

ALBANY TO PLAY HERE THIS AFTERNOON IN FIRST HOME GAME

SALEM READY FOR VISITORS

Red and Black Clashes With Albany High School at 3:30 This Afternoon

Salem high school football team will take the field this afternoon against Albany high school in the opening of the local interscholastic football season an unknown quantity. The game is called for Sweetland field at 3:30 o'clock.

Seldom has a high school team gone so far in the season without giving the coach an opportunity to look over his men in a real contest. Coach Hollis Huntington's team should live up to expectations and produce results indicated in practice scrimmage, but this is never certain until the men have performed against real opposition. So far the only scrimmage beyond practice scrimmage against the second team has been the contest against the Willamette university first-year players, which was annexed by the high school.

The backfield is one of the speediest aggregations that has been developed by Coach Huntington. But speed alone in the backfield will not carry the team to victory without a corresponding fast line. If the line is able to withstand an aggressive attack and hold until the backfield gets under way, Salem should be able to take Albany into camp.

Due to the ancient rivalry between the two schools, the Albany-Salem game always attracts a large crowd and is sure to be a classic of interscholastic football playing. Albany is expected to bring up a large rooting delegation, while Salem high school, backed by local support from the townspeople, will be out in a body.

Woodburn Ticket Named; W. H. Broyles for Mayor

WOODBURN Ore., Oct. 23.—Tuesday night another city caucus was held and the following city ticket selected and named citizens: Mayor, W. H. Broyles; councilmen, F. X. Beck, E. J. Allen, Eugene Moshberger, J. F. Rigdon; recorder, G. H. Beebe; treasurer, Mrs. Minnie Richards.

A previously nominated ticket by the economy and good government is: Mayor, James J. Hill; councilmen, W. F. Norman, J. L. Haller, F. X. Beck, E. J. Forsythe; recorder, S. E. Brune; treasurer, Paul Mills.

While the battle is on, the campaign is quiet. What the real live issues are cannot be determined at present. The good government ticket is the choice of the ministerial association.

SECOND BOXING BOUT SCHEDULED

Warren to Meet Winters Here October 29; Bill Hunt Also Signed Up

Cracker Warren, of Oregon City, is slated to meet Billy Winters, of the 7th infantry, Vancouver Barracks, here in the second boxing bout of the season at the Salem Armory next Wednesday night. Twenty-six rounds of fighting are to be offered by the Salem boxing commission. Bill Hunt, of the Salem fire department, will meet Bill Poole, of Portland, in a 6-round semi-final bout. Both men are heavies. If the proper support is given, there will be two cards offered fans each month, according to Harry Plant, local matchmaker.

The remainder of the bouts are to be signed up in Portland by Hansen, assistant matchmaker, who is a brother of Harry Hansen, Portland matchmaker. The two boxing commissions will cooperate in their demand that the contracts of the boxers will be carried out.

Beside the main event and the Hunt-Poole event, there will be one other 6-round bout and two 4-round encounters staged on October 29, the night of the bout.

After practicing eating gravy for 40 or 60 years some men still spill it on their vests.

BEARCATS ALL SET FOR SATURDAY GAME

Grandstand to Be Completed With Plenty of Room for All Spectators

The new grandstand on Sweetland field, Willamette university campus, isn't quite finished, but it will be by Saturday afternoon when it will be dedicated to the homecoming game when the Bearcats meet their traditional enemies, the College of Puget Sound.

The structure is 200 feet long, with 12 rows of seats; it has seats for 2,000 people. Comfortable seats, too, raised four inches above the roadway for the next tier, and plenty of good standing and passing room. One can stand up with comfort and yell his head off at every good play without having to tramp on toes other than his own.

There are three entrances, one at either end and one in the middle. The seating is divided into four sections, one for either end and the other two being served by the middle entrance. The structure is like the champion farm fence—horse high, rabbit tight and bull strong. It is built strong enough for many times the greatest possible load, well set on concrete piers, with a good roof that keeps off the rain and arrests decay. It promises to meet every possible need for a grandstand anywhere.

The present grandstand is set well back from the old track; the new track is to be re-surveyed and laid out so as to come a rod or more closer to the new stand, and allow for building the eventual big stadium on the south side of the field, where the old bleachers are now. The football field and track will remain as they are for this season, however.

Besides the pleasure of sitting in a really good amphitheater, the opening game on Saturday promises to be full of thrills such as Salem audiences have not been accustomed to seeing. Nine out of the eleven players who recently trounced the Oregon team will start in the lineup; they were going well against Oregon, but their machine-like playing today would be a revelation to those who saw them at that time. The whole Bearcat squad numbers about 30 players, all of whom will be potentialities for any game during the season. They have kept up their work with remarkable fidelity; there is no place in the regular lineup that can not be creditably or even brilliantly filled by some other player now on the squad.

While College of Puget Sound has always turned out a good team and this year is no exception, the Bearcats have not in years had anything like the present executive ability on the field. There have been brilliant players, like "Fat" Zeller, the indestructible fleet half of the past few years; but he never had a line to support him like the present team. With the 1924 Bearcats he would run the whole coast ragged. The Bearcats have a real team; without many outstanding stars, but with the priceless ingredient of uniformity that works together and puts 11 players into every move.

If there is a vacant seat in the grandstand for the Homecoming game it is an accusation against the loyal sporting blood of Salem that now has a chance to sit in a private throne and enjoy itself and to see the big game of the year.

Coach Rathbun has 20 men on his squad, with crackerjack subs for every position; the game doesn't hang on any one star who might be crippled. It promises to be the most thrilling game of the year, or for years past—that is, if the visitors show enough class to make it a match; which they have always done in the past.

Milton Sills Appears in High Class Picture

Presenting Milton Sills in the masculine lead, the Liberty theater today start its showing of Metro's latest production, "The Heart Bandit," a combination of comedy and drama that is refreshing in its revelations.

The story, written by Fred Kenney Myton, concerns a girl bandit of the New York Bowery, which is a sufficient recital of the possibilities, and none of the possibilities have been missed in developing the plot through a series of interest-gripping situations.

UNVEILING WILL BE BIG FEATURE

Armistice Day Plans Center Around War Mothers Memorial Statue

The program for Armistice day has not been fully arranged by the committees of Salem War Mothers and the American legion, but the major events have been scheduled. The principal feature of the day will be the unveiling of the statue, "Over the Top to Victory," with a public parade preceding. The unveiling of the monument has been made a county affair, with each community being represented by members of the War Mothers, who are to take an active part in the ceremony.

The relatives of the soldier dead who are commemorated by the monument are to be the special guests, while a platform is to be erected for the speakers.

The parade, which is to be one of the features of the celebration, will be composed of every organization in the county, with every organization represented and a special invitation is extended for them to be present. The Delbert Reeves post of the American legion from Silverton is to be well represented, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and other units are to be in the parade.

The unveiling of the statue is to be the high-light of the event, and George Griffith, state commander of the American legion, has been selected for this, while Col. Carl Abrams is to be master of ceremonies.

Wouldn't it be fun if we all made what we claim we do?

Robin Reed, Olympic Star, Will Wrestle at Albany

Robin Reed, OAC student and Olympic wrestling champion at 134 pounds, will meet Chester Newton of Portland, a runner-up to Reed at Paris, at the Albany Elks lodge open house tonight. Veterans of all wars in which the United States has participated, who are able to attend, will be the special guests. George B. Griffith of this city, state commander of the American legion, has been extended a special invitation to attend. James Reed, who is a student at Willamette university and a member of The Statesman's editorial staff, is a brother to Robin Reed.

Demented Youth Chains Self to Tree and Dies

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Oct. 23.—The body of Henry Handy McHenry of Ardmore, a suburb of Philadelphia, was found today chained to a tree about six miles from Trout Run and two miles from the nearest house. He had been dead for several months. The chain was fastened about his neck with a lock. He had a path about the tree which was also cut by the chain.

It was at first supposed to be a case of murder but tonight the authorities learned from his father that the man was demented. The father believes it a case of suicide.

"It was the progressives," continued the speaker, "who initiated and carried through the constitutional amendment providing for direct election of United States senators—an innovation responsible for that increasing group of honest, able, fearless, progressive men in congress from Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Washington, Montana and elsewhere who have challenged the old gang in the house of representatives and in the senate which was long looked upon as the citadel of privileged wealth, a citadel which was only captured through the people themselves.

"It was the progressives who made the long fight to end the shame of child labor in this country, who placed upon the statute books the employers' liability laws, who forced the enactment of an amendment to the federal constitution which made it possible to tax incomes, who insisted that war should involve equal sacrifice and who forced the adoption of excess profits taxes."
