NEW CAMPAIGN IS TO HELP YMCA FUND

A city of about the size and with much the same industrial development as Salem, has just built one of the finest "Y" buildings in the northwest.

"You can do as much for your boys as Boise can, and they need it just as badly," is the Stone verdict. "They will repay you a thousand-fold for all you invest in them in this way."

F. W. Steussloff phoned in a raise of $500 in their subscription for the second lap of the building race. The announcement was cheered; it was the only definite report handed in for Wednesday.

Full team announcements will be handed in for Thursday's dinner, and for each day thereafter as long as the campaign is on.

The executive committee will look after a few selected names that may be expected to largely increase their first gifts, or to make new gifts after they had been missed the first time around. The executive team hopes to report at least $20,000. The regular teams are asked to do as much, which will leave each of the four divisions $5,000 to raise. If both do that well it will practically end the battle, with all the money on hand ready for building at once.

Chairman Livesley thanked the workers for turning out so well for the new campaign. He urged every one to make it his own personal business for just a little longer, and clean up the whole matter.

Paulus Makes Plea
Otto Paulus, called upon to speak for the workers gave an urgent, powerful appeal for all to make good in the next few days and help pay up the debt that every man owes to those who have built the civilization of today. "All we eat, read, do, is bound up in what other generations have done to hand on down to us," he said. "Every material, political, social advantage, every liberty and privilege and enjoyment we know came to us through the sweat and blood of brave men and women who were willing to sacrifice for those yet to come. It is the result of thousands of desperate battles that others have fought for us. Some of them did better than merely die fighting—they lived to fight it out to the bitter end, and we receive the whole good of their efforts. Let's not be quitters."

Dinner was served by Mesdames E. M. Kershner, R. Lee Wood, E. E. Elliott, J. H. Farrar, L. E. Bradford, F. M. Reed, F. E. Brown, F. G. Franklin and D. H. Craven. Assisting Mesdames, F. A. Elliott and C. A. Kells, who are in charge.

BEARCATS ARE FULL OF FIGHT

College of Puget Sound to Meet Opposition in Homecoming Game Sat.

Nobody need to go out of Salem this week to see a real football game; for the Willamette-College of Puget Sound promises to furnish enough thrills to satisfy anybody.

The northerners have consistently won from the Bearcats in the past few years; they seem to be the jinx of the locals, wherever they play. They might do it again this year; but they are due for one of the bitterest fights they ever saw, when they meet Coach Rathbun's warriors.

It will interest Salemites to know that Coach Rathbun will start with nine of the 11 players who fought Oregon to a worse than standstill a month ago. Of the absentees, Hemphill, who was called back to California by illness in the family, will be missing. Big Bill Mudray is here, and believed to be entirely eligible, though he will not play in this conference game. Most of the team are the regulars or substitutes of last year, simon-pure local stuff, as this lineup will show:

Schweining is a real find. He weighs 175, kicks well and hits the line like a pile-driver, and he is a cool, resourceful field general. It is going to be a treat to see him play. Of the older men, Hartley, the big basketball center of last year, is the making of an all-western star. They don't come any bigger or harder than Hartley. Fletcher, a rather light but exceedingly flashy player, promises to do some important things if he can ever get free with the ball; he can come close to out-footing the whole football army of the coast.

There are a number of reserves, good men who rank close enough to the regulars to fill in any hole. In the Linfield game, Coach Rathbun used 30 players, so as to give every possibility a chance against outside competition. Most of the heavy scoring was made during the quarter when the regular team was in the game; the others were not up on signals, and failed to show their real strength. They will be enough better by now that any place could be filled with safety, and an injured player or two would not dishearten the team.

Findley will replace Hemphill at right end. Findley was regular last year and filled the place well. He has the strength and size to make a great end against the heavy end plays of today's football. Robertson, the speedy basketball star of last year, will also be available for right end, where he plays a safe, strong game. Booth, who was in last year's backfield, is excellent material for a place again this year, and will be used; and Rhodes is a powerful lineman who should make good. Woodworth, from Washington high in Portland, is a good candidate for almost any vacancy, and there are a lot of others who can be relied upon and will make good.

The new stand will be ready for the big game, with a roof and comfortable seats and everything needed to make a game enjoyable from the onlookers' standpoint; the Bearcats themselves promise to furnish the thrills—and the new stand gives good standing room at the seats when a big thrill makes a man stand up and yell. It promises to be a great game, with the odds in favor of the Bearcats, as they should be in any Home-Coming game. It's too good to miss.

OLYMPIC STARS TO SHINE THIS SEASON

Lively Time Looked Forward to in Indoor Track and Field Events

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—(By The Associated Press)—Although plans for the indoor track and field season are still in the formative stage, prospects point to an unusually brilliant program with international competition that will bring many Olympic stars into the limelight.

Outstanding interest is in the expected invasion of Paavo Nurmi, great Finnish runner and hero of four Olympic triumphs, and the probability that he will match strides with his rival countryman, Willie Kitola, Joie Ray, the former American mile champion, and Ray Baker, present national mile title holder.

Another international feature also sought for the Millrose meet is a walking contest which would bring together Ugo Frigerio, Olympic champion, Willie Plant, American star and George H. Goulding, veteran Canadian and Olympic title holder in 1912.

TO HOLD QUALIFYING PLAY IN 3 PLACES

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—The qualifying play for the 1925 national open golf championship which has been awarded to the Worcester, Mass., Country club, may be held in three divisions for the benefit of nitpick welders in the east, middle west and far west.

Last season, sectional qualifying tournaments were conducted in the east and middle west with the survivors going into the finals at Detroit. Now it is urged that the plan be extended for the benefit of Pacific coast aspirants who were forced to make the trip to Chicago last summer to seek qualifying places.

The attitude of the professional golfers' association which conducted the qualifying tournament of 1924, may be determined when this body holds a meeting here next month.

"BETWEEN FRIENDS"

BY
Robert W. Chambers

A STORY woven around the scripture, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends." Into this theme has been woven in tense action, a sculptor's studio, gay artists' frolics, a model's life and a fascinating story of action and thrills. One of those productions that keeps the spectator keyed to the highest notch throughout.

Only the good ones come through

Such popularity must be deserved

WHETHER it's golf or cigarettes or anything else, popularity is no stroke of luck. No champion ever held his laurels except by making good. No cigarette ever held popular favor except by deserving it.

The popularity of Chesterfields is an outstanding example. For months now they have been drawing over 1000 smokers a day away from other cigarettes. Surely this is proof of their quality and good taste.
