Colorful Picture Now Showing at the Oregon—"Feet of Clay," Cecil B. DeMille's latest production for Paramount, which features Rod La Rocque, Ricardo Cortez, Julia Faye, Theodore Kosloff and Robert Edeson, opened a four day's run at the Oregon theater yesterday. The story is an adaptation of the immensely popular magazine serial by that name by Margaret Tuttle. Beulah Marie Dix and Bertram Millhauser wrote the screen play.

Traveling in its locale between a brilliant winter resort, a poor Harlem flat and a gorgeous eye-filling home of wealth, "Feet of Clay" is one of the most entertaining productions DeMille has ever offered the picture public.

The story starts with a yachting party at Catalina Island. All sorts of beach novelties are worked into a series of colorful scenes which in costume combine bathing suits on lovely girls with the latest summer creations of the modiste and the tailor. The eye-filling piece de resistance is a race between 20 girls in jockey bathing suits on surf-boards behind fast speedboats.

Capping the beach scenes is a luxurious sequence aboard the world's largest yacht. It is amidst the spacious comfort of this three-hundred-foot pleasure craft that dramatic scenes occur, following a water series where La Rocque's foot is mangled in a fight with a shark.
