TREASURE ISLAND is the evening performance for "Children from 6 to 10," as Mr. Sarg so aptly phrases it, but because a good many children between those ages will be tucked away at that time, Mr. Sarg has also prepared a special afternoon Marionette show for the "early-to-bedders." The Pied Piper of Hamelin is the feature of the matinee, which will be presented at the armory so as to allow children to attend without too great interference with their school sessions. Other shorter novelties will be offered on the same program with The Pied Piper.

Mr. Sarg has gathered together a company of puppeteers which excels any he has ever had in the past. In addition to the technical requirements of handling the puppets, each member of the present company had to show a remarkably good voice, special dramatic instinct, a singing voice of pleasing quality, and the ability to play one or more musical instruments. There is hardly a moment throughout The Pied Piper when there is no music accompaniment, and the Pirates Chorus of Treasure Island is declared to be the finest thing of its sort ever attempted.

Although there will be no run, there will be much "Yo, Ho!" and, we fear, several "Dead Men's Chests."

Long John Silver, and his parrot little Jim, and all the famous pirate band created by Robert Louis Stevenson will be in town on Saturday, Dec. 6, at the armory where they are to be presented under the auspices of Salem W. Club. Tony Sarg announced three years ago that he was working on Treasure Island to follow his earlier Marionette successes of Rip Van Winkle, Don Quixote, and others which have toured the country for the past five seasons.

Treasure Island includes scenes at the Inn before the adventure really got under way, another of the usual confusion at the docks before any properly maritime expedition can set forth, a lively disagreement on board the pirate ship, a beautiful setting in the woods, a fight near the stockade, the pirate ship at sea in a severe storm while a fight on board prevents any exhibition of seamanship, and two final scenes on the island, the last giving Mr. Sarg unusual opportunity for the display of his showmanship in lighting and scenic effect as well as dramatic action.

The birthday of Miss Elsie Hop Lee was the occasion for a delightfully appointed formal birthday party at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday when she entertained at the Colonial Dame Tea Shoppe. Seasonal fruits and flowers were used on the table. Miss Josephine Bross favored the group with musical numbers.

Clever place cards marked covers for: Miss Elaine Clower, Miss Josephine Bross, Miss Ruth Ross, Miss Helen Gaska, Miss Olive Tomlinson, Miss Mildred Tomlinson, Miss Frances Hodges, Miss Ella Hop Lee, Miss Helen Pettyjohn, and Miss Elsie Hop Lee.

Miss Lena Belle Tartar spent the Thanksgiving holiday in Corvallis as the guest of her parents.

The Salem Music Teachers' association will meet on the third Monday of December, instead of on Monday of next week when Professor and Mrs. T. S. Roberts will entertain the members. An instrumental program will be given at this time by Stephen Whiteford, a Portland pianist who is a protege of the Portland Lions' club.

Among the Thanksgiving Day weddings was that yesterday at the home of Rev. Ralph D. Bullock at which Miss Dorothy Shearer became the bride of Mr. Tony Solomon. Mr. Bullock officiating. A bountiful wedding dinner followed the impressive ceremony. Those witnessing the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Shearer, parents of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. F. Solomon, parents of the bridegroom, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sannetel, sister and brother-in-law of the groom, Mrs. M. F. Taylor, and Mrs. Bullock. Mrs. Bullock also being a sister of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Solomon will make their home in Gladstone. Mr. Solomon is an employee of the Oregon City Woolen mills.

Miss Margaret Stols is spending the Thanksgiving holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Stols. Miss Stols, a student at the University of Oregon, is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

"The deepest meaning of society is patriotic service," Mrs. Seymour Jones of Salem, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, declared in her talk at her annual visit to Multnomah chapter, yesterday at the University club. Mrs. Fletcher Linn, chapter regent, presided. Mrs. Jones spoke of the different activities of the DAR, stressing women's citizenship duties and the need of studying the constitution and historic events of the nation. She urged the importance of Americanization work in all branches.

An Americanization day programme was given by the chapter. Mrs. Ellis F. Lawrence and Miss Catherine Bradshaw spoke on the work. Mrs. May Dearborn Schwab sang appropriate songs, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. Anrella McGuire Stoltz. Folk songs and dances by a group of Russian children and an oration on the constitution by Helen Turkenish were also included.

Hostesses at the tea which followed were Mrs. Peter Mardesen and Mrs. Earl Bronough Jr. Presiding at the tea table were Mesdames James F. Failing, J. Thorburn Ross, T. C. Taylor and E. T. Tallmadge. They were assisted in serving by Mrs. David T. Mason, Miss Henrietta Failing, Mrs. Mildred Schmeer, Miss Ethel May Handy and Mrs. Clyde E. Lewis. Mrs. Lewis was chairman of the day's programme.

Mrs. Kate Stevens Bates of Olympia, member of Knickerbocker chapter, New York, an honorary member of Sacajawea chapter, Olympia, was a guest at the meeting. She is a daughter of Isaac Ingalls Stevens, first governor of Washington territory—Oregonian.

Among the Thanksgiving day callers yesterday at the home of Mrs. P. W. Brown were Miss Barbara Riesen of Hillsboro, Mrs. Charles Newburgh of Eugene, Floyd Kestor of Silverton and Clifford Arthur of Eugene.

One of the joyous homecoming and Thanksgiving day festivities in Salem yesterday was that at the home of Mrs. E. S. Tyler, 1587 North Winter street. Twenty-eight children and grandchildren gathered at the old home to pay homage and express their thanks in various ways, not the least of which was the feast of good things enjoyed in the afternoon, followed by a family program and visiting. Coming from San Jose, Cal., for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Tyler and family of Willamina, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Reaney and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Tyler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott and family, all of Salem; Dr. and Mrs. Samuel Tyler and family of Portland; Misses Grace and Inez Tyler and Vernon Tyler of Salem.

Informal dancing will be the motif for a number of week-end affairs tomorrow evening from 9 to 12 at the Gray Belle. It is the Gray Belle's custom during the holiday months to offer dancing Saturday evenings. The Oregonians will play for tomorrow's evening guests.
