

FELKER WILL HAVE SPECIAL

Director of Cherrian Show Arranges Stunt; Principals are Announced

The Cherrian show which is to be presented at the Grand theater Monday and Tuesday next week, will have one unusual feature. Ray Felker, director, is to appear in a stunt called "Ray and His Little Chevrolet." To make it more interesting a number of pretty girls will appear with him. They are Lucille Pettyjohn, Hattie Brown, Elinor Gould, Edith Brotherton, Margaret Tucker, Nancy Savage, Pauline Monarch and Fay Wasson.

The outstanding event, however, will be the presentation of the "Steamship Susan Nipper." Local talent has been secured to form this cast and they have been working on it during the past months and have it down to perfection. Even the scenery for the play has been produced in Salem by local workmen and it is planned that everything about the production is to be secured here.

The cast is as follows:
Ray Felker, the Irish comedian;
A. A. Gueffroy, captain of the "Susan Nipper"; Lloyd Stratus, bough, steward; Jack Luckner, a young traveler; Dick Barton, com-modore.

The three young ladies who are supposed to be members of a stranded opera company are Melba Davenport, Verna Frunk and Mazyle Hunter.

The evening gowns which will be worn for the presentation of the play are furnished by Madame Buffe of the French shop. The sport suits are furnished by the U. G. Shipley company.

The box office will be open for reservation of seats Friday afternoon from 1 o'clock to 5 o'clock and during the same hours Saturday.

CHURCH BUILDING NEARLY FINISHED

New Christian Science Temple in Salem Will Be Ready for Occupancy Soon

The new Christian Science church building at the corner of Chemeketa and Liberty streets is in the final stages of completion, and will be ready for occupancy by December 15. Painting of the structure both inside and out is now being done, and when the job is finished Salem will have another fine church building—one of the finest of its kind in this section of the country.

The new temple is of the Greek Doric style of architecture, and is modelled after the old mosk sanctuaries. Six huge pillars guard the front entrance, and four more grace the entrance on the west side. Rising above the pillars is the low, broad dome, which gives the building a distinctive and attractive appearance. The outside finish is of white oriental stucco.

Auditorium on Second Floor.
The main auditorium is on the second floor and is capable of seating 600 people. Light is obtained through a cove lighting system carefully concealed. The eye of the dome assists in the ventilation and the air is evenly distributed by a force process. Amber colored glass in the many large small-paned windows adds to the general effect. Sloping floors make an ideal seating arrangement. Behind the pulpit will be placed the new specially made $5,000 Gunther pipe organ which is being completed in Portland. Two rooms for readers and musicians are located back of the stage.

Foyer Large.
The large roomy foyer is the principal room on the lower or basement floor. This chamber will be used as a Sunday school meeting place. Three class rooms adjoin the foyer, and there is one additional room which will probably be used for checking purposes. Evenly distributed hot water heat is provided from two furnaces.

Resembles Portland Church.
The new structure, which closely resembles the First Christian Science church building in Portland, is one of the most complete in the state, and will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000. Construction work is being done by Wenger Brothers, contractors, and Buedler Brothers have charge of the painting.

OWNER NOT GUEST.
VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 25.—J. Downes, local hotel owner, was fined $75 today when the court ruled he could not be a guest in his own hotel. The court said the law provides that no liquor can be kept in any room of a hotel other than in regular guest rooms.

Those who think there are no miracle workers, nowadays, are asked to explain how so many men are able to buy expensive automobiles.

WILL ATTEMPT TO PASS SALARY BILL

Increase of Wages for Postal Workers to Be Urged at Next Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—Senator Edge, republican, New Jersey author of the Postal Salary increase bill which was vetoed by President Coolidge, plans to bring the measure before congress at the approaching session in an effort to get it passed over the executive's veto.

Some of the administration leaders are known to favor redrafting the bill to conform to President Coolidge's wishes and putting it through as a compromise measure. The New Jersey senator is understood to be opposed to such a proposal and it is expected a demand for a show-down on the bill early in the short session.

The measure would give an annual salary increase of approximately $300 each to the 300,000 employes in the postal field service and calls for an appropriation of $63,000,000. The bill passed the senate at the last session by a vote of 73 to 3 with 20 not voting. If these lines were held it would be re-passed easily over the president's veto, but the results of the latest election and other considerations, it is pointed out might cause some of the senators to shift their position.

Wait Until You Fall in Love—

He was the kind of a little guy who said love was the bunk and marriage a delusion! Every time a friend slithered down the aisle for the "I do" stuff he'd guffaw all over the place and extend his sympathy! Nothing tickled him so much as to taunt his married friends with his precious freedom. "Uh-huh," his friends would say, "We've heard that before, but wait until it hits you." And he'd reply, with a superior air, "yeh—wait."

That's the kind of a duck he was—impregnable, unafraid! He was a walking challenge to women! He dared 'em to "make" him! He twenked Cupid's nose and called him a fraud! Oh, he was a nerry, cock-sure little cuss!

Then—retribution!

It came on him like a ton of brick! He found himself, one merry day, gazing into a pair of blue eyes—azure blue, soft, and warm, and marvelous! Eyes of the bluest blue that crashed into his heart with the havoce of a fourteen inch shell! It was all off! Just like that!

And what those eyes did to him; Sweet cats! His friends shrieked with laughter until their ribs cracked! They slapped each other on the back and roared! Hot dog! The wise pelican was in hot water!

There's a role for Harold Lloyd. Never has he had such a part! Never has he been so screamingly funny! Here is a carnival of comedy in which—LLOYD HAS OUTLLOYDED HIMSELF!
