The Oregon Statesman

Issued Daily Except Monday by THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING COMPANY 215 South Commercial St., Salem, Oregon

Manager Job Dept

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein.

BUSINESS OFFICE: Thomas F. Clark Co., New York, 141-145 West 86th St.,; Chicago, Marquette Build ing, W. S. Grothwahl, Mgr. (Portland Office, 836 Worcester Bidg., Phone 6637 BRoadway, C. F. Williams, Mgr.)

Circulation Office Society Editor . 583 Job Department

Entered at the Postoffice in Salem, Oregon, as second-class matter

Prepared by Radio BIBLE SERVICE Bureau, Cincinnati, Ohio. If parents will have their children memorize the daily Bible selec tions, it will prove a priceless heritage to them in after years.

NOVEMBER 28, 1924

GOD WILL PROVIDE: - Take no thought saying. What shall we eat? or, What shall we drink? or, Where-withal shall we be cloth-But seek ye first the kingdom of God, and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you. Matthew 5:31, 33. PRAYER: - O Lord, we would live by faith and not by sight for Thou hast given us Jesus Christ, and with Him Thou wilt also freely give us all things.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS, THE GOOD NEW DAYS

Three hundred and three years ago the Pilgrim Fathers celebrated the first American Thanksgiving-

And it was different only in time and setting from the one celebrated in Salem and throughout the United States yesterday. The spirit was the same-Those were the good old days on the bleak New England coast. These are the good new days in a far flung republic with wonderful opportunities and advantages and comparatively greater creature comforts.

Thanksgiving is the oldest, as it is the most purely American, of our national feast days. It is destined to last as long as the Stars and Stripes float over the homes of a grateful

But are we preserving the spirit of the day? Does it mean as much as it did to our Puritan forefathers? The best way to answer that question is to discover exactly what that spirit was? And the only way to do that is to go back to the records of the first Thanksgiving celebration.

The first winter at Plymouth was a hard one for the Mayflower colonists. More than half their number died. They lost neither faith nor hope, however. Next spring they sowed corn, wheat and barley and were rewarded with ar abundant harvest. In the fall of 1621 they held their first Thanksgiving feast.

Edward Winslow described that original festival in a let ter to England, which has been preserved, of which the fol lowing is a part: "Our harvest being gotten in, our Governor sent four men on fowling, so that we might after a more special man ner rejoice together, after we had gathered the fruits of our labours; they foure in one day killed as much fowle, as with a little help beside, served the company almost a week, a which time amongst other recreations, we exercised our Armies, many of the Indeans coming amongst us, and among the rest their great king, Massasoyt, with some ninetic men whom for three days we entertained and feasted and they went out and killed five Deere which they bestowed on our Governor and upon the captain, Myles Standish, and others.'

From this authentic account of the first Thanksgiving we gather that recreation and feasting were the features of the day. The colonists were hospitable, they called in the Indians; they hunted deer and fowl and had a gorgeous threeday feed; it was also an occasion for sports and competitions they exercised their arms. They probably had a shooting match. They may have pitched horseshoes. Evidently they were animated by the twin spirits of ptimism and hospitality. Happiness is gregarious. Joy was born twins. (And feeding ninety Indians for three days must have been some feed, as could be amply proved by some Salem pioneer grandmothers still in the flesh who remember the last Indians at their back doors on Thanksgiving days here; the very last one, "Old Quinaby," for whom the Oregon Electric station was named, having died from his last Thanks-giving feed, from the sheer over loading of his capacious stomach—a wonderful tribute to the culinary talents of these to die some day.) After 300 years has that spirit changed? Are not primism and hospitality now firmly established as the lead-

same grandmothers; for Quinaby died happy, and he had ing American characteristics? Moreover, allowing for the stupendous changes wrought in our civilization by a tercentenary of progress, is not the uman nature behind the Thanksgiving of 1924 much the same as the human nature behind the Thanksgiving of 1621? The miracle of the loaves and fishes has repeated itself. The five deer and the few small fowl have multiplied into the tons of turkeys and beeves and chickens and cranberries and mince pies that today feed the multitudinous American.

Athletic sports and motor races are the same "exercising of arms" indulged in by the first Pilgrims. We have no In- had long existed prior to the dians-or not a sufficient number of them in most of our world war. communities—to call in as chief participants of our modern ounty. But we have poor in our almshouses and crippled children and unfortunates pressed by want and the aged and infirm in county institutions and prisoners in our jails; and these the nation never forgets to include in our feast of gratitude to the Giver of all good things.

We are too apt to belittle the present in comparison with the past and to believe our Pilgrim ancestors possessed virtues that we have lost today. If we study the authentic documents of those far off times instead of being led by the myths and romances that have grown around them we shall find our men and women in 1924 are as religious, as brave, as optimistic, as self helpful, as hospitable and as human as were the first grateful Americans of 1621, exercising their arms, enjoying their first successful harvest and hobnobbing with the wild aborigines.

The Thanksgiving days that followed the first by the Pilgrim Fathers were not fixed. They might be early or late, Britain is secretary general of the and some lean years they were omitted. The last Thursday league. in November has been generally observed since the time of Abraham Lincoln. But Oregon had a chief executive, Governor Pennoyer, in the nineties, who held that the fourth Thursday was the correct date; and so we had two celebrations. That would have been appropriate this year, had this been a November with five Thursdays, since the wonderful outcome of the recent elections. But there are some Oregon ple who will read this and be doubtful if a second feed like that of yesterday would be conducive to their health.

THE DAY AFTER

poses and adjust themselves to When the Plymouth Fathers landed on the famous rock they raised and starvation no longer total tounage passing through the service which would mean a little partial tounage passing through the service which would mean a little boxes—any drugstore.—Adv.

meat in abundance. The hunters cific ports and vice versa. took their guns and went out into the woods and killed wild turkeys have been associated with Thanksand it has come to be more of a day of prayer. This is not so bad, either.

we celebrate by treating our stomach to a right good potion of turchanberry sauce as a garnish? Why shouldn't we drink sweet cider on that day?

But that was yesterday. The day after is stale. Somebody has said that nothing was more insipid than turkey the day after Thanksgiving. This isn't true. This may be true with a few of the gormands, but it is not true of the average man. There is not a family in the country that had turkey yesterday that does not have the remains today if that family is thrifty. Soup and the pickings the next day are mighty inviting, and we do not like the idea of cultivating a tendency to throw the unused remnants away. We need to be economical, and we need at the same time to get the good out of the turkey and turkey soup is nearly as good as he turkey itself.

However, we have started on another year and it looks like good time-sunshine and rain in abundance has made the fruit prospects unsurpassed. Oregon is prepared to go on a boom. Before another Thanksgiving a linen mill will be running in Salem. We have reason to believe there will be a beet sugar factory here by that time also, and with our other progress it is going to be a great year we have the legislature to ook forward to. It means a poarding house boom for all of hese men to come here. They have to eat and none of them use heir credit.

So, take it all together, it looks retty good for Salem, pretty good or Oregon, pretty good for the Inited States, and we are happy o say better for the world than it ias for some years.

HAS IT FAILED?

The recent World war was brought on by the assassination of in Austrian duke, a trivial affair. which shows how eagerly a preover, has just given an exhibition that jars the league of nations, offending.

away with it because there is no nities and be humiliated in every way it is asked to.

A great war resulted from the league of nations, which many people have hoped would be the instrument for the ending of all years they can win. This is a and I obediently crossed the room war, but England, the moment it time for republicans to hold their to Tom Chester's side. suits her whim or purpose, takes heads and count the cost of read- A Smiling Rebu ke. direct action, leaving the league ing any man out of the party who of nations standing out on a limb, powerless, and not even consulted. Egypt will make its peace with Great Britain as best it can, for it is too weak to fight out the issue alone, and the penalty of rejection of the British demands would be British re-occupation of Egypt and reversion of the Egyptian government to the dependent status that

And, meanwhile, what about the league of nations and article 11 of the covenant?

Article XI. Any war or threat of war, whether immediately affecting any of the members of the league or not, is hereby declared a matter of concern to the whole league, and the league shall take any action that may be deemed wise and effectual to safeguard the peace of nations. In case any such emergency should arise, the secretary general shall, on the request of any member of the league, forthwith summon a meeting of the council.

Sir Eric Drummond of Great

INTERNATIONAL GATEWAY

than vindicated itself, and it be- rivers and harbors bills, and adcomes increasingly important as dress ourselves generally to econthe business interests of the coun- omy. In state affairs the only try grow. James J. Hill, the em- way to reduce taxes is to spend pire builder, was one of the first less. It is not enough to get a who saw the uses of the canal.

Canal Record of October 29 which easy to have too much service, and shows the destination of all the that is what we have been getting ind all such distress gone by new conditions. At the end of the tonnage passing through in Sep- in Oregon and the United States, morning. Nicest laxative and and ever since that time turkeys Of that total, 687,710 tons origin- the same complaint made against giving, as it was thanksgiving day United States. Nearly one-half of cause it was unreasonable. The day of feasting than it has of a through the canal in September reasonable. In the first place a to send one of the men for this. Why shouldn't we feast after a to that is added 82,924 tons for home. In the next place the trees year of abundance? Why shouldn't the west coast of Canada, it is can be easily planted for that purkey? Why shouldn't we have to California, Oregon, Washington sentimentality that is not justified guarding our friend."

and British Columbia. The total eastbound movement sition. through the canal in September was 986,076 tons. Of that considerably more than half, namely 570,318 tons went from the west coast to Canada.

This large business indicates that the canal serves a real purpose, but despite all the noise it has no bearing on the rivers and harbors appropriations which it is thought to vindicate. The canal is one thing; dumping money into the inland rivers and harbors is quite another thing.

FOREST CONSERVATION

It is a fact that we took our conservation ideas too far a few rears ago. It is also lamentably true that the reaction swung too far the other way. What is needed we were going to have a mighty is to have the public feel a responsibility. Forest fires are the result of carelessness, but the hing we wish to mention now is the planting of trees, reforestation. The trees all over the northwest are going to be cut down. are being cut down very fast, and here must be some plan devised to start new trees growing. Nature's reforestation is slow and year for Salem and a great year unsatisfactory. The work to be

The man who satisfies his conscience when challenged as to his conservation work by replying, "I only go after worms in rotten rees. Our consciences are entirely oo easily satisfied when it comes We need to quicken them and to there for it." orests and placing trees

WHAT SHALL BE DONE?

There is a good deal of agiation now and the hot-heads are nsisting on reading the progresives out of the republican party. ext was wanted. England, how- It is true some of our most conspicuous leaders were absent without leave. Under military rules and the friends of the league will they might be cashiered and discian nodded a curt assent, and be mighty sorry to see that Eng- missed from the services of the 'and is the nation that does the party, but this it not a military to her, and bent to her perturbed country. This is a country of whisper. There was assassination in both | moral suasion and the course of cases. England will probably get wisdom is to conciliate and bring these recalcitrant voters great power back of her to support back. It is estimated that two Egypt. That country must get million of the votes received by down on its knees, pay its indem- La Follette were republican votes. when he had been a guest at our To drive him and his followers out of the party would sound the doom of the republican party. The for our hospitality. assassination of the Austrian arch democratic party has always a if we drive two million voters to the democratic party in ordinary does not voluntarily go.

NEVER A TERRITORY

A subscriber called The Statestory. The question was referred to the floor. to the state librarian, and according to the best records in that he flushed painfully. "Here!" office it was not. The United States came into possession of government, although it was ir-

In 1849 a convention was held to decide whether to ask for territorial or state government. The made for admission to the union, upon his lips. Congress adjourned, however, without taking action, and it was not until Sept. 9, 1850, that California was admitted to the union. There does not seem to be any record of the territorial form of government having been put into operation at any time.

There is just one way to cut government costs and that is to lessen the number of offices, lessen the number of employes and insist on full hours for those who The Panama canal has more do work; cut off graft, like the dollar's worth of service for a dol-We have before us the Panama lar's worth of expenditure. It is cided to have a celebration. To coast traffic, ships bearing car- President Coolidge deprecates said airily. "Mrs. Underwood, you celebrate it was necessary to have goes from the Atlantic to the Pa- the use of Christmas trees. He ought to paint it. Call it "First meat in abundance. The hunters cific ports and vice versa is wrong in this. Christmas trees The total Pacific-bound tonnage should be grown as a business. for Smith?" in September was 990,197 tons. There was a time when there was ated on the east coast of the baby beef, but it died down bethe westbound tonnage passing Christmas tree opposition is unwas for the west coast of the cedar can function no better than United States-478,321 tons. If to bring Christmas cheer to a seen that much more than half pose and not allowed to grow over of the west-bound tonnage came four or five years old. It is a hall. The other is with the chief, by the fact that causes its oppo-

> They are good advertisersthese show people. In Kansas City where the income publication list coast of the United States, and is being investigated, an actress 95,316 tons went from the west brought the action on getting the

Adele Garrison's New Phase of REVELATIONS OF A WIFE Copyright 1921, by Newspaper

CHAPTER 320

Feature Service, Inc.

THE DECISION ALLEN DRAKE FORCED LILLIAN TO MAKE

With fingers deft and speedy, Lillian helped me prepare the sandwiches for which Allen Drake had asked. Then I poured the coffee intended for Smith into a vacuum bottle and put it and the sandwiches, wrapped in a napkin, on a tray.

"There," I said in a tone which I am afraid registered distaste for

"I know," Lillian said sympathetically. "It is a pill to prepare for Oregon. Then during the next | done right must be done by men. food and drink for that beast out there. You'd much rather brew him some nice poison like that with which he tried to kill you. But it's in a good cause, my dear, have shot woodpeckers" does not and you've done it beautifully. know apparently that woodpeckers Now for this coffee tray. Coffee pot-hot water pot-cream-suar-cups and saucers-spoons. There-that's correct. I'll take it. Better bring the other to the o the destruction of our forests. library, too. Allen will come back

> Tom Chester, in an armchair ing it. drawing up close to the blaze, was making a manful effort to sit upright, though he was shivering Salem Chamber of Commerce to violently. "Coffee, now. Doctor?" Lillian was asking as I came into the room, and set Smith's tray on a stand in the corner ready for Allen Drake's demand. The physi-Lillian gave me a silent SOS above his shoulders. I crossed the room

"How many lumps for young Chester?" I've clean forgotten." "Three," I whispered back with a sudden remembrance of the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our when he had been a guest at our effective pleasure of the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our effective pleasure of the pleasure young Chester and the pleasure of the pleasure young Chester and the pleasure of the pleasure young Chester and the pleasure young Chester and the pleasure young Chester and the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our given and the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our given and the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our given and the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our given and the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our given and the pleasure young Chester had taken in the coffee I invariably served when he had been a guest at our given and the pleasure young chester and the ple home. Without a home, and still ginis. mourning the loss of his mother. he had been pathetically grateful duke. Out of this war came the solid south to depend upon, and them in with a practiced hand, added cream judiciously and handed me the cup. "Make him drink it," she added.

"Here is your coffee, Mr. Chester." I said, and he looked up with a pitiful attempt at a smile.

"Thank you," he answered gratefully, stretching a shaking hand for the cup. I put it into his hands, but kept my own upon man by phone and asked us if it, and it was lucky I did so, for California had ever been a terri- otherwise it would have crashed "Let me steady it for you," !

said in matter-of-fact tones, as I slipped one hand behind his head, for I have often fed Mother California on August 15, 1846, weak, and with the other held the Graham, when she has been very and they had a military form of cup to his lips almost drained of color. He drank gratefully, as a thirsty child might do, but had not finished when Allen Drake came back into the room.

I saw him halt perceptibly in the doorway, then he came forlatter won and application was ward with a sneering little smile

"What a touching tableau!" he

"Cascarets" 10c if Dizzy, Bilious, Constipated

or overacting Sick headache, dizzi-

"Right here," Lillian replied. indicating the smaller tray. In her voice was a waspish accent which told me that she was incensed at Mr. Drake's discourtesy. "I thought you were going

Her tone was a rebuke. It said plainly, "What did you leave Smith for anyway?" That Mr. Drake understood it, I saw by the resentful flush in his eyes, though his voice was cooly nonchalant. "There's one of them in the

He took the tray from Lillian's hand, stepped into the hall and was back again in an instant.

"He Must Go."

"I must be certain of the whole plan before I leave Smith alone to work out his escape," he said. "Who is going to take this young man's place and make sure that his part of the trailing of Smith is done properly?"

"No one." Tom Chester's voice rang out, all his dislike of Allen Drake strengthening his tones 'I am going myself as soon as the doctor dopes me up a bit." Mr. Drake looked at him crit-

"But this is nonsense," he said. "He cannot do anything in his yourself and your city and state commercial department. Miss Hencondition. He'll be sure to make and country, you would better a botch of it. I cannot permit" speak up at once. If you do not, for college at Parkland, Wash. changed his wording quickly. "I must strongly advise against it.' Tom Chester shot an appealing glance at Lillian. She smiled reassuringly at him.

"Thank you for your solicitude, Allen," Lillian cooed maddeningly, "but there is no other way. He must go.

(To Be Continued)

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Are you still thankful? * * *

Or do you feel like the man in the cold gray morning of the day after?

Hector Adams, the florist, concerning whom Ella McMunn wrote yesterday, is the man who grew all the wonderful flowers at the state fair grounds. Is there any one in this part of Oregon who did not admire them?

And talking of Miss McMunn, she will not thank the Bits for Breakfast man for telling this secret about her, which she has kept all her life, and would still keep: Her mother's great grandmother was a Hanks, of the famppreciate the responsibility each | Characteristically, she had tak- ily of Nancy Hanks, who was the ndividual has in preserving the en the heavier tray, and had mother of Abraham Lincoln. So whisked into the hall before I Ella McMunn is a relative of could protest. I followed her Abraham Lincoln; how distant she swiftly and found Dr. Pettit coax- has not taken the trouble to find ing the library fire to life, while out, or if she has she is not tell-

> There is a committee of the see to the selling of the balance

FUTURE DATES

November 27, Thursday-Thanksgiving November 29, Saturday—American War Mothers' bazaar, SP city ticket office. December 1, Monday—Child Welfare speaker, Col. Coulter, Methodist church. December 1 and 2. Annual Cherrian Show, Grand theater. December 1, Monday—Election of officers, Capital Post No. 9, American Legion.

December 2, Tuesday-Annual election

For Railroad SOUTHERN PACIFIC

MOTHER:- Fletcher's Castoria is a pleasant, harmless Substitute for Castor Oil. Paregoric, Teething Drops and Soothing Syrups, especially prepared for Infants in arms and Children all ages.

To avoid imitations, always look for the signature of Chart Proven directions on each package. Physicians everywhere recommend it of the stock in the Miles spinning Dora Henriksen, a graduate of the mill. There is to be no delay. So Silverton high school with the if you want to get in on this in- class of last June, has entered the vestment, promising to be the best Silverton high school again and investment you ever made for both will do post-graduate work in the you are likely to be too late. * * *

traffic in the rear of the Salem vented her from again returning postoffice is taking, right off the reel. Also the idea of having policemen on the busiest down town corners at the rush hours.

Graduate at Silverton Will Take Special Work

SILVERTON, Nov. 27. - (Spe-riksen entered the Lutheran Junlast fall but was taken ill and forced to return to her home. Ill-The idea of having one way ness in the Henriksen family preto school in time to make up lost > Using sand to disperse clouds isn't new. The go-getters have been doing that for centuries.

Men don't work so hard these days. It took six of them to rob cial to The Statesman.) - Miss just one store in Pittsburg.

The Lowest Priced Set on the Market

work.

A 4-Tube Radiola

Four tubes to get big distance on the loudspeaker. Dance to music a thousand miles away! A well-built receiver, improved in tone and performance. Brings in music and voice, clear and undistorted. And outdoes in performance receivers far above its price! RADIOLA III-a including head-phones, Radiola Loudspeaker, and four WD-11 Radiotrons. $100.

You can hear the Eastern Stations with this one

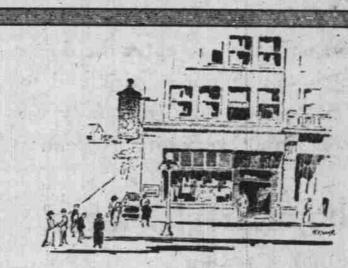

Let us demonstrate it in your home

Neat leather covered carrying case containing set together with all batteries, if desired.

SALEM ELECTRIC CO. F. S. Barton, Prop.

Masonic Temple.

Phone 1200

Thanksgiving Greetings

We wish to express our appreciation at this opportune time for the patronage and loyalty of our many

To you we extend the heartiest of Thanksgiving greetings.

