PEACE AND TRUTH:—Thus saith the Lord, Call unto me, and I will answer thee, and show thee great and mighty things which thou knowest not. . . . Behold, I will bring it health and cure, and I will cure them, and will reveal unto them the abundance of peace and truth. Jeremiah 33:2, 3, 6.

PRAYER:—We would seek Thee, O Lord, and trust Thee for Thy loving kindness is better than life.

SALEM'S FIRE INSURANCE RATES

The report of the underwriters on the conditions of Salem as regards liability to fire are regarded by the knowing ones here as in the nature of an alibi.

An excuse for refusing to allow a reduction of the fire insurance rates in Salem.

There is every reason why the rates should be reduced, because Salem is the safest city on this coast for the operations of the fire insurance companies.

Salem has never had a destructive fire, and her dangers in that respect contrasted with many cities with no higher insurance rates than ours are comparatively negligible.

For Salem is the only city of her size on this coast having a full night and day fire fighting force on guard all the time, and with ample and up to date equipment.

Ready and anxious at any moment to respond to the call of duty.

Salem has wide streets and many shade trees, which are both factors in favor of safety from destructive fires.

Here is the way the managers of the insurance companies plan to "soak" Salem: They see that Salem is a safe city, little liable to have destructive fires, and therefore by maintaining rates here they have a chance to make our owners of property carry part of the risk of losses in cities less favorably situated.

And this is unjust to Salem.

Our city should be put in a class with cities that are near Salem in fire risks and the rates made accordingly. Cities with greater fire risks ought to be put into another class.

It is pretty well understood that the rates are now too high in Salem, compared with cities approaching ours in fire safety, and the matter ought to be reopened, and kept open until a lowering of rates here shall have been accomplished.

Voluntary subscriptions are coming in, to the proposed Miles twine company. Two came in early yesterday, each for $1000, by G. E. Ross and V. E. Kuhn, and others were expected later in the day, and still others are considering subscribing. With a little effort, the balance will be subscribed. This should be done quickly. The matter ought not to be left over the week. If some who are hesitating continue for long to delay, they will perhaps be too late to become stockholders of the pioneer linen mill of Salem, probably growing into one of the gigantic concerns of the kind in the world.

There is to be another cannery in operation in Salem during the next season, running on fruits and vegetables. There may be others, and there are prospects of some big developments in this line here. Our growers will do their part, in every line. The big thing from now on is manufacturing and marketing.

NO FLAPPERS?

Of all places where you expect to hear the flapper defended the WCTU would be the last, and yet a speaker before such a convention in Chicago boldly declared there was no such thing as a flapper, and that the chick, so much exploited on the silver screen, has no counterpart in real life. Both are artificial types and both are more disgusting than they are alluring.

It has been our contention always that the young girls of today were being seriously misrepresented and their independence of character will not permit them to defend themselves, but flippantly say, "What are you going to do about it?" That has caused a lot of trouble. There are not many bad girls today. There are more good girls now than at any time in the history of the world, but we have formed the habit of depicting their flapperish tendencies and lamenting that the sheiks were devastating the girlhood of the world. There is mighty little to it. There never was.

The speaker in Chicago was Dr. Velerish Parker, a New York woman, who sees nothing seriously wrong with the boys and girls in their teen age. She is not blind to existing conditions, but she believes the current vogue of home-breaking and home-wrecking will be followed by a period of home-building.

"American boys and girls, like the great majority of the citizens of this country," she says, "are clean living and law abiding. The present period of broken homes will be followed by home building. That is the fundamental doctrine of a happy and intelligent living, a real home."

The older generation sees a few of the frivolous young things romping in the spotlight and concludes that the present generation is going to the dogs. Dr. Parker does not agree with this pessimistic viewpoint. She has faith in the boys and girls.

To a considerable extent the young people are thrown on their own resources to face new temptations as best they can. The lack of home life, due to divorce laws that are too free and easy, and the separation of parents are combining to open the way to waywardness to the children of such homes. It is reassuring to have an authority like Dr. Parker take a more optimistic view of things. The present generation is not going to the dogs.

LITTLE CHANCE

Ideally speaking the soviet of Russia ought to be recognized, but the experience of England will hardly justify such a course. There are those who believe that the arrogance and presumption of the soviet government had a good deal to do with the fall of the labor party in England. Premier MacDonald was in favor of recognition and negotiated a treaty. Before this could be ratified by parliament Premier MacDonald discovered that the Russians were carrying on an intrigue which meant the overthrow of the English government.

Now, as a matter of fact the English labor people are like the American labor people, and patriotic labor in England thought the soviet ought to be recognized, but when it came to the point that recognition meant to carry on a propaganda in England, labor turned against the soviet. MacDonald, of course, exposed the letter as a shameful act of deception but it was too late then. At once the Russian letter was declared a forgery and an apology was demanded. Now the resourceful conservative ministry having made a careful investigation finds that the letter was authentic and will have nothing to do with ratifying the treaty. It all shows how little faith can be put in the protestations of the Russian soviet. They are a bad lot.

The manifesto and governing rules of the communist international, adopted at Moscow in 1919 and reaffirmed annually, were signed by Zinovieff, Lenin, Trotsky and other soviet leaders. To quote the manifesto: "It speaks the plain, clear language of the revolutionary communist proletariat. It will assist the socialist movement everywhere into the path of uncompromising revolutionary acts that alone can usher in the triumph of international socialism."

At another points it calls for "the disarming of the bourgeoisie at the proper time, the arming of the laborers and the formation of a communist army," and affirms that "such is the red army of soviet Russia."

The London disclosures and the righteous stand taken by the British government are of direct interest to the United States, for several senators have been demanding that we extend the right hand of fellowship to the bloody hand of the soviet government.

READING THEM OUT

The proposition to read the progressives out of the republican party is brutal from a political standpoint. It is suicidal also. If the progressives of the republican party are punished there are a great many progressives in the party now who will not remain there. They don't know when their turn will come, and the uncertainty will be used as an excuse to get out. Of course, if the insurgents continue to maintain their insurgency and defy the republicans, that's one thing, but if they bow to the inevitable, if they show themselves to be willing to continue republicans, that's still another thing. The republican party has no business driving anyone out. It should rather coax men into the party.

One thing we must recognize right now and that is that Coolidge was not elected entirely by republican votes. There are not as many republicans in this country as the vote for Coolidge represented. He got hundreds of thousands, even millions, of progressive and democratic votes. The biggest thing in the election in behalf of Coolidge was the court issue furnished by La Follette. President Coolidge owes La Follette a good deal for that vote. Of course, if La Follette is going out of the republican party, that's one thing, but if he and Brookhart, and Frazier, and men like that continue to want to be republican and to conform to the republican ideals, it would be suicidal and the height of folly to deny them republican membership.

BROOKHART GETS CERTIFICATE

Senator Brookhart of Iowa won the election by 755 votes and has been awarded the certificate of election. It would be a great pity if the senate should use its authority arbitrarily and seat the democratic candidate. We insist that a 755 majority is just as sacred as that many thousands, and it isn't fair to call into suspicion the integrity of our election for political purposes.

Senator Brookhart has not performed just right, of course, but the people of Iowa by a small majority have decided they wanted him for senator. The best way to do is to try to make him be good.

DEHORNING PIERCE

When the Oregon Statesman raised a protest against the effort to dehorn Governor Pierce, the response so far exceeded expectations that it rather took us off our feet. There is still some talk hanging around the eaves that Pierce will be punished, but it isn't going to get anywhere.

Listen! The greatest democratic successes in American politics have followed the greatest republican victories. Look up your history and you will find that true.

A man brought a carload of beef cattle to Portland the other day and didn't get a very good price. He didn't blame the government; he blamed himself. He said that a man who would bring beef to market at turkey time had a punishment coming to him.

We work hard to teach a baby to talk and then he has to struggle all the rest of his life to learn not to talk.

New Wrinkle-Removing Method Acts Like Magic

Will wonders never cease? The latest is a home method to remove wrinkles, freckles and blemishes from the face, while you wait. . . . Remarkably effective, entirely harmless, simple, inexpensive, it bids fair to supersede cosmetics, make-up, massage and all other things used for the purpose. All you need do is to mix a spoonful of powdered tartaroc with a spoonful of lemon juice, apply the soothing, creamy mixture to your face—then go to the mirror and behold a most wonderful transformation. Wrinkles, creases, furrows and bags actually disappear before your very eyes! Your face becomes remarkably young looking. You are perfectly amazed. And you are delighted to find no unfavorable after-effect whatever. . . . Tartaroc is very helpful in the complexion. It is not a cosmetic because it is to be washed off after doing its work, leaving nothing artificial. An original package from the druggist costs less than a cent's treatment.—Adv.

This week's the Week for Raisins
To put iron in the blood;
Next week's the Week for Beauty
Toilet waters, rouge, and mud;
Then comes the Week for Pickles,
Sour, mustard, sweet, and dill,
And after that attorneys talk
A week about your Will.

We have to listen for a week
About the worth of cheese;
The doctors take a week to tell
Just when and how to sneeze;
The laundries shout for seven days
"Come see us wash your clothes!"
That's followed by a wonder week
Of showing ladies' hose.

'Tis this the propaganda goes,
A week for this and that,
A week to use the Golden Rule,
A week reducing fat;
To add to all the ones we have
May truly seem like cheek,
But just the same let's have one more—
Let's have a LAY-OFF WEEK!

Second Trial Flight Is Completed By Dirigible

LAKEHURST, N. J., Nov. 25.—Successfully completing her first flight since the epoch-making trans-Atlantic journey, which brought her from Germany, the land of her construction, the newly christened naval dirigible Los Angeles tonight proudly took her place in the big hangar alongside the sister ship Shenandoah as an American craft.

The ship was sighted at 7:33, but did not come to earth until 9:12, because of unfavorable winds. At 9:38 the ground crew had hauled the ship into the hangar.

EDITORIALS OF THE PEOPLE

MR. JAQUET OBJECTS

Editor Statesman:
In the last issue of the Silverton Appeal it was said "Division of Marion County a Possibility." The writer would like to make a few remarks about the impossibility of dividing the county. It was said that the county is so large that it should be divided, if you would cut that we have only about 27 townships, the way it was proposed to divide, the Salem district would have only about 10 townships. The matter of fact is that Marion county is one of the smallest counties in the valley. It looks to the writer that it would be very unwise to make a division of the county.

What the farmer wants is tax-reduction. Now in the name of common sense, where are we going to get relief on our taxes if we have to build a new court house at Silverton and elect a new set of officers. Some time ago I heard of a farmer near Victor Point who has paid $8.00 taxes on his farm years ago, today the taxes on the same farm are about $300.00. Please figure out what per cent the taxes have raised on that certain farm.

Here's another point I wish to bring out. In the last 10 years the farmers around Silverton have spent about $300,000 for good roads and it will probably take another $200,000 to have all of our roads in good shape. Of course that money is well invested, but where would we get a benefit by having the
