Pardoned Over Protest—Over the protest of John H. Cannon, district attorney, Circuit Judge McMahon refused to send Jack Sorahan, Winfred Moore and Kenneth Kent to the boys' training school and the trio were paroled from the bench. The first two named were implicated in the robbery of a store at Stayton while Kent is said to have driven the machine. Judge McMahon refused to commit them to the school without a warning and a second offense. Judge McMahon sat for County Judge W. H. Downing, who is at a local hospital.

Pardons Are Denied—Prisoners sentenced in municipal courts for violations of municipal ordinances cannot be paroled by the governor, whose authority extends to those confined to the state penitentiary, according to the opinion communicated to Governor Pierce by J. H. Van Winkle, attorney general. The opinion was requested by Frank Grant, Portland city attorney, regarding an instance in which George Turner, sentenced on December 21, 1923, to serve six months in the city jail and to pay a fine of $750 was paroled to George Cleaver.

Hops Moving in Dabs—About 5000 or 6000 bales of hops have been moved since Thanksgiving, is the estimate of local hop men in commenting upon the hop situation. The average price on the sell ranged from 10 to 13 cents. With this condition in the hop market the local hopmen are beginning to get their lists on unsold hops. At the present time none of them will make a statement as to standing of the crop.

Eugene Gets Plant—Work of starting construction on a large distributing plant at Eugene is taking R. O. Snelling, manager of the Associated Oil company, to that city today. The plant has been under consideration for some time but owing to a flaw in the title to the property, considerable delay was caused. This was removed Tuesday, according to word received by Mr. Snelling, and the construction work will begin immediately.

50c For a Steam Bath—At Dr. Long's Institute. d10

Speeders Arrested—C. W. Meyers and E. C. Young were arrested Tuesday and cited to appear in justice court. Both arrests were made by State Traffic Officer Reinhart.

Action Dismissed—An order dismissing action was signed yesterday by Judge L. H. McMahon in the case of Sarah E. Campbell against Floyd C. and Ruby C. Meyers.

Paper Rates Lowered—The state public service commission yesterday granted approval to a lower schedule of rates for the shipment of carload lots of paper and paper products from Lebanon, Ore., to points in eastern Oregon, Washington and Idaho. The lines affected by the change are the Southern Pacific, Great Northern, Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, Spokane, Portland & Seattle, and the Oregon-Washington Railway & Navigation company. The rates are effective January 13, 1925. The change was made because the Lebanon paper mills could not compete with other firms in the districts affected by the rate changes.

Lecturer Popular—A large crowd listened to the second lecture of Dr. John Secor of the First Methodist church of Spokane, who spoke at the First Presbyterian church here last night. He will speak each night of the week on a series of dramatic lectures on Ben Hur. His appearance here is sponsored by the Kimball school of theology and by the Salem Ministerial association.

PRUNE WEEK December 8 to 15

PRUNE WEEK is being observed in Oregon from December 8 to 15. One good way to observe it is to send boxes of prunes to friends and business connections in the east and elsewhere for Christmas gifts. Another way is to eat them at home. The Portland Chamber of Commerce is broadcasting cards calling attention to the week—calling attention to the fact that observance of Prune Week gives a boost to a big and most vital industry in more ways than one.

which most other industries on the land depend more or less; mostly more.

"The Ten Commandments" picture preaches a powerful sermon. And it is a high-grade production in the field of the silver screen industry.

Speaking of popular songs, Salem barber says we had no bananas last year, and this year we have no rain; but thank God for Coolidge!

It's a bit late for early Christmas shopping; but not too early for the late kind.

These are the longest evenings of the year, and the shortest days will be just before Christmas; and a Salem plumber says he feels himself getting the same way.

Uncle Sam's navy will maneuver in Hawaiian waters next spring; with no hint of ill will towards Japan or any other old country. If it were flying fleet maneuvers, or lethal gas demonstrations, that might be something different again, calculated to send some nations up into the air, or make them turn green with wonder.

The late Senator Brandegee's debts were over $180,000, while his property was worth but $25,000. This would seem to explain the violence of his passing. It would also show that a man can be a United States senator for a long time without getting rich at it.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Great Cows—That's the Slogan subject—

That's the one for tomorrow. And it is important. One of the big things in Oregon will be her dairy industry, always. In fact it is a foundation industry, on entrance will be moved farther north and the elevator and stairs moved to the north side of the property. The vestibule will be equipped with double doors and used as the main entrance to the bank.

No matter if alcohol is used as a preservative, money and reputations keep better in a dry place.

STOP MAKING SOLDIERS—NUREMBERG, Nov. 17. (AP)—The little tin soldier for this year's Christmas in Germany has given way to acrobats, black and white mechanical dolls, various kinds of toy radio sets, and miniature housekeeping outfits with kitchen, dining room, living room, bedroom, parlor and bath complete.

What few soldiers one sees are made of wood, owing to the high cost of metal. Although their uniforms of paint are just as bright as ever, and the officers and soldiers just as stiff and pretentious looking as it is possible for the wood-carver to make them, the fighters and their equipment of side arms, cannon and swords are not as popular by any means as they were prior to 1914.

One of the season's novelties is a colored boy, made for export chiefly to the United States, which plays a mouth organ when one squeezes his body.

There has been an unusual call for mouth organs, especially from America, dealers say, and German manufacturers worked overtime last summer to supply the demand.

Contract for extensive alterations to the business place occupied by the G. W. Johnson men's furnishings store, has been awarded to P. T. Signe & Co., Portland architects, by the officers of the United States National bank, doubling the present banking space. The work will get under way shortly after Mr. Johnson moves the first of the year.

Space will be provided for 13 tellers' windows, in addition to quarters for a trust department, a special savings department and new quarters for the officers. A private rest room for ladies will be installed with five separate coupon booths.

New vaults are also contemplated in the changes while a special room will be provided for patrons of the safety deposit department. The bookkeepers will occupy a room by themselves, eliminating all noise from the banking room proper. The entire interior of the building will be finished in marble.

The bank will have a space of 56 by 100 feet when the alterations are completed. The main

The "IRON FIREMAN" will cut your heating costs

This new type of mechanical stoker automatically fires any steam, hot air or hot water boiler up to 100 h. p., maintaining uniform temperature by thermostatic control. By scientifically utilizing a strong current of air it produces from the cheapest grades of coal more heat, and more uniform heat, than can be produced by hand firing. Makes no smoke, no soot, and very little ash. Lowers heating costs by efficiently burning low-priced slack coal and yard screenings. Eliminates constant firing; often saving fireman's wages. Prevents waste of fuel—ALL of the coal is burned. Hundreds of installations in all parts of the country. Extensively used by greenhouses, hotels, schools, apartments, public buildings, and manufacturing plants of all kinds. Ask us for installed prices.
