

BAYES-WARREN FIGHT TO DRAW; DEANE WINS OVER DOYLE

DECISION IS POPULAR ONE

Largest Crowd of Season Attends Splendid Smoker at Armory

Two judges and the referee gave Phil Bayes, of Salem, and Cracker Warren, of Oregon City, a draw in the first of the two 10-round main events at the Armory last night. This was the third meeting of the pair, having fought one draw and Bayes one decision. The second main event demonstrated how a cactus fed fighter who has mixed with the huskies around eastern Oregon could take punishment, for though Sewell Deane, of Salem, battered Frankie Doyle, of Spokane, around the ring for 10 rounds, the best he could do was to receive a decision.

Warren announced his weight at 129½ while Bayes claimed 128½. The first round was spent in warming up, with Warren leading the first of the second round only to have Bayes step in and take the round in the second half. The third round went to Warren while the fourth was about even, with Warren leading strong to the fifth and Bayes recovering. The fifth round, but was a little slow. In the sixth the two mixed and the real fight began in the seventh, with Bayes having an edge. Warren took the following canto and became worried in the ninth. The last round ended with honors about even, with Warren apparently a little weaker than his opponent. The decision was popular with the fans.

Doyle and Deane announced weights of 145 and 144 pounds respectively. Deane led throughout and apparently played with his opponent for five rounds. He ran against a tartar and no matter how hard or where he hit Doyle, the latter apparently gained strength from the blows and offered himself for more. Doyle did not present much of an appearance as a fighter but his ability won the crowd and there were many calls for a draw decision.

In the first preliminary Hoogerhyde and Roberts mixed it for four rounds, the fight ending in a draw. The second preliminary came to an abrupt ending when Jack O'Leary, of Portland, an excitable fighter, was unable to withhold a punch and tapped Kid Bybee, of Vancouver, Wash., when the latter was dropped to his knees and rested with both gloves touching the canvas. Though the blow was light, the referee awarded the

OREGON AND BEARCATS WILL OPEN CONFERENCE IN EUGENE

Bearcats? U-tellum and Watchem

Willamette university's Bearcats meet the University of Oregon basketball team in the first of the two institutions conference games of the season at Eugene tonight.

Though two of the contenders for varsity positions were forced off the squad, the first squad players representing Willamette are all eligible and ready for the game tonight. Oregon has met with hard luck this season, according to reports received here, and Kiminke and Flynn, guard and center, have been eliminated from playing by faculty action because of low grades. Oregon is entering the game with two lettermen, Gowans, who plays at center and forward and Hobson, forward. Ted Gillenwaters, another letterman, is attending a fraternity convention in the east and has not yet returned, though he will join his teammates later in the season.

Willamette will present a strong lineup against the invaders tonight, with Hartley at center, Robertson and Erickson at guard and Fasnacht playing one of the forward positions. Hartley, while comparatively inexperienced, has developed into a capable player and understands his position. Robertson and Erickson make a strong defense while Fasnacht has outstanding scoring ability. In one of the Portland papers, following the Willamette MAAC game, which was annexed by the Bearcats, the sporting writer said that "Fasnacht and four other players" defeated the clubmen. Fasnacht was high point man in the contest. Poling or Emmel will probably fill one of the forward positions, on account of injuries to Erickson Thursday night.

match to Bybee in the second round on a foul. O'Leary had it all over Bybee and had the fight continued, would have dropped him in the third round at the latest.

The largest crowd of the season attended the fights last night and were satisfied with the offering of Harry Plant, matchmaker, who provided a band to play between matches and before the program started. Steve Hanns, of Eugene, a popular referee, presided in the ring.

Prior to the Deane-Doyle match Billy Garden challenged the winner while two challengers, Harry Harris, of Pendleton, and Dale Freeman, of Portland, former northwest champion, challenged the winner of the Bayes-Warren match.

Harry Grab Gets Newspaper Decision in 10-Round Bout

DETROIT, Jan. 9.—Harry Grab of Pittsburgh, middleweight champion, outpointed Hobe Sage of Detroit in a 10 round bout here tonight. The decision was given by the referee at the end of the fight, both men being on their feet when the bell rang.

Grab won easily, the newspapermen at the ringside giving him the best of six rounds. Sage getting two and the other two being even. Grab was content to let Sage do most of the leading and opened up with his peculiar windmill attack. Sage had prepared himself for this style of fighting and made his best showing in blocking the swings of the Pittsburgher.

No knockdowns were scored, neither man landing effectively.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—Another vacancy on the bench of the supreme court in the near future was indicated today in unconfirmed but denied reports that Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes was preparing to resign.

Although Justice Holmes has not disclosed his plans, some of his friends say he will leave the bench in time for his successor to be confirmed before congress adjourns March 4.

Justice Holmes who will be 84 on March 8, has enjoyed remarkably vigorous health for one of his age. He has missed a few sessions of the court recently because of attacks of lumbago, but has retained his mental alertness and is one of the most active members of the court in following proceedings.

Appointed from Massachusetts by President Roosevelt in 1902, Justice Holmes was eligible for retirement in 1912.

The net result is that late tonight Ambassador Herriek and Mr. Churchill are awaiting further instructions from Washington and London.

Despite assurances of other delegations that an accord certainly will be reached, the slowness in arriving at an agreement is causing a feeling of surprise among the European delegations from which a certain touch of satisfaction is not altogether absent.

River Boats Will Make Three Trips Each Week

The steambot "Northwestern" arrived in Salem yesterday with a cargo of about 75 tons of general freight, and will leave today on the return trip with about 165 tons in its holds. Fred W. Karr is now operating the line for the Inland Water Transportation company, and a strict schedule is adhered to, accounting for the greatly increased tonnage now being carried as compared with that taken on when the line was first started.

The company is planning the inauguration of a three-trip a week service if it is justified by increased patronage.

For the time being, Dr. Stresemann appears to hold the key to the situation.

GIGANTIC AIRSHIPS ARE POSSIBILITY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—The possibility of airships "compared to which the Shenandoah would be a baby" mothering six or eight airplanes within their hulls, mounting 20 machine guns and three-inch shells and capable of scouring the Atlantic and Pacific at 80 to 90 miles an hour to warn against the approach of hostile fleets, was described today before the house aircraft investigating committee by Starr Truscott, civilian expert of the navy department.

Air cruisers of this type could accomplish as much as six scout cruisers in keeping the navy informed of movement of enemy battleships, Truscott said, adding that similar commercial dirigibles could be reconitioned for military use within two days. The United States, he urged, should develop a fleet of three to six such airships.

Conservation of helium resources, he added, was a "vital necessity," since the non-inflammable gas gives the United States an "overwhelming advantage" in national defense because no other country is able to produce it.

LEWIS IS RESTING EASY, DOCTOR SAYS

Defeated Champion of Mat Hurt When Thrown Out of Ring By Munn

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Jan. 9.—(By The Associated Press.)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, fallen champion heavyweight wrestler, was reported tonight to be resting comfortably at the hospital where he was taken following his defeat last night by Wayne "Big" Munn. "Although it would be difficult at this time to state accurately just how grave the wrestler's injury is," his doctor, Dr. Terry E. Lilly said tonight, "his condition is very favorable to speedy recovery."

Lewis suffered a sprain of the sacroiliac joint and bruises when he slipped from Munn's arms or was thrown outside the ring. The doctor, who had said early today that it might be necessary to en-case Lewis in a plaster cast, declared tonight that this would not be necessary.
