

J. W. CAMPBELL ABLY EULOGIZED

Rev. William Stewart Gordon Tell of the Life Work Of His Close Friend

Rev. William Stewart Gordon addressed the students in chapel yesterday and gave an outline of the life of John Wesley Campbell.

Always Take HILLS CASCARA & QUININE

BID DEFIANCE TO THE STORM—MODERN HEATING—KEEPS YOU WARM!

NELSON BROS. 355 CHEMUKETA PHONE 1906

SUCCESS

Ask some of our graduates and former students about our school.

Oregon Pulp and Paper Co. Salem, Oregon MANUFACTURERS

For Colds BAYER ASPIRIN SAY "BAYER ASPIRIN"—Genuine

him. Back of his modest, retiring manner there was a wealth of resources entirely unknown except to his intimate friends.

He was a manly man, commanding the respect of all who knew him. He believed in business, and in business integrity.

He was known by all as a loyal, patriotic citizen. A veteran of the Civil war, a survivor of the Battle of Shiloh, commander of A. J. Smith post, G. A. R., he was always ready to register his vote and convictions on the side of his country.

He taught school for a while in his young manhood and had often thought that his most natural place in life would have been occupying some chair of geology in a college.

This leads me to one of the facts so well known concerning his life. He was a scientist. Both by instinct and training he was a life-long student, and with this he had that rare combination of the analytical mind and the patient tabulator of data.

The Portland museum and the Oregon Historical society are richer because of his toil and his benevolence. His cabinet contained valuable evidence of various pre-historic animals, a large collection of minerals, agates, Indian relics, among which is an interesting array of arrow heads.

It is eminently fitting that this valuable collection should be placed in a college where his labor will be bearing fruitage through the years, handing down his knowledge to the coming generations.

It is also peculiarly fitting to have the cabinet in a Christian college. Brother Campbell was a Christian and a Methodist.

Like all such men, he passed through a period of questioning and mental struggle. But he emerged in a larger world where he basked peacefully in the sunshine of unified truth.

He understood the exhortation of Paul: "Brethren, be not children in mind—be men."

And like the same great apostle he could say: "When I was a child, I spake as a child, I understood as a child. But when I became a man I put away childish things."

The thinker naturally outgrows some things. Expansion is a necessity for his larger world.

He believed in God's record in the rocks, as well as in the ancient manuscripts. Alike, they were written by the finger of his omnipotent fiat.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

He was a geologist and a discriminating student of evolution. He contributed a number of very thoughtful articles for the Oregonian, and several others appeared in the Sellwood Bee, one only a short time before he died.

trust Him. I love Him, and I am safe in His hands.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

He gave me a manuscript entitled "Moses and Geology," in which he makes a most striking comparison between the stages of creation as recorded in Genesis and the most recent conclusions of science.

That Thou dost still reveal Thy will To those who would the dark dispel;

That upward o'er the peaks of time Thy plan unfolds in form sublime.

Help us to keep Thee as our guest, While speeding o'er earth's high-ways grand,

Or cleave the air at Thy behest To give some soul a helping hand.

Thy tireless Spirit leads the way To heal the woes that throng our day.

Enlarge our minds to grasp thy thought; Enlarge our hearts to work Thy plan;

Assured Thy purpose falleth not To put Thy spirit into man.

God of the present age and hour, Thrill us anew with holy power.

More Candidates Record Election Expense Costs

Edgar Freed, treasurer of the Multnomah county democratic central committee, in support of the party ticket, spent $813.88, according to an expense account filed with Sam A. Koser, secretary of state.

Representatives filing were C. E. Goodman, democrat, 4th district, $40.75; Ralph Coughlin, republican, 8th district, $15; Claude Buchanan, republican, 10th district, $51; J. H. Tegarden, republican, 13th district, $10; John B. Coffey, republican, 18th district, $10; Albert R. Hunter, democrat, 25th district, $4 and W. F. Jackson, democrat, 28th district, $25.64.

District attorneys filing were Ross Farnham, democrat, Deschutes county, $46.61; John S. Medley, democrat, Lane county, $89.40; W. W. Harcombe, democrat, Polk county, $11; S. A. Newberry, democrat, Umatilla county, $66.90.

EDUCATOR TALKS AT ROTARY CLUB

Educator Topic of Pres. U. S. Landers, of Normal School, at Lunch

J. S. Landers, president of the Oregon Normal school at Monmouth, was the main speaker before the Rotarians yesterday and told members that the Tower-Sterling educational bill, which is to be introduced into congress, should be supported because it would place education on a par with other organized departments of the government.

"The economic situation that has arisen since the Civil war has caused the burden of taxation to be very heavy," he said. "Our mode of taxation is backward. Local taxation was not sufficient to cover the needs of education, and a special tax was necessary. The government should contribute a part of the cost of education."

President Landers scored heavily against universal education in America and stated that the democratic ideal of the United States would not allow the limitation of educational possibilities. A change in education was taking place and the dominant idea of today was to understand the other fellow and to work with him.

Mrs. Landers appeared in several vocal solo numbers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sande and Party Guests at Grand

When the curtain rises on the initial presentation of "The Great White Way," Cosmopolitan's latest super-production, at the Grand theater Friday evening, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Sande and a party of their friends will be the honor guests of the theater management for the evening.

The occasion will be the personal appearance in the picture of Earl Sande, world's premier jockey and son of the Salem couple.

Sande is but one of the celebrities to play a part in this unusual picture, the supporting cast of which has been recruited from among some of the most notable personages in the country, including Arthur Brisbane, editorial chief of the Hearst newspapers; Damon Runyon, famous sports writer; George McManus, cartoonist; Tex Rickard, boxing promoter, and a score of others.

Not the least attractive of the many novel features of the production is the appearance of the entire beauty chorus from the Ziegfeld "Follies."

Trinity Dorcas Society Holds Regular Meeting

SILVERTON, Or., Nov. 19.—(Special to The Statesman.)—One hundred members and friends of Trinity Dorcas society gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Amos Corbouse Tuesday evening for the regular meeting and social time of the month.

The society voted to buy 65 new hymn books for Trinity church. Several committees were appointed and the routine business attended. Following the business meeting a social time was enjoyed during which refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Esther Weaver, Miss Marie Corbouse and Miss Lilla Madsen.

There is some good everywhere. Walter Johnson covers a multitude of Kansas' sins.

Snappy Delivery

WE PAY CASH FOR YOUR FURNITURE AND TOOLS

Capital Hardware & Furniture Co.

Best Prices Paid

A PRE-THANKSGIVING SALE 8 Days of Drastic Reductions on O'COATS Suits and Hats

THE MAN'S SHOP COOLEY HUNTINGTON