for the correct solution of the puzzle and slogan. In case there is more than one correct answer turned in first place will be judged on neatness and appearance. All solutions must be BROUGHT to Giese-Powers' Store, 357 Court Street, between Monday morning at 8 o'clock and Wednesday noon. The solution of the puzzle and the slogan will be published in The Statesman Christmas morning.

HOW TO WORK CROSS WORD PUZZLES

Most people have already learned how to solve cross word puzzles but for the benefit of those who are not familiar with the process the following information is given:

Each number in the puzzle indicates the position of the first letter of a word.

Each word reads from left to right (horizontal) or downward (vertical), according to position. Lettered in correctly, words that cross will interlock.

Each number in the white squares also refers to a definition in the accompanying table.

Each definition suggests a word possessing the exact number of letters to fit the white spaces allotted to it.

Each white space is to receive one letter only. Words start only in numbered squares.

Terms and Conditions of Contest

READ THEM OVER CAREFULLY—AND THEN GET BUSY

First work out the words in the puzzle—and then you come to the second, and real test of your skill and discernment. (Read carefully this expansion of procedure.) You will note some forty or more words have been brought out in the puzzle. Now included in this number are 19 words that when properly arranged form a slogan that is timely and true, and of interest to all. Each special contains one of these words. Prize word will occupy the same position in the slogan as the number of the special in which it is identified. For instance, the word found in special No. 5 will be the fifth word in the slogan. Seems easier now, doesn't it? All you have to do is to check off the words from the puzzle that you also find starting or ending a sentence in one of the specials, arrange them, according to the special numbers in which they are found—and Presto—you've got the Slogan. Then write it out on a sheet of paper, sign your name and address, attach it to your cross word puzzle solution, bring it to Giese-Powers Store not later than Wednesday noon, Dec. 24.

The Prize Winners and the Slogan will be announced Christmas Morning

Newspaper employes or members of their families not eligible to enter contest.
