THE NEW YEAR'S DANCE

Last night at the Illihee country club which proved one of the most brilliant affairs of the social calendar was preceded by a number of delightful eight o'clock dinners.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farmer entertained charmingly for a small group, with red candles and holly decking the table. Covers were placed for Miss Bert Eckerlin of Portland, the house guest of Mrs. Farmer for the holidays, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Egan, Mr. Albert Egan, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendricks entertained at the same hour with a nine-cover dinner. Seasonal flowers were attractive in the dining room. Covers were marked for Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. John Carson, Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mr. Carl Gabrielson, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendricks.

Poinsettias gave the table motif for the dinner last night at which Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hixson entertained. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Orris Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Young, Mr. Floyd Maxwell of Portland, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hixson.

A further charming dinner party was that at which Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Farmer were the hosts at 8 o'clock. Red carnations with their complement of red candles made the table festive. Covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Knapp, Miss Constance Sawyer, and Mrs. Frances Cochrane, all of Portland, Mr. David Dube of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. E. V. McMechan, Mr. Jack Elliott, and

NEW YEAR

Out went the old, in came the new,
And a thousand things there are to do:
Wee violets in the woods to wait,
And robins for the swirging gate;
A thousand things, since much is gone,
And the year again stands at its dawn.
Yet strange it is, and I am glad,
The things called new are things we've had.
Not new at all, but very old,
The blackbird's wing, the sky's clear gold.
And all the year, from day to day,
I dream it still will be this way:
The things I loved in yester-year,
In season's turn will reappear;
And maybe you will understand,
And shut it tight within your hand.
That New Year's coming means to me
Spring and violets, presently.

the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Farmer

The members of Chemeketa chapter of the Daughters of the Revolution will open the new year with a meeting of unusual patriotic interest, with Mrs. H. B. Thielsen, Miss Nell Thielsen, and Mrs. Cecil Hawley the hostesses at the Thielsen home, 1049 Court street.

The paper of the afternoon will be by Mrs. John W. Harbison on "Women of the Revolution."

The business feature of the afternoon will be the election of delegates to the state conference.

Miss Janice McKinnon of Eugene is the houseguest for the holidays of Miss Josephine Jaskoski.

The Piety Hill club will meet today with Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, 965 Court street. Mrs. J. I. Whitting will entertain with Mrs. Spaulding.

Mrs. William H. Burghardt was hostess at three delightful affairs this week for small groups of friends, on Sunday at a Christmas dinner and early in the week at two charming Christmas teas.

At the six cover dinner party, attractive in its Yule-tide appointments, places were marked with quaint Oriental cards for Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Lytle, Miss Frances Shrode, Mr. Oliver Crowthers, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Burghardt.

Tokens of the season were found at both tea hours in the exquisite decorating which was followed out in the jade tree, the use of red and gold lacquer on the table, in the cedar garlands, in the ancient Bible open on the mantel at the Christmas message with the gold star shining above it, and in the burning incense. At the earlier tea Audred Bunch read Christmas poems in keeping with the season, and at the Tuesday tea the singing of old Christmas carols gave a charming note of festivity.

Mrs. Alice H. Dodd presided at the urn on Monday, while Mrs. Clifford Brown presided on Tuesday.

Mrs. Lawrence Imlah was hostess at a one o'clock luncheon and afternoon of bridge for the pleasure of twelve of her Sigma Kappa sorority sisters on Tuesday. Covers were laid for Miss Florence Ingham of Portland, Miss Jessie Gibson, Miss Marjorie Brown, Miss Marjorie Blake, Mrs. Arthur Borgenson, Miss Mabel Marcus, Mrs. Reed Rowland and Miss Bernice Kirkwood of Salem. Miss Agnes DuRette of Gervais, Miss Mae McDonald and Miss Alice Krider of Dallas and the hostess, Mrs. Imlah. High score at bridge went to Miss Mae McDonald and the consolation to Miss Florence Ingham. Mrs. Reed Rowland will entertain the Sigma Kappa girls next month.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolfe Paquin (Esther Lemery) were guests Tuesday and yesterday at Salem friends.

A delightful vacation party was that at which Miss Helen Breithaupt entertained Tuesday evening at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Breithaupt. A Christmas tree and poinsettias added to the attractiveness of the scene where numerous games were enjoyed. A delicious luncheon was served in the dining room, with pink and white carnations centering the table. Beautiful had-painted place-cards marked covers for the guests late in the evening.

The group invited for the party included: Miss Eloise White, Miss LaVerne Shoemaker, Miss Ruth Swafford, Miss Esther Gardner, Miss Lucille Miles, Miss Dorothy Gutekunst, Miss Doris Clark, Miss Rose Folger, Miss Catherin Mulvey, Miss Muriel White, Miss Neva Stolzeise, Miss Naomi Warner, and the hostess, Miss Helen Breithaupt.

The members of the Community Bridge club and their husbands were guests at a delightful year-end affair when Mrs. A. Steiner entertained. Covers at the dinner which preceded the playing were placed for twenty-two. Christmas
