The first annual homecoming dinner for the members and friends of the Unitarian church will be held at the church at 6:30 o'clock this evening. Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Lee Steiner will also be complimented in a farewell way at this time, since Dr. and Mrs. Steiner are leaving on Saturday for a several months absence. Dr. Steiner served in a fine way as chairman of the building committee, and the congregation owe him large thanks. An informal program of toasts will probably follow the dinner. Those on the committee in charge, of which Mrs. Goodenough is chairman, are: Mrs. Milton Meyers, Mrs. Goodrich, Mrs. Roy Barton, and Mrs. Frank Brockenridge.

The November meeting of the Salem Arts' league will be in the form of a "get-together" this evening at the T. S. Roberts' studio, 505 North Summer street.

The ladies of the Central Congregational church, Nineteenth and Ferry streets, will hold their regular monthly silver tea at the church parlors from 2:30 to 5 o'clock this afternoon. The hostesses will be Mrs. W. W. Cory, Mrs. Vance, Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Talmadge and Mrs. Laschele.

For a singer to be able to give the public the full value of his voice, he must keep his body in physical trim. This is the belief of Riccardo Martin, the great American tenor, who sings here on November 18. "Every singer," says Mr. Martin, "should keep in the open as much as possible. A brisk walk in all sorts of weather never fails to give an artist the proper spirit to work with. Personally, I am inclined to believe that the more rugged the exercise, the more virile and robust the singing. Rowing, fencing, boxing are all good. Never make your vocal lesson a task. Get true enjoyment out of all you do. For most of the hills in the world, a healthy physique is the best medicine, I know." The Martin concert will be given at the Grand Theatre Tuesday evening November 18. This concert is the second attraction of the Civic Music club series.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the Jason Lee Methodist church will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. L. Tyler, 1587 North Winter street. The ladies of the church and the community are urged to attend.

The members of the Yomarco class of the First Methodist church will meet for a "Poverty Party" this evening at the home of Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Bellinger.
