GREETING FOR CHRISTMAS

Oh, starry nights of Christmas tide,
And festive Christmas tree;
Oh, birds in flight across the night,
And ships out on the sea.

Oh, everyone, oh, everywhere,
A greeting fair and sweet
As frankincense, as myrrh, as gold,
I place now at your feet.

I wish you health, I wish you joy;
I wish you all you ask,
And that the best of these may be
Not separate from your task.

And that the best of life that is
May ever come your way:
I wish again—a thousand times—
Your joy on Christmas day.

—Audred Bunch.

THE WEDDING uniting in marriage Miss Martha Barnick of Quinby and Mr. David Korb, 407 North Twenty-first street, was solemnized yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at the Chemeketa street Evangelical church parsonage, Rev. F. W. Launer officiating.

The bride was becomingly gowned in medium blue satin crepe. The ring service was used. Those witnessing the impressive ceremony were Miss Grace Hoppis and Leonard Barnick. After a wedding trip which will probably take them as far north as Canada, Mr. and Mrs. Korb will make their home in Salem.

Mr. Korb, the son of Mrs. Catherine Korb, is a cement contractor, where he is well known, having lived here for a number of years.

As a result of the silver tea held in November, the American Association of University Women have in their scholarship loan fund $100. This fund will be administered by a board of trustees or committee chosen for that purpose by the organization at a future meeting. In order to expedite the placing of this fund at the service of worthy Oregon girls in our colleges and universities, written applications may be sent temporarily to Mrs. E. C. Richards at 966 Center street, Salem. The fund cannot be made available until the second semester.

Mr. and Mrs. Romeo Goulet will have as their guests for Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Pasley of Portland.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank E. Brown will be hosts today for a family dinner at their home on State street. Those enjoying the occasion will be Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Allison and son, Donald, of Eugene; Mrs. D. H. Craven and son, Ronald, Mrs. Inez May and daughter, Velma, and Mr. and Mrs. Everett H. Craven of Portland.

Christmas exercises of the school for the feeble minded were in the form of a play depicting the spirit of Christmas. There were about 40 children in the cast and it was one of the best presented amateur plays one could wish to see. The cast was mostly of girls, as girls are more apt at remembering in that institution. The play was presented three different evenings, Tuesday night being entirely for guests.

It is a revelation to see what these children can do. Dr. and Mrs. Smith with an able corps of assistants are working wonders with these state wards.

Jefferson.—The Ankeny Welfare club met at the home of Mrs. C. F. Meier, Jr., Thursday afternoon. The regular business meeting was held, followed by an hour devoted to the study of Horner's Oregon History, which the club is taking as a course. Later in the afternoon a Christmas tree, prepared by the hostess, was enjoyed, each member bringing a gift and receiving one. The prize for amusement hour went to Mrs. J. O. Farr. Club members present were Mrs. C. O. Whiteman, Mrs. G. H. Marlatt, Mrs. G. M. Belknap, Mrs. G. H. Tharp, Mrs. J. O. Farr, Mrs. Eugene Finlay, Mrs. C. F. Meier and Miss Louise Ralle. Mrs. Charles Meier was a guest of the club for the afternoon. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Finlay.

The Misses Helen and Lois Mangus, daughters of Mr. Elmer J. Mangus, who are attending school at Eugene, are to spend part of their vacation with him in Salem.

Misses Willma and Mildred Pratt, students at Linfield college, are spending the holiday season at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Pratt at 730 North Winter street.

Charmingly in keeping with the Christmas season was the party on Tuesday evening, December 23, at which Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wayne Riddle and Mrs. George E. Emery entertained for the pleasure of a group of their friends. The singing of Christmas carols by the assembled company was uniquely featured during the evening, selections being sung from the modern and traditional carols of English, French, German, Dutch, and Latin origin. Kenneth McCormick presided at the piano for the carol accompaniments. Interspersed between the groups of carols the nativity and infancy stories were read by Reverend Ward Willis Long and the prophetic messages by Professor E. S. Hammond.

Those assisting Mrs. Riddle and Mrs. Emery in the dining room were Mrs. E. C. Hickman, Mrs. E. S. Hammond, Mrs. J. D. McCormick, and Mrs. William H. Hertzog. Mrs. Hickman and Mrs. Hammond presided at the urns, while Mrs. McCormick and Mrs. Hertzog served.

The living room, in addition to a redolent Christmas tree, was festively decorated with spicy fir boughs and mistletoe, while in the dining room holly was used with elk horn moss and poinsettias.

Invitations were issued for the evening of festivity to President and Mrs. E. C. Hickman, Dean and Mrs. George H. Alden, Dr. and Mrs. Frank G. Franklin, Professor and Mrs. T. S. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Richards, Miss Frances H. Richards, Miss Frances Virginia Melton, Dr. and Mrs. E. S. Hammond, Dr. and Mrs. J. D. McCormick, Professor and Mrs. William H. A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock at the apartments of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Brown at the Barnum, when Miss May Ghuhoffer, a popular young lady of Salem, and Mr. Marshall Baker of Seattle, a cousin of Mr. Brown's, were united in marriage by Rev. E. P. Lawrence of the Presbyterian church.

The rooms were decorated in carnations and violets. The bride wore a dark blue traveling costume with hat in harmonizing shades. After the ceremony they left by motor for San Francisco for a trip of 10 days. They will live in Portland, Mr. Baker being a representative of the MJB company.—Jackson County News.

Reverend and Mrs. H. F. Pemberton will have as their guests over Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Guyed and daughter, Dorothea, and son, Edward, of Seattle, Wash. They will be at the Pemberton home until Saturday morning.

Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Steeves will be hosts at a Christmas dinner today for Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Steeves, and little son, Richard, of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morse, and little daughter, Josephine, of Vancouver, Wash., and for Miss Sevilla Rick of Pateros, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ficke, whose marriage was a recent event, were complimented with a delightful surprise dinner party the first of the week at the Gray Belle. The bride was made the recipient of a beautiful coffee urn. Covers at the dinner were placed for Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bayliss, Mr. and Mrs. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harper, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ficke.

An enjoyable musical evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allen Tuesday evening, on N. Winter street. Among those present were Warren Hunt and wife from Oakland, Cal. Mr. Hunt is a brother of Mrs. Allen's and has traveled for the past year with Barnes' circus. The others enjoying the hospitality were the Misses O'Brien, Ray, Lois and Lenore Allen, the hostesses, Messrs. Walter Stackhouse, Leo Kafoury, Chester Allen and Estle Benner, the latter being a promising young pianist.

Mrs. G. V. Ellis is expecting her son, Dr. R. W. Ellis and wife and their two sons, George Vincent and John Hira, and Mrs. Anette Smith of Ketchikan, Alaska, as house-guests during the holidays. Dr. Ellis is an old Salem boy, having graduated from the medical department of Willamette university. Several of his classmates are now practicing in Salem. Dr. Ellis expects to motor to Los Angeles and stay a month or two, taking special clinic work. His mother may accompany him.

Mrs. Charles Carver, Jr., first vice president of the Portland branch of the National League of Women Voters, is acting president of the organization during the absence of Mrs. Dallas Bache, president, who is spending the winter in Ann Arbor, Mich. Mrs. Folger Johnson is assisting Mrs. Carver in her capacity as second vice president.
