CHANGE

When birds were mating in the hidden trees,
Telling their songs full-throated, without fear,
And blossoms coaxed the vagrant honey bees,
It seemed that Summer would be always here.
But frost is gleaming on the fading flowers;
Chill winds shake rudely each belated leaf;
And wintry shadows lengthen evening's hours;
Ah, Summer, lovely Summer, why so brief?
BLANCHIE M. JONES.

THE CEREMONY uniting in marriage Miss Florence Varley and Mr. Archie W. McKillop was solemnized at 5:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Reverend H. D. Officiating. Only the close friends of the young couple were present. A small dinner party honoring Mr. and Mrs. McKillop, followed at the Colonial Dame Tea Shoppe. Dainty colonial nosegays of violets, roses, and freesias were attractive on the table. The favors were tiny white baskets with wedding bells swinging as pendants from the handles. The place-cards were dainty, veiled bride figures in pastel shades.

Mr. and Mrs. Breyman Boise left yesterday for San Francisco where they will meet Mrs. Frank Snedecor and Mrs. Estes Snedecor, who will return with them after having spent the autumn season in the south. The party expects to return Thursday.

Mrs. A. N. Moores had as her home guest for a part of Thursday and Friday Mrs. R. S. Bean of Portland. Mrs. Bean returned to her home yesterday.

Corvallis, Ore., Dec. 5.—The college orchestra, under the leadership of Mrs. Marguerite MacManus, head of the department of stringed instruments, are finishing final rehearsals for a concert to be presented by the school of music on Sunday, December 7. Byron Arnold, instructor in piano has been selected as the soloist.

on Thursday evening. All officers and teachers of the department were present for the meeting. The superintendent, Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre, is assisted in her work by Stanley Erimel as song director, Miss Adona Cochran as librarian, and Miss Mattie Lou Hill as secretary-treasurer. The teachers include: Miss Eugenia Savage, Miss Eva Tacheron, Miss Millicent King, Mrs. Ada Miller, and Charles Wilson.

Interesting work in the department is done by a group of women known as "class mothers." Among these are: Mrs. B. Blatchford, Mrs. B. L. Steeves, Mrs. Manelia, and Mrs. C. A. Clark. A number of others are to be appointed.

At the meeting Thursday which was held in the Marion Lawrence room plans for the Christmas festivities were made. A pageant in keeping with the season will be held the Sunday before Christmas.

The December "open meeting" of the Salem Arts League will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the Woman's Club house, Mrs. J. M. Clifford, art director of the League, has arranged the program for the evening which will include music both vocal and instrumental, Christmas stories, talks on "Art" and "The Winter Garden," and the reading of an original one-act play. Other arrangements, including the tea and social hour, are under the charge of Mrs. W. F. Fargo.

On the reception committee, of which Mrs. Merrill Ohling is the chairman, will be Gertrude Robinson, Edna Garfield, Grace Elizabeth Smith, Mrs. S. H. Van Trump, Hazel Price, and Mrs. W. C. Dibble.

Mrs. Monroe Gilbert is chairman of a group from the Interior Decorating section who will assist during the evening. Mrs. M. E. Peck and Mrs. J. M. Clifford will preside at the coffee urns. The program arranged for the evening will include: Two songs, "The Last Hour" by Cramer and "Love Like the Dawn" by Cadman, given by Mrs. Martin Pereshetan; Mrs. Monroe Gilbert's talk on "Home" phase of "Art"; two Christmas stories, "The Silver Hen," and "A Legend," told by Lola Cook Bellinger; piano solos, the first of which will be "Liebesleid," by Ruth Bedford; the reading of an original one-act play.

RHONDA MALE CHORUS

THE Rhonda Male Chorus, which will appear at 8 o'clock at the Armory December 17, brings real music with it when it tours a country, and that it captivates the heart of the people needs no other certificate than the fact that the choir on its third tour is receiving a warmer reception than it ever received on its previous tours. The men of Wales have found out that Americans are truly a musical people. The proof of a really musical nature is the shunning of musical trash,

"The Candle," by the author, Gertrude Robinson Ross; a landscape painting, "The Winter Garden" by S. H. Van Trump; and two Christmas songs, "The Christmas Herald" and "Over the Hills of Bethlehem," sung by Mrs. Pereshetan.

Dr. and Mrs. Will J. Thompson and son, Billy, are leaving this morning by motor for southern California. They plan to spend the rest of the winter at Coronado Beach. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Glutsch, the son-in-law and daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thompson are motoring with them as far as San Francisco.

Miss Margaret Livesley, a student at the University of Oregon, is spending the week-end at the home of her parents.

A feature article of particular interest to Salem people who are members of the Phi Kappa Pi house, and their son, Paul Stanton, who formerly lived in Salem, appears in a recent issue of the Oregonian. Mr. Stanton, who is a successful song writer, actor, and playwright, spent his boyhood in Salem, the son of exceptionally well-to-do parents in the community during the period they lived here.

The article dealing with this gifted young man bears the caption, "Prince of Wales' Precursor," by Paul Stanton, Actor and Composer. In a visit to Portland Unmoved by News that Royalty Liked Composition." The gist of the paragraphs bases itself on "a story in a New York paper in which Grace La Rue, comedienne and singer, had stated that among the songs she'd sung for the prince on the boat coming over, that one by Paul Stanton called "Lorelei" and the new "What'll I Do" were his favorites.

When this was related to Mr. Stanton, he gallantly retorted that "the reason the prince picked on my song, if he did, was because Grace La Rue sang it."

"Mr. Stanton is modest," the paragraphs continue, "but there's columns of printed matter of the United States that heap praise upon the histrionic ability of this young Portlander. He was building houses in Chicago when the war broke out and the bottom was all knocked out of this particular line of work. So the young man went to New York to get into a game he'd always loved and itched to be a part of. He hadn't attended dramatic school, so he had nothing to unlearn, and his ambition was matched only by his colossal nerve."

In his own words Mr. Stanton says, "I went right to David Belasco to ask for a job, following out my theory that it's better to aim at a star and miss it than to aim at a lamp post and hit it. I figured if I missed the star, I would always come back and take a shot at the lamp post."

But Mr. Stanton didn't miss his star for, as he admits, to his astonishment, David Belasco engaged him.

His visit home this fall is the first in five years.

Mr. and Mrs. Zadoc Riggs, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Brophy, and Mrs. Jeanette Waller motored to Portland Friday to be guests at "The First Year" showing at the Hellig.

Miss Ruth Field who will sail on January 3 from Seattle to continue her work in India will be the honor guest on Wednesday at the meeting of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church at the home of Mrs. B. L. Steeves. The meeting will be from 2:30 to 5 o'clock with a tea hour following the program. The Christmas offering of the society will be taken at this meeting. Mrs. M. B. Parvot nagian will lead in the lesson from the study-book, "Ming Kwong," while Dwight Findley will tell of his experiences last summer in Japan. The devotions will be held by the honor guest, Miss Field.

The chairman of the tea-committee is Mrs. Charles J. Lisle, with her assistants Mrs. Cecil Hawley, Mrs. N. Savage, Mrs. F. H. Thompson, and Mrs. Leabo.

however cheap it may be, and the patronizing of musical art for art's sake, even though the price be prohibitive. Musical America is loud in its praise over the singing of the men from Wales, not because of any high price they had to pay to hear them, but because the singing of the choir reached the ideal of a genuinely musical people. Hence, the third visit of the choir and the invariable warm reception it has met with so far at every appearance on its present itinerary over our great continent.

were Leland Chapin, house president; Clarence Oliver, vice president; Prof. J. T. Matthews, Prof. and Mrs. C. L. Sherman, and Prof. and Mrs. J. D. McCormick. A floral replica of the "Owl," the fraternity insignia, centered the dining room table. The following assisted in the serving: Miss Hollis Vick, Miss Marie Rosten, Miss Mary Spaulding and Miss Adella White. Numbers by the fraternity orchestra, including in its personnel Victor Carlson, Herbert De Yo, Edwin Johnson, Wendell Balsinger and Glenn Stoneman, were given as the guests were hospitably conducted through the house. Favors of the evening were suggestive of the house colors, lavender and old rose.

At the Alpha Phi Delta house, 840 Union street, guests thronged the rooms between 8 and 9 o'clock. Here they were welcomed by Clare Geddes, president of the house; Richard Briggs, vice president; Prof. and Mrs. Florian Von Eschen, Prof. Roy C. Harding and Clare Ausman. Vocal solos were given during the evening by Leon Jennison, Mrs. Jennison accompanying him. Shannon Hogue played various piano selections. Purple and gold, the fraternity colors, featured in the favors given. Girls assisting in the dining room were Miss Lucia Card, Miss Jeanie Corakie, Miss Mildred McKillop and Miss Helen Arpke.

At the Phi Kappa Pi house, 1020 Center street, those in the receiving line were Prof. and Mrs. Elmo S. White, Prof. Horace Hahnkopf, Prof. and Mrs. Horace Williston, Prof. Ray L. Smith and the senior members of the fraternity, James Reed, George Beck, William McKinney and Paul Sherwood. Assisting in the serving for the evening were Miss Laura Phipps, Miss Ruth Heineck, Miss Anna Howell, Miss Hazel McGorris, Miss Myrtle Rusher and Miss Mary Bradley.

The Epsilon Delta Mu fraternity at 1118 Oak street entertained their callers from 9 to 10 o'clock. In the receiving line were Prof. and Mrs. T. S. Roberts, Prof. and Mrs. E. C. Richards, Paul Roeder, Floyd Bary, Antonio Rowan, Percy

This Rubber-Massage Quickly Reduces Waist and Hips

Madame X Girdle Gives Slimmer Lines Instantly

THE instant you put on this marvelous girdle, you look inches thinner, your body is erect and graceful—and you actually get slimmer before you know it. In a few weeks you will find 3 to 10 inches gone from waist, hips and thighs!

The Madame X Reducing Girdle is made of soft, live rubber (to really grip and give a genuine massage)—the very kind professional athletes have long used to reduce safely. Takes off 1 to 3 inches the first week. Worn over undergarment instead of a corset. Has garters attached. Keeps pores open, gives wonderful support.

Gently massages away fat with every motion you make. Thousands of women who do not need to reduce, wear it because it is so comfortable, strong, to reduce safely. Takes off 1 to 3 inches a day by day as you become more slender. See the Madame X for yourself. Try it on today!

He will play the Mendelssohn "Concerto in G Minor." This being the first orchestra concert this term Prof. Paul Petri, head of the department of music, is looking forward to it as one of the most interesting of the musical events, given by the school of music. The program will be broadcast by station KRZ.—J.

An exhibit of articles from the Orient, and with these articles to be on sale, will open on Tuesday to continue for three days at the Brownell Electric company. This is an unusual exhibit for Salem, and is being placed by Mrs. Ruth B. Wheeler, a personal buyer in the Orient for eastern gift shops.

While in Oregon, Mrs. Wheeler, whose husband, H. G. Wheeler, is engaged in the export and import business in Japan, is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Baldersee in Dallas. Mrs. Wheeler graduated from the University of Oregon with the class of 1910.

The Etokta club will meet Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. C. Arpke, 424 North Nineteenth street for a continued study of the topic, "Americanization."

The supper and business meeting of the Junior Department of the First Methodist Church Sunday school was held at the church
