Examinations Are Set—
Two civil service examinations are to be held in November and December to fill vacancies in the veterans' bureau and positions of game wardens. The first will be held November 5. Among requirements are two years in the army during the war. The duties are to establish contact with ex-service men entitled to privileges under the war risk or rehabilitation acts. The position is open in the eleventh civil service district and carries a salary of $1800 a year. The other examination is scheduled for December 3. Applicants must be between 25 and 40 years old and if appointed will do active field work in detecting violations of the migratory bird act and other game laws.

Gates Being Completed—
The last of the gates being erected at entrances to the state hospital grounds is being completed. This gate is located at the southwest entrance. Because of numerous "petting" parties and the habit of parking automobiles through the grounds after dark it was decided to block the entrances at night. The gates consist of stone pillars at each side of the road. Ingress is prohibited after dark by hanging a chain between the pillars.

Cherrians Inspect Play—
Al Pierce, King Bing of the Cherrians, and F. Ray Felker, who will have charge of the annual Cherrian show, have returned from a short trip to Portland where they ran through a portion of the script for the play that will be produced this fall. According to Mr. Felker the show will be a musical comedy, popular in the east, but never before produced on the coast. Several musical numbers will be featured and a place made for local specialties. The Cherrians at their regular meeting Tuesday night will be given an opportunity to decide upon the show. Under present plans the production will be staged the latter part of November, just before Thanksgiving, if possible. As soon as the play has been selected, the cast will be rounded up and rehearsals ordered.

IDENTIFICATION BUREAU IN SALEM

A National Organization Engaged in Finding Relatives of Missing Ones

The National Identification bureau is to be represented in Salem, by the Webb undertaking establishment.

This bureau is the outgrowth of an idea originating in the mind of a prominent eastern undertaker growing out of his experiences in the identification of dead bodies, to the relief of near relatives and friends.

The headquarters is in St. Joseph, Missouri, and it is a bureau that is endorsed and makes no charges. It is a general clearing house for finding not only relatives of the dead but of the living who are missing.

Its scope being national, and being represented in every important city and town in the country, with constant interchange of information, checked up at headquarters, it is the great agency for good work in this field.

W. W. Brown, vice president of the organization, with his headquarters at the home office, was in the city yesterday, perfecting arrangements for the proper representation here in Salem.

Schedule Changed for Trinity Church Service

SILVERTON, Ore., Oct. 10.—(Special to The Statesman.)—The quarterly meeting of Trinity congregation held Wednesday night was very largely attended. The question attracting so much attention was that of changing the services so that these would be conducted in the English language every Sunday morning in place of as at present when English services are held but the second and fourth Sunday of every month. Those petitioning for the change explained that it was not their intention to try to eliminate the Scandinavian language but arrange it so that the English services could be held every Sunday at 11 or 10:30 o'clock as a great number of the younger people do not understand the Norwegian language and also because transient visitors are more apt to attend services at that time and these would be disappointed should they find services conducted in the Norwegian language. Rev. George Henriksen, pastor of the church stated that he would be willing to conduct Norwegian services either before or after the English should the congregation so desire. Considerable friendly discussion was held on the question after which because of the amount of other business to come up and because many expressed their desire to consider the matter a little more, the question was placed on the table until a future meeting. It was voted that Rev. Mr. Henriksen appoint a committee of five to investigate the matter so that a decision can be brought about which will be most satisfactory to all.

Pioneer Club Organized

The Lincoln Pioneer club was organized at the Christian church at Silverton last night. Lloyd Fry was selected as leader. The initial membership of the club is as follows: Kenneth Williams, chief ranger; Elmer Grace, deputy ranger; William Moore, secretary; Melvin Webb, treasurer; Eddie Young, Clare Palmer, Le Roy Canoy, Claude Geer, William Francis, Joe Lytle, Chester Sanderson, Truman Haugan, Paul Widmer, Lloyd Smith and Meri Harwood. The club meets every Friday night.
