FIRST MOVEMENT

O Lake, you tempt me with the song you sing,
You tempt me with your ceaseless swing,
You call me with your mystery,
You hold me with a strange delight—
And yet I fear the long oblivion you'd bring.

O Lake, you tempt me with your cool caress,
You tempt me with your strength and stress,
You fold me in your mantle blue,
And thrill me with an ecstasy,
And yet I know you'd only bring me death.

—A. T.

FOR THE FIRST TIME IN 15 years the entire family of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Beckley were present at their home on North 21st street, to celebrate New Year's day. There are seven children—four sons and three daughters, all of whom with their families, were together at this time.

The group included Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Beckley, Irene, Marian, Harriet and John, of Salem; Prof. Wesley B. Beckley of Waldport; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred W. Beckley, Robert, Dan, Phillip and Doris Anne, of Hood River; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. Beckley and daughters Eva Louise, Dorothy, Helen and Hulda; Dr. and Mrs. G. C. Bellinger and children, Grover Lee and Laneta; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Albee and son, John Edward, of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Fields and son, Russell Karl, of Corvallis.

Mr. Elmer J. Beckley has raised wheat in Adams county, Wash., for the past 20 years, and has decided to finish his college course here, while his daughters, Irene and Marian are attending Williamette.

Prof. Wesley B. Beckley is a former wheat grower of eastern Washington. He is now an instructor of science and history in the high school at Waldport, Or. He graduated from Williamette with the class of 1910.

Mrs. Alfred Beckley is a graduate of the University of California. She was supervisor of music in the schools of Palo Alto, Cal., prior to her marriage. She lived in Mexico during part of the revolution and had several hazardous experiences with the bandits and rebels. Mr. Beckley is one of the proprietors of La Hacienda "El Chocoy" of Mexico, an estate comprising 100 sections of range and agricultural lands, part of which is leased for oil to the various companies operating in Mexico, among them the Standard of New Jersey and the Royal Dutch Shell.

Mr. Edwin Beckley has farmed in Franklin county, Wash., and at Jefferson, Or. He is now one of the owners of the Sunnyside Fruit Farm, where he is endeavoring to produce better and bigger prunes and cherries.

Dr. G. C. Bellinger is superintendent of the Oregon state tuberculosis hospital. He is a graduate of Willamette university school of medicine and has taken post-graduate work at Harvard. Mrs. Bellinger is also a graduate of Willamette and holds a M.A. degree from the same school.

Mr. Raymond Albee is a member of the firm of Burdette-Albee Motor company of Portland, state distributors for the Gardner car.

Mr. Russell B. Fields is proprietor of "The Lily" confectionery of Corvallis, which he has purchased and improved since his return from the A. E. F.

The families were seated at two large tables in the home. The color scheme of lavender and white was artistically carried out in place cards and floral decorations.

The grandmother, Mrs. J. W. Beckley, had the seat of honor at one table, served by Alfred W. Beckley, while the grandfather, Mr. J. W. Beckley, was seated at the other table, presided over by Dr. G. C. Bellinger.

The youngest member of this group was little Doris Anne Beckley, aged three months. Grandfather Beckley claimed special attention and consideration due to his 75 summers.

Mr. and Mrs. Beckley hope to celebrate their golden wedding anniversary with a similar reunion in March, 1926.

A brilliant affair for the young set was Mrs. Ralph White annual party for her senior ballet class on New Year's night at Derby hall. The seven-piece Orlo orchestra furnished the evening's music.

Delightful features given were: the Snowflake ballet danced by Mildred Roberts and Maxine Meyers; and Pierrot and Pierrette by Fay Wassam and Lucille Pettyjohn. The exchanging of dainty Pierrot and Pierrette cut-outs, numbered, was the means for securing partners.

During the evening Mrs. White was assisted by Miss Vivian Hargrove, Miss Valerie Briggs, Miss Marjorie Mellinger, and Miss Helen Savage.

The guests and their escorts included: Miss Lorraine Geer, Miss Andræ Winslow, Miss Ruby Dracoe, Miss Virginia Dorcas, Miss Lucille Pettyjohn, Miss Virginia Melton, Miss Helen Bredtenski, Miss Harolde Hoagsh, Miss Mary
