AT ONE OF THE ATTRACTIVE home weddings of the season Miss Elsie Jensen became the bride of Mr. John S. Fabry, Jr. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Jack Bonney, at 6 o'clock Saturday evening. Reverend George Koehler officiating. The bridal party took their places to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Theresa Koehler. The bride, becomingly gowned in ecru-colored silk crepe carried a lovely shower bouquet of rosebuds and carnations. She was attended by Miss Emma Christensen as maid of honor while the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Albert Fabry. Carnations were used in the pink and white color scheme used in the rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Fabry left immediately after the ceremony for Portland.

Those witnessing the ceremony were: Dr. and Mrs. Jack Fabry, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hillshaker, Miss Andrea Ipsen, Miss Esther Bertelson, Miss Hannah Christensen, Miss Rora Heine, Miss Nena Bonney, Miss Elsie Olsen, and Miss Theresa Koehler.

A Christmas atmosphere pervaded Derby Hall last evening where a throng of members from the Monday night dancing club met for their formal dance—one of the charming affairs of the season. The ball room was decked with evergreen and streamers.

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church met in the church parlors last Friday. A tinsel decorated Christmas tree was the seasonal motif used in the rooms. The program included a visit from Santa Claus, a Christmas reading by Mrs. T. E. McCroskey, and the singing of "Silent Night" by the society. Mrs. Hitchcock had the lesson prayer, while Mrs. J. C. Swartz gave the Scripture reading on "Ministering to Others." Miss Constance Kantner gave a very fine talk which all appreciated. Her subject, too, was "Ministering," relating to the migrant work which she and her associates did among the Hood River apple pickers. Mrs. George Starr had a good paper on the operation and number of homes maintained by the missionary society for old people and children in the United States. A social hour followed with refreshments served by Mrs. Simpson and her division.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur D. Welch have had as their house-guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Tyson of Metz, Indiana. Mrs. Tyson and Mrs. Welch were school girl friends together. Mr. and Mrs. Welch left Friday for their home, going by way of Seattle.

SILVERTON, Ore., Dec. 8.—(Special).—One of the most pleasant of the season's social events was the Christmas party given at the First Methodist church on Friday evening. Not only a group of the most beautiful Christmas carols, but also choruses and solos from the tremendous "Messiah," and one song, particularly, "Hymn to the Madonna" will be given at a fully augmented chorus. Miss Dorothy Pearce, at the piano, and Professor T. S. Roberts, at the pipe organ, will accompany.

The soloists of the evening will be Mrs. Ada Miller Harris, Mrs. Arthur J. Rahn, and Mr. A. A. Schramm.

Professor and Mrs. Gustav Ebsen and Professor and Mrs. F. G. Franklin were dinner guests on Sunday at the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority house.

Officers were elected Saturday at the meeting of the Woman's Relief corps. The personnel follows: President, Mrs. Jennie S. H. Jones; senior vice president, Mrs. Thorpe Adams; junior vice president, Mrs. Drager; chaplain, Helen Southwick; treasurer, Hattie B. Cameron; conductress, Bertha ant home-comings ever held at Silverton was that of the Pythian lodge Thursday evening of this week, according to those who attended. This home-coming is an annual event with Home Lodge No. 35, and two hundred were present this year. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion.

E. R. Ekman acted as chairman of the evening, the first part of which was devoted to a program consisting of the opening salute to the flag, vocal solos by Miss Esther Larson, accompanied by Mrs. Lawrence Larson, vocal solos by Tom Kaarhus accompanied by Miss Marie Corhouse, piano duet by Mrs. E. Lytje and Mrs. I. Goette, recitation by Anna Lytje, the address of the evening by Rev. J. A. Bennett, America by those present with Mrs. Helen Wrightman as accompanist, reading by Miss Helen Eicher, following down to the table call was held by Gene Drake, Fred Knight responding for those who were absent. Dancing and a banquet completed the evening's entertainment.

SILVERTON, Ore., Dec. 5.—(Special).—The Wrightman home was the scene of a happy gathering when Mrs. Helen Wrightman entertained at dinner for her son, Edgar. The occasion was Mr. Wrightman's nineteenth birthday. Eight guests were seated at the table at which a yellow and white color scheme was used. Favors of little yellow baskets filled with candy was arranged at each place with place cards and a center piece of which the guests are completing the table decorations. A large birthday cake ornamented with candles was a feature of the dinner. Guests were Lowell Hobbitt, Max Hubbs, Maurice Warnock, Kenneth Benton, Richard Syring, Edgar Wrightman, Ray McKee of Marshfield and John Curry of Salem.

Miss Frances Doerfler, who was one time a student at the Salem high school, is a member of the cast of "The Other Man's Wife," which is playing Thursday at the Big theater and all members of the cast are from the Forest Taylor players of Portland.

That the aria "Divinites du Styx," from Gluck's "Alceste," is eminently suited to Lena Belle Tartar's contralto voice was demonstrated last night in the Baptist church. The audience practically filled the church edifice and gave evidence that the popularity of her beautiful voice and the program she selects wins her the attention of Corvallis audiences.

Miss Tartar always sings with ease, and the beauty and flexibility of her voice was brought out in the impressive aria. She sang it as few vocalists are able to present it, with deep intonation and expression and a keen sense of its dramatic values.

An encore, "Evening Song," by Gilberte, was sung with unaffected charm as an encore to her last group of songs, including The Rosary. It was one of her best numbers and charmed her audience. Old Italian ballads, from the 17th and 18th centuries, were opening numbers on the program and Miss Tartar sang haunting Indian melodies and popular airs that found favor with her hearers.

Miss Tartar was assisted by Miss Gretchen Krenmer of Salem, accompanist, and it is not too much to say the concert presented last night was among the most popular ever given in Corvallis.—Corvallis Gazette-Times.

"The Pill Bottle," which will be presented by the Tri-C class of the First Presbyterian church, instead of being given this Wednesday will be given a week from Wednesday, on December 17. The proceeds will go to the new church fund.

Salem friends will be interested to know that two favorite Oregon writers are to be guests tomorrow afternoon between 2 and 3 o'clock at the Atlas book store. These are Grace E. Hall, author of "Patchwork" and "Homespun," and Theodore A. Harper, who wrote "The Mushroom Boy," a really modern fairy story which has been received with wide favor. Mr. Harper and Mrs. Hall will be pleased to autograph at this time copies of their books.

Miss Millicent King had as her guest Sunday her brother, Harold King. Accompanying Mr. King were Eij White and Harold Meisaacs, all returning from the Sigma Chi convention.

The Alaska program on Friday at the First Presbyterian church was of delightful interest to all who attended. The entire program was given by a group of talented students from the Chemawa Indian school, coming in for the afternoon with Miss Gertrude Eakin.

phase of missionary work was treated by Anna Peratovitch. Ida Echolt continued the program with a talk on "Work in the Far North." A charming number was the violin duet by two Eskimo Indians, John and Flora Dexter. An interesting appearance was that of two Eskimo girls in costume, wearing their luxurious parkas of reindeer fawn and of squirrel fur. Florence Murchison gave a vocal solo before the conclusion of the afternoon. A feature was the exhibition of curios belonging to Mrs. C. A. Park.

The committee for the afternoon included Mrs. C. A. Park, Mrs. Merle Rosecrans, Mrs. L. W. Griffith and Mrs. Edith Moore.

Mrs. B. L. Steeves will be hostess tomorrow afternoon at her home, 1594 Court street, for the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church. Miss Ruth Field will be a special guest for the meeting.

Miss Prudence Patterson assisted at the reception which followed the wedding of Miss Florence Niles of Eugene and Mr. Creighton Hays of Pullman, Wash. The ceremony was performed at a recent date at Hood River.

The meeting of the Salem Arts league this evening at the woman's club house will be an "open meeting," at which not only the members of the various sections of the league will be present but any guests who desire to come.

Mrs. M. J. Clifford, art director, and Mrs. W. F. Fargo, as an appointed assistant, are finishing the details of the evening.

The program will include Christmas carols, a vocal play, a talk on art, a talk on the winter garden, and vocal and instrumental music, including a group of Christmas songs.

The junior guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church will meet this afternoon with Mrs. Walter J. Kirk, 985 South High street.

The Etokta club will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. C. Arpke, 424 North Nineteenth street, for the regular club meeting. The study in "Americanization" will be continued.

The Young Married People's club of the First Presbyterian church will hold their December dinner and social at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow evening at the church. The program will be of the Christmas spirit. Each family is asked to bring a covered dish and rolls.

The committee in charge includes Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Annin, Dr. and Mrs. L. O. Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Myron Van Eaton, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Mohr, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Webb, and Mr. and Mrs. George Allen.

Miss Alice Skinner, at the program Thursday in McCornack hall of the GAR, was enthusiastically received when she gave two Kreisler numbers as violin solo, with Miss Ruth Bedford playing her accompaniments. Miss Skinner is a pupil of Miss Elizabeth Levy.

The annual bazaar of the Presbyterian Ladies' Aid society will begin promptly at 10 o'clock this morning. Aprons, fancy work, Scripture text calendars, popular magazine subscriptions and second hand articles will be among the things on sale. Coffee and waffles will be served at noon and at 6 o'clock, and a turkey dinner cafeteria style.

The auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans will meet at 8 o'clock this evening at the Armory. Especially since officers will be elected at this time, all members are urged to be present.

The Count-On-Me class of the First Baptist church will meet at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the church to sew on charity articles.

ST. PAUL DISTRICT BECOMING ACTIVE

James Cook Elected Mayor Recently and High School Is Kept Busy

H. S. Michelbrook, principal of the St. Paul schools, who was in the city yesterday, says that the St. Paul basketball teams, having defeated Tualatin, is looking for more fields to conquer. Also that the school debating team is preparing for its part in the state league contest.

The school will present the play "Dad's Baby" on the evening of Tuesday, December 23, for the benefit of gymnasium apparatus in the community building.

At the recent city election in St. Paul, James Cook, former road supervisor, was elected mayor and D. L. Vandeviele, former mayor, was elected recorder.

Mr. Michelbrook also said that a farmer's short course would be held at St. Paul early in February, put on by the Oregon Agricultural college.

In regard to paved roads, he said that the St. Paul community was now appreciating the fact that St. Paul was connected with other parts of the county by good roads, and hoping for the time when the paved road would be completed seven miles north to Newberg.

The exhibit of St. Paul at the Marlon-Polk corn show was just a beginning of what St. Paul intends to do at the corn show next year. Mr. Michelbrook said. In order to show its best products,
