Seattle: Again Within Three and One-Half Games of League Leaders

The game was a pitchers' battle between Bob Geary and Gregg. Elmer Bowman smashed a home run into the left field bleachers with one man on base for the first run. Emmer scored the third run in the seventh and Riggs' sacrifice fly, Hal Rhine and Sam Agnew were chased from the game in the last half of the seventh when they disagreed with Umpire Reardon's decision on a close play at second.

campaign is for about $9 for each person in the city, which is moderate compared with other cities. It is urged that no one begin to feel that it's all over but the shouting. It isn't; the work is all ahead, instead of in the bank. It is the devout faith of the governing committee, however, that the campaign can be carried through to the very last dollar, within the time set.

It should be easily possible to have the new Y ready for next summer's use, a monument to the courage and generosity and good judgment of the people of Salem.

Three Football Games In Row Will Be Played

Beginning October 18 football fans will be given ample opportunity to see the Bearcats in action, as the Willamette university aggregation has three games slated in a row.

Linfield college will send its eleven here October 18, with the College of Puget Sound to meet the Bearcats in the annual Homecoming football game. The following week the College of Idaho will play here.

Two contests are being considered for Thanksgiving day, with either the Whitman college team of Spokane or the College of the Pacific, from California to be the opponents.

Veteran Files Discharge

Edward O. Price, of the 138th infantry, national guard, yesterday filed his discharge with the county clerk. The 138th regiment of infantry saw some of the heaviest fighting on the AEF, being a unit of the 35th division, which was on several fronts and two drives, including the Argonne where, during its six days of fighting it suffered heavier losses than any other division of the American forces. Mr. Price is now living in Salem.

SALEM HIGH MAY PLAY HILLSBORO

Tentative Plans are Made By Huntington for Game Next Week

Tentative plans for a game with Hillsboro high school a week from Friday are under way. Coach Hollis Huntington said last night, Hillsboro has an open date at that time, but wants the game to be played on its home gridiron as they will have had two games away from home by that time. Inasmuch as the local school authorities will not permit the team playing away from school on Friday, it is hoped that Hillsboro can be brought here.

At a special meeting of the associated student body yesterday Dennis Heenan was elected athletic manager to take the place of Louis Girod, who resigned about a week ago. Heenan will endeavor to get in touch with some other schools by telephone today in the expectation of finding a game for this week-end.

The red and black backfield is going strong, but shows a lack of familiarity with handling the ball and fumbles are frequent. Consequently Coach Huntington is devoting considerable time toward remedying the situation. The line is showing up fine. So far a kicker has not been developed, but Gould is being groomed for the place.

High Students Adopt Anti-Hazing Resolution

The student council of the Salem high school met yesterday and adopted a resolution against hazing. The resolution was not written, but will be written some time during today. It takes a firm stand and has the approval of all the students in the high school. The student council has had some undeserved criticism, but so far as anyone knows it hasn't been hurt. The principle is everlastingly right and the students of the school are not going backwards.

The recent incident that caused all the rumpus was merely manufactured for sensational purposes and the student body feels that it has been misrepresented and confronted with unfair criticism. Salem high school has one of the highest standards in the United States and the student council functions as successfully here as anywhere.

IN BUSINESS FIFTY YEARS

Career of C. P. Bishop Record of Achievement on Pacific Coast

Fifty years of a business life have been completed by C. P. Bishop, pioneer merchant, who has been engaged in business in Salem for the last 35 years. From a small beginning Mr. Bishop has risen to a position of being one of the most influential business men in the state and is the founder of a long string of woolen mills along the coast.

Mr. Bishop entered the business world at the Kirk & Hume store near Brownsville on October 1, 1874, where he received $25 a month and board. After working there two years he entered the employ of the Brownsville Woolen Mills store, where he remained for a similar period.

In partnership with Robert Glass, the firm of Glass & Bishop was started at Crawfordsville in 1878. The firm continued under this name for six years, after which Mr. Bishop, having disposed of his interests, opened a store in McMinnville. Five years later he came to Salem where he became a member of the Thomas Kay Woolen Mills company, and is the only one of the original incorporators who is still alive.

The following year M. Bishop went into the Salem Woolen Mills store, started by the company. This was the foundation of the present Bishop store. One year later he acquired control of the store and operated it until last year, when the store was sold to a corporation and its name changed to the Bishop's Clothing & Woolen Mills store.

Mr. Bishop took an active part in the founding of several woolen mills along the coast, all of which are now owned by the Bishop organization. These mills are located at Pendleton, Washougal, Wash., and Eureka, Cal.

$1,600 Diamond Lost And Found at Eugene

EUGENE, Ore., Oct. 7.—Last week an unmounted diamond, worth $1,600, dropped from the finger-ring of Earl Wattis of the Utah Construction company, at Oak Ridge, from where the Natron cut-off is being built. He offered a $200 reward for the return of the gem. On Monday, according to reports reaching here today, Eleu Clark, 13-year-old school girl, chanced upon it in the street. She has started a bank account with the reward.

POLITICS HUMS AT WILLAMETTE

Republican Club at University to Make Study of Foremost Issues

Students at Willamette university have joined the nation-wide Republican movement among colleges started last year by John Hamlin, director of the college bureau of the Republican national committee and arrangements have been completed for the formation of a permanent Republican club at the university according to Eugene F. Short, representative of the college bureau.

Merle Bonney is acting chairman of the newly organized club and is supported by an executive committee made up of Republican students in the university. The club has direct contact with the national Republican committee which will enable its members to benefit from the educational work planned by the college bureau. Plans are outlined by the club for cooperating with the state Republican committee of Oregon through County Chairman Paul F. Burris, of Salem. In the north-west, Republican clubs have already been formed and are working at the University of Oregon, Oregon Agricultural college, University of Washington, Washington State college and the University of Idaho. In commenting on the work here Mr. Short said:

"The clubs are permanent organizations for the serious study of current conditions, party planks and ideals. Students have the opportunity of hearing speakers of state and national importance, and otherwise to further their knowledge of our governmental system."

"The movement has been taken up enthusiastically by state colleges and universities all over the country. To date over 200 colleges have been organized. Last year the University of Oregon and OAC clubs showed much activity and a great deal of work was done during the spring semester. Plans are announced by the different clubs for active participation during the campaign."

SHANGHAI AGAIN IS THREATENED

Chinese City Declared to Be On Verge of Collapse for Second Time

SHANGHAI, Oct. 8.—(By the AP.)—The Chekiang province armies today were threatened with loss of the city of Shanghai for the second time within a month and were rushing reinforcements southward to check the latest aggressions of their Kiangsu enemies. Although Red Cross units who had been following up the fighting near Sungkiang, 28 miles to the southwest on the Shanghai-Hangchow railway line, were brought back to Shanghai today, defense headquarters at Lungwha, south of the city, denied there had been any Chekiang retreat in the Sungkiang sector.

An official statement from Lungwha declared that the Kiangsu troops around Sungkiang were handicapped by lack of ammunition because Wu Pei Fu, military commander in chief for the central government at Peking, to which the three provinces of Kiangsu, Anhwei and Fukien owe allegiance, had ordered the munitions stream from Hanyang (Hupeh province) arsenal diverted to the north, where he is fighting General Chang Tso-Lin of Manchuria.

BROADCASTING ON BIG SCALE ARGUED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—Announcement today by a radio corporation of America that it stands ready immediately to begin construction within a few miles of New York city of the first of its proposed system of super high power broadcasting stations, developed opposition to super power plants at the third annual radio conference. The announcement on behalf of the radio corporation was made by its general manager, Davis Sarnoff, shortly after the opening of the first of the conference's technical sessions. The conference was called by Secretary Hoover to bring about a meeting of representatives of all branches of the radio industry for the discussion of radio problems arising since the conference of a year ago. More than 200 delegates from all sections of the country are in attendance.

Mr. Sarnoff, speaking for the radio corporation, cited to the committee a statement by George K. Burgess, director of the bureau of standards of the commerce department, in which Mr. Burgess told the conference that interference from a 10 kilowatt station located 30 miles from a city would be no greater than that from a one kilowatt station located in the city itself. It is mostly upon the contemplation that a high powered station would cut out the lesser ones that opposition to their construction is being advanced. The objection also was made that operation on wave lengths to prevent interference would make it impossible to receive their signals on the present ordinary radio receiving set.

Permanent roads are a good investment—not an expense

Road Building Far Behind the Automobile

Millions now recognize the automobile as a necessity. It is no longer a luxury for the few. Sixty per cent of its use is for business.

Because of this the modern paved highway has become an economic necessity.

Yet although the mileage of Concrete Roads and Streets has been steadily increasing, our highway system today lags far behind the automobile. The great majority of our highways are as out of date as the single-track, narrow gauge railway of fifty years ago.

Such a condition not only seriously handicaps the progress of the automobile as a comfortable, profitable means of transportation, but also holds back commercial, industrial and agricultural advancement in practically every section of the country. It is costing taxpayers millions of dollars annually.

Highway building should be continued and enlarged upon.

Your highway authorities are ready to carry on their share of this great public work. But they must have your support. Tell them you are ready to invest in more and wider Concrete Highways now.
