THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH was the scene last night of a beautiful New Year's wedding when at 7 o'clock Miss Nellie Grace Pickens, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pickens, became the bride of Mr. John Hatfield of Roseburg. Over 100 invitations were issued for the nuptials.

The impressive ring service was used with Reverend H. F. Shanks, pastor of the church, officiating, as the young couple stood under a canopy of pink and white. Many palms and tulle-tied holly wreaths were used in the church.

Immediately preceding the ceremony, Mrs. J. D. Taylor sang "At Dawning," Miss Eugenia Savage accompanying. Miss Savage also played Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party assembled at the altar, the bride approaching on the arm of her father, who gave her away.

Miss Pickens was attended by Miss Louise Jennings of Roseburg, as maid of honor, while her bridesmaids included Miss Neva Walker, Miss Ethel Marks, Miss Lillie Christopherson, and Miss Ruth Ross. The five attendants wore lovely frocks of green, yellow, orchid, blue, and peach, making a charming procession as they preceded the bride. The groom was attended by Mrs. Chester Pickens, a brother of the bride, Little Marjorie Pickens, in a dainty frock, was flower girl, while Billie Taylor carried the ring. Mr. Marvin Roth and Mr. Albert Matthews were ushers.

The bride wore a lovely gown of crepe meteor enhanced by a full length veil, caught with orange blossoms. Roses and lilies of the valley were used in her beautiful shower bouquet.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pickens, 740 North Seventeenth street. Long-stemmed pink carnations with fern centered the table with pink tapers burning in crystal holders. Mrs. K. H. Pickens cut the tea while Mrs. C. K. Haynes presided at the coffee urn. Assisting in the serving were Miss Luella Taylor and Miss Barbara Shanks. The entire color scheme in the dining room was pink and green.

Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield left immediately for Portland to spend their honeymoon, after which they will make their home in Roseburg. Mrs. Hatfield attended Willamette university last year, while the groom is a former student of the Oregon Agricultural college. He is now engaged in business in Roseburg. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hatfield are exceedingly popular among their many friends.

Among the out-of-town guests, witnessing the ceremony last night were Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Matthews of Roseburg, Mr. and Mrs. Nebergall of Albany, Mrs. O. H. Pickens and son and daughter, Mrs. J. E. Pickens, Mrs. H. E. Pickens, and Miss Louise Jennings, all of Roseburg.

Sixty couples were present last night for the delightful, formal Christmas party of Mrs. Ralph White's senior ballet class at Derby hall. A number of feature, specialties added kavety to the occasion.

The background for it all was charmingly redolent of the Yuletide season.

The many friends of Mrs. W. E. Anderson will be glad to hear that she is recovering from a week's illness.

Today will be an epoch day in Salem filmdom for "Columbus," the first of the 32-pictures of the Yale University series, will appear at the Liberty theater under the enthusiastic and consistent sponsorship of the American Association of University Women. The filming of "Columbus" in Salem will be a gratifying revelation to all those who take pride in seeing the best. It is an opportunity of special interest, and of special quality. The east has already received "Columbus" clamorously, as has the south, and as soon will the west.

The presentation of this Yale University film at the Liberty both this afternoon and evening is being arranged by the educational committee of the association. Working with Mrs. George Hog, who is chairman, in the arranging of the detail is Mrs. A. M. Chapman.

Endorsing the American Association of University Women in the bringing of this film to Salem are the following organizations: the Rotary club, the Highland Parent Teachers' association, the Salem Women's club, the Salem Heights Woman's club, the Etok-ki club, the War Mothers, chapter G and chapter AB of the PEO sisterhood, the business and professional women's club, the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Lincoln and McKinley parent teachers' association, the YWCA, the Salem Arts league, Kiwanis, Lions club.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Goulet were guests in Portland for New Year's Eve.

On December 30th, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Rowland of Rick-reall, Or., was the scene of a wedding, exceptionally beautiful in its simplicity and beauty of detail, when their daughter, Miss Sarah Lucile Rowland became the bride of Mr. James Roland Parker, the Rev. George Cromley of the Presbyterian church of Cresswell, Or., acting as officiating clergyman.

The parlors, charming in their decorations of blooming plants, mistletoe and fern, were well filled with the company of their more intimate friends and their relatives, when the bridegroom, accompanied by the clergyman, took his place, awaiting the bride.

Down the winding stairway the newel parts and railing of which were gracefully trimmed with ivy, and further ornamented with a wreath of Oregon Grape, came a vision of loveliness—the bride, preceded by her little niece, Doris Charlotte Riggs, who bore an exquisite basket of orange blossoms, roses, carnations and sweet peas, graceful fronds of fern interspersed.

In the plighting of their troth, the beautiful ring service was used, after which the congratulations of their friends were showered upon the happy couple, whose romance began early in their college days at OAC, where both received their education.

The bride, a member of the Alpha Xi Delta sorority, was prominent in student activities. The groom, who is horticulturist for Skaret county, Wash., received his Master's degree in horticulture in June of '23, having graduated at OAC in '21. He was a member of the staff of the College Barometer. Mr. Parker served as president and manager of Pi Kappa Alpha, the fraternity of which he was a member. He was also a member of the Alpha Zeta, scholastic fraternity.

The bride wore a panna velvet gown of sapphire hue, the draped sleeves and corsage of which were caught and confined by ornaments of pearls and cut crystal, worn by her mother on her graduation day.

The flower girl wore a frock of white ruffled organza. Silverware, china, cut glass, cutlery, linen and fine needlework were among the many gifts received.

The guests were served at 4 o'clock to a delicious luncheon of pineapple sponge cake, coffee and chocolate, by the Misses Verna Keppenger and Frances Freitas, sorority sisters of the bride, and the Misses Lewis and Zellesch.

The newlyweds left immediately for Mount Vernon, Wash., where they will be at home to their friends after January 15th.

Their smart going-away gown was a tulle of navy blue porlet twill worn with a hat of gold metal cloth and accessories harmonizing, completing the costume.

Following is the list of invited guests: Messrs. and Mesdames C. M. Parker, Medford, Or.; W. C. Lewis, Cass Riggs, Salem, Or.; J. W. De Lap, Salem, Or.; Cecil Riggs, A. W. Bartlett, A. V. Oliver, J. Ray Fawk, J. S. Rowland, The Misses Riggs, Stevens, Lewis, Zellesch, Keppenger, Gervais, Or.; Treast, Sheridan, Or.; The little Misses-Doris and Margaret Riggs, Rev. George Cromley, Messrs. Marquis, Duncan, Billiter, Portland, Or.; Harris, Central Point, all fraternity brothers of the groom, and the Messrs. J. D. Allen, W. S. Bartlett, Frederick Lewis, John Oliver and Masters Thomas and Richard Riggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knowland entertained on New Year's Eve with a dinner party and an evening of bridge. Mr. and Mrs. Harley O. White, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Canfield, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Daus, Dr. and Mrs. O. A. Olsen, were the evening's guests of Mr. and Mrs. Knowland.

An interesting meeting with an interesting program was that of the Writers' club Tuesday evening at the attractive home of Mrs. Claudius Thayer. Many interesting contributions were featured on the evening's program which opened with an ably written poem by Professor M. E. Peck. Instead of reading from the manuscript, Perry Reigelman recited from memory his poem, "When Evening Comes." A charming verse by Odell Savage Ohling was "Want and I." Grace Elizabeth Smith contributed a delightful prose contribution on "My Mother's Kitchen." Mrs. J. C. Nelson read a group of poems with winter time and the prairie as themes.

Perhaps the most interesting of all the prose offered was Charles J. Lisle's story, "The Gold Hunters," from his Youth's Companion series. Two poems were read by Mrs. W. F. Fargo, one, "The Answer," the other "Exiles." Mrs. F. S. Barton offered for the pleasure of the guests, "The Meadowlark" and "The Madonna." The titles of the poems read by Mrs. Blanche M. Jones were "The Indians" and "Cosmos." Mrs. Clifford read a longer poem, "Blue Water." A fairy tale was given by Miss Marie Roberts and a group of new lyrics by Gertrude or her house-guest, Miss Jane Field read a tribute to Mr. Thayer and Mrs. F. G. Franklin read a number of Mr. Thayer's own poems.

The next meeting of the club will be on Tuesday, January 20, at the home of Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith.

Those meeting with Mrs. Thayer and her house-guest, Miss A. J. Martin of Berkeley, California, were:

Prof. and Mrs. M. E. Peck, Mrs. Viola Price Franklin, Miss Marie Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Clifford, Mr. and Mrs. R. Lisle, Mrs. John Harbison, Miss Renska Swart, Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Mrs. Frank Barton, Mrs. Blanche M. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Paulus.

A program which is being anticipated with much interest is that which will dedicate four new flags next Thursday evening at the state house. These flags, the purchase of which was delegated to Barbara Fritchie test, daughters of Veterans, of which Mrs. F. L.

THE ONLY ROQUEFORT CHEESE FACTORY IN UNITED STATES IN SALEM DISTRICT

It is Near Falls City, Polk County—The Label Carries a Picture of the Covered Wagon, Suggesting the Idea of Pioneering—The Product is All Sold as Fast as it is Ripened—Here May Be the Beginning of a Gigantic Industry for Oregon

Editor Statesman:
Answering your question as to the possibility of cheese making from the milk of goats in the Coast Range:

We have from the Yamhill river to the Newport highway one million acres of goat range. This amount of range will furnish pasture for 400,000 head of goats. If the milk from these goats should be made into Roquefort cheese it would produce 16,000,000 pounds, or $8,000,000 worth.

We Import $35,000,000 Worth
Roquefort cheese is made near Roquefort, France, from sheep and goat milk. It is a green mold cheese, of which the United States imports 73,000,000 pounds yearly, or about $35,000,000 worth. The state of Oregon has about 1,000 milk goats and room for millions. The northwest should make enough Roquefort cheese to supply the United States.

Polk Should Have 100,000
Polk county alone has room for a hundred thousand milk goats, which would give about 400,000 pounds of cheese, worth about $200,000. This cheese retails at 90 cents to $1 a pound. The manufacturer should get 50 cents per pound.

Many Failures
In the last few years there have been about 30 factories which have tried to make this cheese in this country, but all have failed. I have been working at this cheese for three years, and I believe I have a cheese as good as or better than the imported.

The government's expert man on Roquefort cheese has made me two visits, and helped me through with it.

This cheese is a green mold cheese. The government furnishes the mold fresh as we need it.

Cheap to Keep
P. S.—To winter goats in the Coast range it requires one ton of hay to seven goats; oats, vetch or clover is the best. An average herd of does will give two quarts of milk per head per day through the milking season, or will make about 55 pounds of cheese each.

We have does that will give up to five quarts per day, and if they are turned out on mountain range will come home if milked regularly.

P. S. 2.—But the greatest difficulty in this cheese business is the marketing; how to get it onto the market. We have the only Roquefort cheese factory in the United States.

—ALBERT TEAL,
Falls City, Or., Dec. 28, 1924.

Private to Editor
Mr. Teal says in a private letter to the Slogan editor of The Statesman: "In regard to a story Waters is president, by Secretary of State Sam A. Koser, are hand-sewed of beautiful silk. Two are state flags, two are national, with one of each to be placed in the hall of representatives and in the senate chamber.

An attractive, as well as ceremonious, program has been arranged by the local tent to include musical numbers by not only the high school orchestra, but also the First Methodist church choir.

On the committee for the occasion are Mrs. Susan Varty, Mrs. G. G. Brown, Mrs. C. J. Green, Elma Fisher, Miss Grace Babeock, Miss Julia Webster and Mrs. La Moine R. Clark.

These unusually handsome new flags which will be dedicated on January 8, were ordered from the Annin company in New York city through Miller's. They have been chosen to take the place of flags which have been hung—and which sadly show the results of this long hanging—for 35 years.

Prof. and Mrs. Florian Von Eschen are spending the week in Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Corlies of Medford are spending the holidays with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Codrings.

on Roquefort cheese, will say that I have worked at this for three years, and failed until this year. I now have a fine cheese, and it is all sold. As fast as it gets ripe it goes to Portland and San Francisco. We expect to make three tons next year. Have lots of room. Come and see us."

Needs No Advertising
The Slogan editor had written to Mr. Teal, suggesting that he might by giving the news of his operations get some valuable free advertising. The Slogan man had noted the claim of the dairy section of the Polk county agricultural economic council that Polk county had the only goat cheese factory in Oregon. The development is far greater than expected. Polk county has the only goat cheese factory in Oregon, and more. It has the first and only Roquefort cheese factory in the United States. But, for the present, this factory does not need any advertising, free or otherwise. Its product is sold as soon as it ripens and is ready for delivery.

Covered Wagon Brand
The Slogan editor would say to Mr. Teal that he feels thankful for the kind invitation, and hopes to have the pleasure of accepting it one of these fine days.

The place of Mr. Teal goes under the name of the "Mountain View Goat Ranch." He has the Swiss Toggenburg milk goats and Black Jersey Giant chickens.

The cheese factory goes under the name of Teal & Branson, Falls City, Oregon. "Pioneer makers of Roquefort cheese in America." Their label contains a picture of a covered wagon with "Oregon Roquefort Cheese, Made in Polk County," appropriately displayed. It is a very attractive and striking label.

It will not be news to careful readers of the Slogan pages of The Statesman that the ripening is one of the most important things in the making of Roquefort cheese. It must be done under the right conditions. It is done, and has been done, for thousands of years, in the Roquefort district in France in caves in the hills. These caves are in the Pyrenees mountains, near the Spanish border, in the department of Aveyron, of which Roquefort is the principal city—one of the most prosperous cities in the world; built entirely on cheese. All Roquefort cheese was formerly made from the milk of ewes; the business being handed down from father to son generation after generation. Lately it has been made partly from the milk of goats; and from sheep and cow milk mixed, in that district. The milk, the ripening, and the know-how, are the important things. The picture painted by Mr. Teal is none too bright. Here is a chance to develop, right at the very doors of Salem, one of the greatest industries in the United States, the making of Roquefort cheese. And it has been started. Watch it grow.
