AUDRED BUNCH PHONE 106

THE FIRST MacDowell club concert of the season will be given Tuesday evening at the First Presbyterian church, when instrumental and vocal music will combine to make a most delightful evening for those who are anticipating the planned program.

Lucien E. Becker of Portland will appear as the organist for the occasion. Mr. Becker will play instead of Frederick W. Goodrich, as was earlier announced, the change being made by mutual consent, and with Mr. Goodrich to play on a later date.

Salem folk will have the opportunity of hearing not only Mr. Becker but also three of their own gifted musicians, Evangeline Burdette Long, a contralto of unusual charm; Miss Dorothy Pearce, a pleasing pianist whose accompan-ments are always in demand, and Mary Talmadge Headrick, violinist, whose technical and tonal attainments never fail to interest an audience.

The program will open promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

A number of the members of Hal Hibbard auxiliary SWU spent Friday afternoon in a business and social way at the home of Mrs. Henry U. Miller. During the social hour musical numbers were given by Miss Mildred Miller and Miss Lucile Rhoten, and Mrs. La Moine Clark gave whistling numbers followed by the serving of refreshments by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Carle Abrams and Miss Betty Abrams. Those enjoying the afternoon were Mrs. F. A. Thompson, Mrs. Percy Pugh, Mrs.

RAIN AT NIGHT

The rain drives over my window a-slant,
With an eerie, soulless, mystery chant:

I hear strange sailors shout at sea,
As their boat careens like a falling tree;

I hear high geese in a v-shaped flight,
Honking southward, all day, all night;

I hear strange hands at my doorways tug,
Strange shadows fall across my rug;

I hear wild winds through my clothes-lines whip,
Queer knocks on my roof where the elm trees dip.

I listen, I pause, breathless I see Things that are pregnant with mystery.

My throat grows tight with voiceless dread:
One never repeats what the rain has said.

A brief business meeting followed the program of the afternoon at which time the president appointed committees for the Marionette attraction on December 6.

Mr. Editor: What does the people of this world claim constitutes a self made man or woman?

You would say: Any person with a poor and humble birth, who has accumulated a fortune and a high position of truth without help.

What will a self made man or woman gain in the end, after they have acquired such a title from the people of this world?

Sometimes they acquire much, other times nothing.

How do you explain that? I mean that every self made man or woman who has accumulated a fortune and position of trust and honor in a legitimate, a fair and square manner as one should between man and man, gains nothing in the end but a good name with lots of honor from the people of the world.

But the man or the woman,

ORIOLES, WHO WILL BROADCAST PROGRAM

Personnel of local orchestra which will play on Friday, December 12, over the Oregonian Radio, and will be broadcast by three other stations: Standing, left to right—Harry Mills, sousaphone; W. H. Mills, director and trumpet. Sitting, left to right—George Beck, drums; Lawrence Steiner, banjo; Francis Smith, saxophone; Fred M. Mills, saxophone and trumpet; Thelma Anderson, piano.

Mills' Orioles play not only for the Tillium club, the Monday Night Dancing club, but also for Mrs. White's Saturday Night Dancing club in Derby hall.

who through trickery and fraud, has accumulated a fortune in worldly possessions and great positions of trust as they travel this journey of life from that of a poor and humble start, will acquire much more pain and suffering in the end when their fate is revealed to them, over there.

If what you say be true, there would be no advantage for a person to strive to become a self made person, or any pleasure in being honored by the people of the world.

There may be a little pleasure for a person to spend his life in clearing off a large tract of land, then to build a magnificent building for a home without holding any title to the property, when another had authority at his pleasure to order you to move to other spheres, without allowing you one bit of credit for your labor and services rendered, except to allow you to receive the honor and praise from those you were leaving behind. But I cannot see how there could be one bit of pleasure in knowing that you were doing all this labor and service on another's property, expecting in the end to sink all your wealth and honor right there while you were contracting a disease that would cause you to suffer through the endless ages of eternity.

Am I to understand that no self made man or woman, who in this life has gained a fortune in worldly possessions, and who has served the people of this world with much honors are to inherit eternal life?

I mean that God is a jealous God, and that any man or woman who claims to be self made is infringing on the works of God, as God made man after HIS own image, and no man can improve on the work of our creator in the
