THE DOUGLAS FIR

Westward and ever westward and ever still
The pointing finger of the fir.
In the deep valleys and on all the hills,
And on the mountain slopes, rank upon rank,
You rise with spire-like tops toward the sky,
O tall green monarch of the smiling West,
Brother of pine and spruce and tamarack,
And cousin of the friendly neighboring oak;
Stroop, straight, uplifted, murmuring like the sea,
Forever swaying to the whispering wind,
From sunlit top to cool green-shadowed bole;
Some kinship hast thou with my inmost soul,
Thou'rt more familiar than a friendly touch;
A quiet joy, a welling sense of home,
Comes with first sight of thee, O gallant fir,
So green, so tall, so still: some symbol thou—
Symbol of hidden quest the adventurous seek,
The high-hearted, and the predestined free,
O Douglas fir! O splendid somber tree!

The Salem Woman's club announces next Friday, October 17, as the definite date for the presentation of the anticipated play, "What Every Woman Knows," at Waller hall at 8 o'clock.

MISS FRANZ DOERFLER

Dramatic artist who will appear in a delightful program Tuesday evening at Waller hall, providing the regular October Arts' league program.

DAY AFTER TOMORROW local folk will have the happy privilege of seeing and hearing Miss Franz Doerfler, dramatic reader of Portland, who will give the October Arts' league program at 8:15 o'clock at Waller hall.

Miss Doerfler, who is singularly gifted in dramatic work, is actively connected with the Forrest Taylor stock company, playing this season at the Helix. She has had many previous engagements both in California and in the east, meeting with splendid success.

She has a satisfying interpretative style, and Salem people will be thoroughly interested in the program she has arranged. Among the many features will be the reading of a group of poems from those of Gertrude Robinson Ross. She will be assisted by her brother, Martin Doerfler, basso, a former pupil of Arenz.

Miss Doerfler will arrive in Salem early Tuesday evening, her theater engagements in Portland occupying her up to time for her Salem program.

Mrs. J. M. Clifford, as art director of the league, is chairman of the committee in charge. Her assistants are Gertrude Robinson Ross, Mrs. John W. Harbison, Mrs. F. G. Franklin, Molly Brunk and Mrs. W. F. Fargo.

Tickets for the program which will be given at Waller hall at 8:15 o'clock, may be secured at any one of a number of places, including the local book stores and Miss Smart's specialty shop on Court street. Mrs. F. G. Franklin is in charge of the ticket sale among university students.

Chapter AB of the PEO Sisterhood will meet tomorrow evening at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Mrs. W. D. Smith, 1745 Center street.

BEFORE a large company of assembled friends the wedding of Miss Esther Paroungian and Mr. Ralph W. Barnes was solemnized at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist church, Reverend Richard Avison of Forest Grove officiating.

The altar was transformed with a profusion of orchid and yellow chrysanthemums banked with palms and ferns. Tiers of white candles added to the beauty of the scene. Preceding the ceremony, Miss Genevieve Findley, at the organ played "Meditation," following which Miss Loriel Blatchford sang "All For You." Both the Lohengrin and the Mendelssohn wedding marches were used.

The bride, attractively gowned in ivory Mallison brocade, worn with train, and a flowing veil caught against her dark hair with a coronet of pearls, approached the altar on the arm of her father, Reverend Marcus B. Paroungian.

Her lovely shower bouquet combined Ophelia and bride's roses with delicate fern. Miss Mary Paroungian, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore yellow georgette and carried a cluster of yellow chrysanthemums which merged in a perfect way with the decorations of the altar. Mr. John Luckner attended the groom as best man.

Ushers for the afternoon were: Mr. Truman Collins of Portland; Mr. Clarence Gillette of Portland; Mr. Charles Robertson; and Mr. D. Russell Rarey of Woodburn.

The bridesmaids were Miss Mabel Davies of St. Helens, Oregon; Miss Caroline Stober of Portland; Miss Anne Lavender of Pendleton; and Miss Margaret McDaniel of Portland. Miss Stober and Miss Davies wore frocks of orchid georgette and carried roses of a deeper hue. Miss Lavender and Miss McDaniel were attractive in peach georgette. Their flowers were azure delphinium and roses.

Little Elaine Sherman, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Sherman, in a frock of apricot, carrying an arm basket of blossoms, was flower girl. David Thompson, the son of Dr. and Mrs. Fred H. Thompson, was chosen as ring bearer for the occasion.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents followed the ceremony. The rooms were beautifully decorated with yellow and orchid gladioli and a profusion of rose asters. A yellow color scheme was carried out in the dining room appointments where Mrs. Willard Seton Kaufman (Ruth Barnes) of Seattle, cut the ices; and Mrs. Merrill D. Ohling poured. Assisting in the serving were: Miss Eva Tacheron of Gresham, Miss Dorothy Owen of Portland, and Miss

Carol Cheney of Vader, Washington. Out of town guests present for the ceremony included: Mrs. T. S.

McDaniel and Mrs. G. H. Hill of Portland; and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Seton Kaufman of Seattle. Both Mr. and Mrs. Barnes are
