been postponed from tonight until next Thursday evening. The hour is set at 7:30 o'clock.

PERSONAL—Miss Olive Morley, a graduate of The Pacific Expert School, Silverton, Ore., is the new bookkeeper and stenographer at the A. C. Haage Company.

Earl Newbill, dispenser at the Spa, will leave for California points Wednesday, to spend his two weeks vacation. Mr. Newbill makes his home in Dallas and will be accompanied by two friends.

Benoit McCroskey, who has enrolled as a freshman at the University of Oregon, spent the week-end in Salem with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. McCroskey. He was pledged to Phi Gamma Delta fraternity.

Lafe Compton, Coquille hotelman and Walter Wells, of the same city, resumed their trip home Monday morning after spending the night in Salem as the guests of Al N. Pierce, manager of the Marion hotel. The men were driving back a new automobile that was purchased in Portland.

Emery Diefenbach returned to Corvallis Sunday night after spending the week-end in Salem. He is a senior in mechanical engineering at OAC.

Perhaps the most unfortunate man is the one who marries for money and can't get enough of it to buy a divorce.

Just the Right Location!

WE are conveniently located, but are still not in the noisy, dirty business district, and we are easily reached by car or automobile. Our location seems to be truly ideal.

Location is an important thing to consider when deciding upon a funeral director; that's why we took a great deal of care to make sure that ours was exactly right.
