SERGEANT IN BAD OVER HIS ROOKIES
Artilleryman Taken From Train Under Arrest; Released Upon Bail

Sergeant G. W. Newman, 82nd field artillery, battery A, of Vancouver Barracks in charge of recruits for Fort Bliss, Texas deposited his mail and was allowed to go on his way Saturday after he was removed from a train by a policeman here following an affair among the recruits on the train.
The party left Vancouver and laid in Portland several hours, where some of the rookies became intoxicated. The sergeant put them on the train and to bed. They did not remain in bed, however, and Newman was called by the conductor to quiet the drunken gang, who were conducting themselves in a disorderly manner in the smoking compartment. He grappled with two recruits and put them in bed. The conductor had wired ahead to Salem for a police officer to arrest Newman, who was in charge.

OLD SETTLER DIES FOLLOWING ILLNESS
Sanford Watson, Well-Known Farmer, Crossed Plants Back in 1849

Sanford Watson died here Saturday morning after a lingering illness. He was well known in Salem where he has resided for many years.
Mr. Watson was born in Springfield, Illinois, on December 31, 1845. Crossed the plains to Oregon with his parents, Sanford and Maria Elder Watson in 1849. His boyhood and young manhood was spent on the old Watson homestead in Spring Valley, Polk county. He was a prominent farmer and stock raiser, having exhibited fine horses at Oregon's state fair for years. In California he engaged in growing oranges and flowers.
He was married in 1885 to Miss Mary Bridges, at that time dean of the art department of Willamette university. She died at their home in Los Angeles in 1916. Since that time Mr. Watson has divided his time between the cities of Los Angeles, Salem and Portland.
He served with the national guard for eight years, during the 80's, the latter part of that period he was captain of company B of Salem. He leaves one sister, Miss Cecilia E. Watson, four nieces and four nephews—Misses Lillian and Pearl Applegate, Mrs. Cyrus B. Woodworth, Warren O. Applegate, Glen Applegate, Mac Applegate, Ralph A. Watson and Mrs. Hortense Watson Millsap. He was a member of the Congregational church of Los Angeles and the Elks lodge of Salem.

HOWARD HILLS WINNER FOR WEEK
Rescue of An Imprisoned Youth Brings Award to Local Boy Scout

The best good turn for this week in the Boy Scout program goes to Howard Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. B. Hill, 1660 Fir, who rescued little Donald Stockwell from a very dangerous position and possibly saved him from serious injury.
The little fellow had crawled on top of the Shipley building on Washington street and was trying to get from the outside of the building to the inside. He pushed his head through a small aperture but was unable to get the rest of his body through the opening, neither was he able to extract his head from the opening and consequently was held a prisoner.
Donald had been there for some time before his cries and screams attracted the attention of Howard Hill. The prisoner was released after Hill had held him up while the head was extracted from the opening. There were no injuries sustained by the prisoner, who, however, was thoroughly frightened by the ordeal. Howard Hill is a member of Troop 2, and of the Panther Patrol. He is also a student at the Salem high school.

Flax Will Be Discussed At Forum Lunch Monday

Two flax experts will speak upon this crop and the future of the linen industry at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon Monday noon.
"Flax in Oregon" is the topic assigned to B. C. Miles and "What I Expect to See in the Willamette Valley" the subject of T. B. Kay.
Mr. Miles recently made a trip to the flax center of the world in Europe. He will discuss the flax machinery and what he learned first hand. Some of the results of his investigation of the industry will be related by Mr. Kay.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

It was great—
The corn show and industrial exhibit.
About 10,000 people attended; doubled number of year also. Make it 20,000 next year.
Man at the writer's elbow says Salem is getting to be a real city, judged by the automobiles on the down town streets around noon and 2 o'clock. While the people of Salem are more nearly 100 per cent ladies and gentlemen than can be found in a like population elsewhere on earth, therefore considerate of the rights of others, this friend makes these suggestions:
With her largely increased police force, an officer ought to be spared at the noon hour, say for 30 minutes, and at the 6 o'clock rush, say for 45 minutes, for the corners of State and Commercial, State and Liberty and State and High, to direct the traffic, for even gentlemen and lady drivers cannot always manage their cars in a crowd, so as to avoid possible accidents.
This same man suggests that at the back of the postoffice the automobile traffic ought to be obliged to all go one way. Two way traffic there may at any time cause a serious accident. One way traffic would inconvenience no one seriously.
Talking over the telephone (everybody's doing it,) there is now one telephone for every seven people in the United States. In 1900 there was one for every 57.
Corvallis was true to her name yesterday. Corvallis means heart of the valley.
There was general rejoicing yesterday over the fact that Salem is to have a $200,000 Y. M. C. A. building, properly equipped.
Four of the scutchers at the state flax were put to work yesterday. Six will be working tomorrow, and the whole 22 by the end of the week the largest flax scutching plant in the world and to be doubled for next year. Every electric light and every machine at the penitentiary is now being run by the new water power plant.

OREGON WINS FROM AGGIES; SCORE 7-3

yards, and Anderson threw Tebb on Oregon's six-yard line. The Aggies tried three line bucks and a pass and failed to make the necessary yardage, Oregon getting the ball on downs.
The Webfooters held the Aggies several times for downs in the last quarter, the ball being in Oregon's territory most of the time.
That the game was slow was the statement made by a number of Salem people who witnessed the contest and was remarked also by Portland newspapermen who were present.
Display of spirit and features between the halves were highly appreciated by the spectators, who packed the large stadium to capacity. Three airplanes, flaunting OAC colors, the orange and the black, maneuvered above the field, dipping as close to the ground as safety permitted.
Traffic on the highways prior to the game and immediately after the contest was almost one solid line of cars. This moved at the rate of 25 miles an hour and every one was forced to keep in line. No serious accidents were reported.
Immediately after the game the OAC football team with Kenneth Zell of Salem, football manager, boarded a train for Nebraska where they will meet the University of Nebraska Thursday.

Radio Fans are Wanted By German Government

BERLIN, Nov. 3. (AP)—To get distrustful German villagers acquainted with the novelty of radio entertainment, and to induce them to buy sets of their own, the postal authorities contemplate the temporary installation of loudspeaker sets in the social halls or inns of every German village, free of charge. Besides entertainment, news of the day and market reports of special interest for farmers will be broadcast.

Chicago University Will Study Old English Documents in Classes

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—(AP)—New light on social, economic and industrial conditions in England, during a period of over five centuries, is expected to be obtained when careful study is made of nearly 2000 documents, once the property of the famous Bacon family. This collection, which has been in England, has been purchased for the University of Chicago by Martin A. Ryerson of this city.
In the middle of the sixteenth century Sir Nicholas Bacon, afterwards Lord Keeper of the Great Seal under Queen Elizabeth, acquired a large estate surrounding the hunting lodge of the Abbot of Bury St. Edmunds, which had been in the possession of the monastery since before the conquest. He received the deeds, charters, manor rolls and other documents connected with the property. His eldest son, Nicholas, who was a half brother of Lord Francis Bacon, acquired by marriage additional landed property and the documents relating to it. The collection was further increased until the end of the seventeenth century, when the properties passed into the hands of Sir Francis Bacon, father of Lord Chief Justice Holt.

Unemployed Workers in England Show Increase

LONDON, Nov. 5. (AP)—Nearly 11% of workers in Great Britain and Ireland were unemployed on Sept. 28, according to figures published by the Ministry of Labor Gazette. The number of applicants for employment registered.

HAVE KIDNEYS EXAMINED BY YOUR DOCTOR

Take Salts to Wash Kidneys if Back Pains, Urin or Bladder Bothers.

Flush your kidneys by drinking a quart of water each day, also take salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much rich food forms acids which almost paralyze the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you may suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.
To help neutralize these irritating acids, to help cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer irritate, thus often relieving bladder weakness.
Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.—Adv.

Salmon From Many Seas Gather at Lake Ontario

OTTAWA, No. 21. (AP)—Salmon from the seaboard of America live and grow fat in the waters of Lake Ontario and the streams of British Columbia, according to a bulletin issued by the Canadian Department of Marine and Fisheries announcing success of a six year experiment. Fully matured sockeyes, native to the Pacific Coast, have been taken from Lake Ontario this year and two-year-old Atlantic salmon have been caught in the Pacific coming down the Cawichan river of Vancouver Island.

An average of 200,000 young sockeye have been released in Lake Ontario each year since 1918, and 500,000 Atlantic salmon have been planted in the rivers of British Columbia in the same period.
Last year's Canadian fisheries production was estimated at $42,565,545, with British Columbia having the most extensive salmon resources on the continent, accounting for 50 per cent of the business. Salmon, halibut, lobster and codfish constitute 69 per cent of the Dominion production.

at the employment exchanges had grown from 1,152,000 at the end of August to 1,205,000 on September 29.

The Gazette also records another advance of four points in the cost of living on Oct. 3, the index figures being 76 against 72 on Sept. 1, and 69 on June 1. These figures indicate a percentage advance in prices over the pre-war level.

WHAT TO EAT TO PUT IRON IN YOUR BLOOD AND MAKE YOU STRONG
PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW IRON-CONTAINING VEGETABLES SUCH AS LENTILS, SPINACH, APPLES, ETC. WHEN REGULARLY TAKEN WITH ORGANIC IRON BUILD GREAT STRENGTH AND ENDURANCE

At their own doors—in the very gardens of those who are weak, nervous and ailing all the while is one of the most valuable tonics and strength-builders known to medical science," said a well known New England physician, when consulted recently.
The doctor further said: "If your daily diet contains an abundant amount of iron you are giving your body the red blood food it craves. But if your blood lacks iron and is thin, pale and watery you cannot expect to be strong and well. On the contrary, your nerves become weakened and you become irritable, fussy and easily upset. In such cases, what you need is iron—organic iron—to remove the cause of your trouble and the moment organic iron is supplied it is often wonderful how quickly your multitude of symptoms will disappear and how strong and vigorous you will become." But be careful to distinguish between ordinary metallic iron which people usually take and true organic iron. Metallic iron is iron just as it comes from
