STRIFE SEEN IN BALLDOM

Warfare Between High Major League Officials Said to Be Imminent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—(By The Associated Press).—Factional strife involving baseball's highest officials may grow out of the O'Connell-Dolan bribery deal that has thrown the diamond world into turmoil.

Although the day failed to add fresh sensations to the bribery scandal, or point further suspicion to any one outside the two giant players banished from the game, there were strong indications that the governing forces of the game were at the point of sharp conflict.

Culminating factors in this situation today were the announcement of Ban Johnson, president of the American league that he would not attend the series because of the suspicion surrounding the Giants and a statement by Barney Dreyfuss, Pittsburgh club owner, which was viewed here as a challenge to the decision of Landis which placed the guilt for the bribery scheme upon Dolan and O'Connell alone among the Giant players.

Johnson maintained Standish Johnson, who reiterated his contention that the series should have been called off, and Dreyfuss apparently have taken the leadership of forces believed to be antagonistic to the regime of Commissioner Landis. Their statements today, following attacks of similar vein yesterday, were interpreted as the opening guns of a campaign which may shake baseball's whole governing structure.

Landis, whose report to Johnson and Dreyfuss was that they "keep their shirts on," refused today to comment upon the statement of either official or upon the announcement purpose of the Pittsburgh owner to come here tomorrow and demand the reopening of the Giant investigation. The commissioner declared he was keeping an "open mind" on the subject of the scandal, but at the same time he indicated that nothing had developed, that no fresh evidence had been unearthed to alter the decision he made in New York disbarring O'Connell and Dolan, but exonerating Frisch, Young and Kelly, who were declared by O'Connell to be "in" on the deal.

Landis is willing to display scant interest in the demands of either Johnson or Dreyfuss, but pointed out that if they, or anyone else had information which would throw new light on the situation, he would not hesitate to act swiftly upon it. Upon the surface it appeared that the bribery charges had been put to rest, but the background by actual series preparations, but it was understood the commissioner, who held several conferences with club owners and officials during the day was ready to bend every effort toward new phases of the case.

So far, however, those close to him expressed the conviction that no clues had appeared which would lead to immediate developments. At all events, however, it was said the commissioner felt that baseball alone could have handled whatever turn the situation may take, despite the demands of President Johnson that a federal inquiry be instituted to clear the game of alleged crookedness. In answer to Johnson's demands it was pointed out that he, together with the club owners of both leagues signed a blanket agreement on January 12, 1921, at Chicago, in which they agreed to be bound by the decision of the commissioner and the discipline imposed by him under the provisions of this agreement, and severally waive such right of recourse to the courts as would otherwise have existed in their favor.

John A. Heydler, president of the National league, declared today he strongly supported the commissioner's action, voicing his conviction that the whole situation had been handled swiftly and without favor.

"I think that the average fan is convinced baseball has acted courageously and promptly in uncovering this scandal and dealing out speedy punishment in the face of a world's series," the National league executive declared. "If there is anything further to be done I am just as anxious as the next fellow to see it accomplished."

Both Members of Senators' Aggregation Have Confidence in Outcome

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Manager "Bucky" Harris of the Senators expressed confidence tonight that his team would win out in the world's series which opens here tomorrow with the New York Giants but added that he wouldn't be surprised if it took seven games to tell the story.

Coupled with Harris' statement came an announcement from Walter Johnson, pride of the Washington team, that an 18 year old desire to win a world series game for the Senators would be back of his efforts tomorrow.

SOX MAKE IT TWO STRAIGHT

Cubs Beaten 6 to 3 in Third Game of Chicago City Series

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The White Sox made it two straight from their Cub rivals today by winning the third game, 6 to 3. "Red" Faber, star spitball twirler of the American leaguers, had his opponents baffled most of the way and only in the late innings did he become unsteady. The White Sox got the jump on their foe in the sixth frame after two were out. Collins worked Jacobs for a pass and Sheely struck the ball to right field. It struck the fence and rolled under the stand for a home run.

This unnered Jacobs and Falk followed with a hit and Kamm walked. W. Barrett smashed one for two bases and two more runs scored.

Two more runs were added to the White Sox total at the expense of Vic Keen. He hit Schalk and walked Hooper and both scored on Collin's triple.

Grigsby started the rally for the Cubs in the eighth which netted three runs. He singled and Hollocher, who came from his home in St. Louis to help his mates after being absent because of illness most of the season, batted for R. Barrett and walked. Cotter shot a double to center sending two runs home and registered later on Adams' hit to center.

The Cubs threatened to score again in the ninth but Hollocher hit into a double play. Collins to Sheely, Collins making a great play.

Score— R. H. E.
White Sox 6 8 1
Cubs 3 8 2

Faber and Schalk; Jacobs, Blake, Keon and O'Farrell.

HIGH SCHOOL IN NEED OF KICKER

Coach Huntington Still Without Team for Initial Tryout

With another day passed and still no word of a contest, Coach Hollis Huntington is being forced to look around for some material upon which he can tryout his team, find any weaknesses if these exist and still have time to make the necessary corrections prior to the opening of the interscholastic season with Albany high school on October 25.

If efforts to make arrangements with some other smaller high schools do not bear fruit in the immediate future, Coach Huntington will be forced to content himself with a good lively game with an alumni or pick-up aggregation. It is possible that the high school team may be given an opportunity to meet the Willamette university second team.

Hard work is the menu prepared for the red and black football men by the coach, and from the time they leave school and report on the field until after 6 o'clock the men are in constant action. In order to vary the diet, two teams were lined up last night and given light scrimmage practice. As the men become hardened, scrimmages will be more frequent and the playing will be done in a more serious manner.

While there is ample material from which to make up his first string aggregation, a kicker is badly needed, Coach Huntington said last night. There are several players who can be utilized for this work, but none possesses the ability that is desired.

BIG TEN TEAMS START OFF TODAY

Ohio and Purdue Game Is Only Clash Between Conference Members

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—The western conference football bid, prior one week ago, will be tilted to its full height tomorrow when every team in the "big ten" will go into action. Although Purdue and Ohio State clash at Columbus in the only western conference game affecting the championship race all other eleven will take the field against outside schools. The two feature games find Illinois clashing with Nebraska, at Lincoln, and Missouri battling Chicago. The Nebraska-Illinois contest is the most interesting on tomorrow's schedule. The game will be the first 1924 start for Red Grange, rated as among the most sensational figures on the gridiron last season.

Missouri is coming to Chicago with more than a thousand rooters and the game is expected to bring out the weak points of Chicago.

As to exercise, however, the way to fatten geese and hogs is to pen them up.

U. OF O. HOLDS SECRET PRACTICE

Will Practice for Whole Season Behind Closed Gates, Is Announcement

EUGENE, Or., Oct. 3.—Oregon is now working out behind closed gates and will probably do so for the rest of the present season. Coaches Maddock and Spellman are busily shaping the Oregon machine which almost received a battering at the hands of the Willamette eleven last Saturday.

The fundamental process is continuing and the backs are beginning to absorb signals. Billy Reinhart, freshman backfield coach, is working with Maddock and will no doubt work there part time at least throughout the season.

The varsity takes its only rest of the season this week-end. From October 11 to November 29 three home games and five on the road. Oregon opens the season here next Saturday against the pointed Pacific eleven. The Webfoot team is looking better and, though it won't be fully polished, will present a much better front than it did in the Willamette contest.

Chapel Is Built With Money From Willamette

"The $400 provided by Willamette students some six years ago went to build a beautiful little chapel in one of the most strategic points in India," said the Rev. Royal Bisbee, returned Methodist missionary, in an interview after his address before the Willamette student body yesterday morning. "The Misses Laura Heist, Laura Austin and Ruth Field, all Willamette graduates and now in active missionary service in India, send heartiest greetings to their alma mater."

Harris, Who Leads the Senators Today

Back in '36 Thomas Harris, inspector of police at the Hoboken, N. J., terminal of the Lackawanna Railroad, pitched for a Pittsburgh team and had as his battery mate Hughie Jennings, now assistant to John J. McGraw as manager of the Giants. His baseball career was ended when he broke his elbow pitching a drop curve. Stanley Bucky Harris, second baseman and manager of the pennant winning Washington Senators, is Thomas Harris' son and the elder Harris modestly admits that he taught Stanley the rudiments of the game. Harris is the youngest manager in the major league.

Start Made By Woodburn Hi-Y Yesterday Evening

The Woodburn Hi-Y got under way to a flying start last night under the leadership of Edwin Socolofsky, county YMCA secretary. About 60 boys met in the high school gymnasium and staged a series of boxing and wrestling matches. The affair wound up with refreshments of cider and doughnuts. About 35 Woodburn high school boys belonged to the Hi-Y last year, and of this number 14 are back in school. Socolofsky says that he expects to have fully strong an organization this year as last.

the address by Dr. Bisbee, who spoke at Leslie Methodist church last night, and is to speak at the First Methodist church tomorrow morning and at Jason Lee church tomorrow evening, was one of the most entertaining 20 minutes that Willamette students have had this year. Yesterday afternoon the time of the missionary was taken up with interviews with students.
