TWO MILLION BUSHELS SOLD

Large Quantities of Wheat Bought at Chicago for Foreign Shipment

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. — Liberal foreign buying led to higher prices today in the wheat market here. It was estimated that 2,000,000 bushels was purchased today for shipment to Europe. Closing quotations for wheat were nervous at 3-4c to 2c net advance, December $1.50 7-8 to $1.51 and May $1.54 1-8 to $1.54 3-8 with corn unchanged to 1 5-8c lower and provisions varying from 10c decline to 32c gain.

Aside from developments in regard to the volume of export business, the chief factor governing changes in the market today appeared to be news affecting the Argentine crop outlook. Reports of showers at various places in Argentina leading to a sudden dip in prices soon after the opening. Significance was in some quarters attached to gossip that the bulk of available vessel room from Montreal during November had been engaged for the movement of wheat from the United States. This circumstance was construed as likely to increase the cost of Canadian shipments to Europe and therefore to enlarge the European demand for wheat from this country.

Despite wheat strength, corn and oats averaged lower in price as a result of what was contended to be ideal weather for maturing the corn crop. On the other hand, the corn market displayed notable selling power at times and a good deal of ridicule was directed against selling "sunshine" in the corn pit.

Higher quotations on hogs helped to lift the provision market.

RE-ORGANIZED YMCA CAMPAIGN SUGGESTED

tions 42, the best of the whole campaign; and this brought the quantity honor to the Katory division. The Hicks-Morris division had the largest attendance, 29; the Arbuckle-McGillchrist-Eyre division had the financial honors with $2745. The executive committee reported $950.

One contractor offered a conditional subscription of $100 provided the building contract should be let in Salem. It is understood that other important subscriptions depend on the same condition.

"I am in favor of making this stipulation, even if it might cost a little more money," said Team Captain William Bell, who reported the one $100 pledge. The whole organization verbally assented to this proposal though until the money is raised, of course, there can be no contract for anybody. As the "Y" is a strictly local organization, owing no dues anywhere outside, putting up its own buildings, employing its own help and in every way as locally independent as any Salem business house or local workman, and as it is officered by men who have made their money and their homes and their lives only in Salem, no one need to fear that they wouldn't be vitally interested in having the work done by home people.

Dinner Again Today
Dinner will be served today, as usual, and a final report made under the present organization. Whatever change in plan of campaign may be then agreed upon will be announced, and the work will go ahead on that plan.

The women who served dinner on Thursday and Friday were: Mesdames H. A. Smart, H. E. Abbott, H. C. Lemke, E. Adair, H. K. Ohling, Lee Wood, Ruth Snook, Gordon Black, W. P. Miller, F. B. Southwick, F. ### Auburn Community Club Has Officers Election

The Auburn Community club met last night, effecting the election of permanent officers as well as staging a general jolly up. Lloyd A. Lee was elected president, Joseph Tanek vice president and Waunita Wallace secretary-treasurer.

Arrangements were completed for holding another meeting the second Friday in November.

SEATTLE, Oct. 17.—Hay and grain unchanged.

DUN'S PROPHECIES BUSINESS REVIVAL

Report Given Out By Expert Publication Carries Optimistic Tone

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Dun's tomorrow will say:

"Some new signs of expansion, both in domestic and overseas commerce, have appeared. Despite the handicap of price uncertainty, American consumption of cotton has increased substantially and exports of that staple have attained the largest volume in nine months. Similarly, the value of general merchandise shipments has reached the highest point of the present year, while foreign trade prospects have been further strengthened by the successful placing of the German loan.

"Although a full response to constructive forces is still lacking, the main trend is toward revival of business and all of the principal statistical measures show that the fall season has brought a definite improvement in conditions.

"Recent mild weather, following the low temperature of September has temporarily checked demand but has been favorable to crop harvesting and the larger buying in agricultural sections is reflected in the more optimistic reports from the west and northwest.

"Weekly bank clearings $7,285,030,000."

TO RAISE CAPITAL FOR SANTIAM MINES

Propose to Put in Big Mill and Aerial Tramway to Market Rich Ores

F. H. Kunkel, connected with the Lotz-Larsen Mining company, has gone to Chicago where arrangements have been made with an investment concern to help in raising the necessary capital for more fully developing the property of this company at the junction of Gold creek and the Little North Fork of the Santiam river.

As most readers of The Statesman are aware, this property has already been developed to a point where there are millions of tons of rich ore in sight; rich enough in copper, gold, silver and other values to justify vast expenditures in capital investment, for there are literally mountains of ore that will, every ton of it, yield profits above the costs of getting it out and placing it on the markets, with modern machinery and methods.

So Far So Good

The company has bored into the bowels of the earth with tunnels and uncovered the values; it has built a reduction mill and developed the water power of Gold creek to run it; roads have been built and completed, buildings have been erected and machinery installed. So far so good. These men, Mr. Lotz and Mr. Larsen and their associates, have really done wonders, with what they have had to do with. They have literally hewed a mining property out of the hills. They have proved their property. Every mining man who has visited it has fully verified this statement, and has predicted the development of a great camp, with the securing of funds to carry on mining operations as they ought to be carried on.

Develop Water Power, Too

The company owns water powers along the Little North Fork of the Santiam with energy when developed to do all the work that is proposed, with many thousands of horse power to spare; to sell to the others. The present arrangements provide for developing this water power, for building an aerial tramway to carry the ore in buckets down the canyon seven miles, and to construct a large mill for reducing the ores at the lower or westerly end of the tramway.

Mayor Giesy Advocate Of Permanent Bridges

Salem must erect permanent bridge structures, either through the issuance of bonds or by a special levy, according to Mayor John B. Giesy, an ardent advocate of this type of structure.

"Long bridges will not be necessary to replace the present bridges," Mayor Giesy said yesterday. "Several of these, such as the bridges at South Church, South Winter and South High, can be greatly shortened by siting in the approaches. High street, in particular, needs but one short span over the main channel."

Rather than causing continual expense to the city in repairs and then having to build several bridges at once, Mayor Giesy believes it is best to stretch the expenditure over a number of years.

And in addition this would give to Salem a great mining camp at her front door; a consummation that has been long dreamed of, and that seems now to be fairly in sight, and likely to be realized during the coming year.
