Eight Investigating Committees Complete Findings for Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 29 .- During the short session of congress beginning December 1, eight special senate investigating committees will be required to submit final reports on their findings. At the last session of congress ten investigations were authorized, and only two of them were completed.

The "diploma mill" inquiry, of concluded hearings and recommended two bills to congress, neither of which has passed. One bill would prohibit the circulation through the mails of "diploma mill" literature and the other would create a council of univer sities and colleges and fix sbtandards for educational institutions in the District of Columbia.

The Veterans Bureau investiga tion was completed by the committee of which Senator Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, was chairman, and the evidence turned over to the courts.

The uncompleted hearings are those dealing with the government oil leases in the Teapot Dome and California fields, administration of the department of justice under former Attorney General Daugherty's charges of fraud in the sale of Texas lands. conduct of the Internal Revenue Bureau, campaign expenditures, the Mayfield election contests, Russian propaganda in the United States, and charges of the use of propaganda to influence legisla-

Further hearings into campaign expenditures will be held shortly after congress convenes. This investigation was authorized under resolution introduced by Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, and the investigation was opened during the last few weeks of the campaign when Senator LaFollette charged the Republicans with using a large "slush fund."

The investigation of the Internal Revenue Bureau was started as the result of a resolution introduced by Senator Couzens. Senator Spencer, Republican, Missouri, chairman of the committee investigating the election of Senator Mayfield, Democrat, Texas, plans to reopen that inquiry after congress assembles. The investigation is the result of a contest brought by George E. B. Peddy, Independent Democrat, who was endorsed by the Republicans in the Texas campaign. Peddy's petition charges that the Texas
