FRITZ LEIBER

You wizard of the stage, whom Shakespeare's heart might hail his own creation—all he dreamed—Superb and splendid, glorious your part,—A part more real, at times, than life, it seemed.

The scalding cauldron's prophecies your own; The daggers and the blood your ruin, too; A ruin that ran deeper than the bone, Till weakened, haunted minds confounded grew.

How can you come untortured from the spell; Your mortal body rise anew each night? How can you have such vigor, you who fell, Who were MacBeth in glitter, wounding fight?

Can you another be, more real of breath, Than this amazing one, the staged MacBeth? —Audred Bunch.

THE SALEM WOMAN'S CLUB, meeting yesterday afternoon at the club house, anticipated the coming Thrift week. In Professor S. B. Laughlin's talk which outlined a convincingly based budget system. Of particular interest in the business brought up was the reading of a communication from the State Federation of Women's clubs asking the endorsing of an act which will be presented at the legislature under the title of "An act for the establishment of Kindergartens in the state of Oregon." This the club went on record as favoring.

Of additional interest in the anticipation of the legislative session was the motion to open the meeting of the club on January 24 to the women of the legislature, inviting them as special guests.

Other plans for the near future were those having to do with a tea for the benefit of the scholarship loan fund, and for a club card

The losing side of the American Legion auxiliary contest will entertain the members of the winning side tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at a "hard time" party in McCornack hall.

A NUMBER OF DELIGHTFUL farewell affairs have been given honoring Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Arbuckle, who with their children, Doris and George, Jr., are leaving today by motor for California. Mr. Arbuckle will return to Salem sometime soon, while Mrs. Arbuckle and children will remain in the south probably until the first of April, dividing their time in San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego.

On Monday Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., entertained at an attractively appointed dinner for ten with the later evening spent informally at cards. Opheila roses, carnations and freesias with delicate fern arranged in a cut glass basket, formed a lovely centerpiece. Blue candles were used on the table where covers were placed for Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Arbuckle, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Worth, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer, Mr. and Mrs. James Nicholson and the hosts. Mr. and Mrs. William McGilchrist.

A second charming affair planned for Mrs. Arbuckle's pleasure was the lovely 1 o'clock luncheon on Thursday at the Colonial Dame Tea Shoppe, at which Mrs. James Nicholson was the hostess. Ferns and pussy willows centered the table, with ivory candles in mahogany holders used. Corsages of spring violets were favors to the guests. Covers were placed for Mrs. George L. Arbuckle, Mrs. H. K. Worth, Mrs. Henry Cornoyer, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., Mrs. C. B. McCullough, and the hostess, Mrs. J. H. Nicholson.

On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Worth were hosts at the Marion hotel at a 7 o'clock dinner at which covers were placed for 13. The table was decorated in pink and white, with carnations the chosen flowers. Following the dinner the guests assembled at the home of their hosts where the evening was enjoyably spent in playing five hundred. Red carnations were attractive in the background. Mrs. W. H. Darby and Mr. James Nicholson won the high scores of the evening. The group included Mr. and Mrs. Geo. L. Arbuckle, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cornoyer, Mr. and Mrs. Bliss Darby, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Darby, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Worth.

The Etokta club will meet at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. E. Fisher, 515 Market street.

An art exhibit in Salem the latter part of the month is among the recently announced plans of the Salem Arts' league. Anthony Euwer, the poet, was in Salem last spring, and this year it is to be Anthony Euwer, the artist. The same exhibit which was placed before Portland patrons will be shown in Salem when Mr. Euwer's talent will show itself in an offering of book plates, etchings, water colors and sketches.

Delightful interest in Salem circles attaches itself to the announcement on Friday evening at a 7 o'clock dinner at the Marion hotel of the engagement of Miss Teresa Fowle and Mr. James Colman Kriesel.

The table, where covers were placed for 14, was beautiful with its centerpiece of pink carnations and lighted pink candles. The news of the betrothal was concealed in Japanese card cases arranged at each place while unique and interesting Japanese place cards which were brought from Japan by the late Hayward Fowle marked the covers for the guests.

Miss Fowle, the daughter of Mrs. W. P. Fowle of 298 North Capitol street, is one of the most esteemed teachers in the Parish Junior high school. Graduating from Willamette university with the class of 1918, and having for a number of years taught in the Washington Junior High school, she has hosts of friends in Salem. Miss Fowle is a member of the Adelante Literary society and is affiliated with both the Eastern Star and the White Shrine. Mr. Kriesel, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Kriesel, is connected in a business way in Albany where the bride-elect will go to make her home. The wedding will be an event of the early spring.

Guests of Miss Fowle on Friday at the announcement dinner were Mrs. Burns Gillette, Miss Grace Babcock, Mrs. Margaret Montgomery, Miss Lucille Jaskoski, Miss Ada Ross, Miss Elsie Lippold, Miss Mae Bollier, Mrs. Emil Carlson, Miss Gusnie Niles, Mrs. Fred Gahlsdorf, Miss Helen Gatke, Miss Lella Johnson and Mrs. W. P. Fowle.

Miss Josephine Jaskoski was the honor guest at an enjoyable surprise party given by a group of her friends at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jaskoski. The occasion was her birthday.

Miss Elizabeth Levy was among those having the pleasure of hearing Heifetz in Portland last evening.

One of the most interesting of all Salem's social clubs is the Thursday club with its personnel of congenial matrons who meet together for the afternoon once each month.

During the past week the club was entertained by Mrs. Frank W. Spencer, Mrs. Robert J. Hendricks and Mrs. Charles A. Park at the Spencer home. Violets and cyclamen combined in giving the delightful floral note.

On February 10 Mrs. A. N. Moores and Mrs. Henry Bean will entertain the members.

The members meeting on Thursday last were Mrs. Alice H. Dodd, Mrs. B. C. Miles, Mrs. E. J. Hendricks, Mrs. E. C. Cross, Mrs. William McCall, Mrs. Richard Cartwright, Mrs. A. N. Moores, Mrs. S. E. Elliott, Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding, Mrs. George Pearce, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. William Brown, Mrs. C. P. Bishop and Mrs. Spencer.

Joshua Smith camp of the Sons of Veterans and their auxiliary, and the Daughters of Veterans will hold joint installation at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in the WOW halls. Especially invited guests for the ceremonies are the Daughters of the American Revolution, the members of the Woman's Relief corps and the Ladies of the Grand Army.

The Woman's auxiliary of the YMCA will meet at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon for an important meeting of the year. Election of officers will take place at this time. All are asked to bring thimbles, needles and thread, as the time will be spent in making cases for the recently purchased silver.

Mrs. William H. Burghardt had the opportunity of being in the audience last Sunday for the lecture-recital by E. Robert Schmitz, distinguished French pianist, at the Portland Art Museum. The program, which dealt with "Rhythmical Evolution from Bach to the Present Day," was given under the auspices of the Franco-American Musical society of which Mrs. Burghardt is a member.

Chapter AB of the PEO sisterhood will meet tomorrow evening with Miss May Rauch at the Court apartments.

The Salem public will have the opportunity on Wednesday evening of hearing a lecture on a timely subject when at the first general meeting of the Salem Arts league for the year Mr. J. M. Clifford will present fully the matter of simplifying the calendar.

This subject is timely because the annual meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science, sitting now in Washington, D. C., has just adopted resolutions favoring it. During the past few years several organizations of business men have been formed at different places in this country advocating simplification of the calendar.

A short musical program will precede the lecture and a social hour will follow with members and non-members of the league equally welcome.

Mrs. C. N. Chambers, 712 North Church street, spent Saturday in Portland at the bedside of her husband, Charles N. Chambers, who is confined by serious illness in St. Vincent's hospital.

One of the most attractive programs of the month is promised for Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock when instead of meeting in the afternoon the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church will sponsor a program at the home of Mrs. B. E. Carrier, 1065 Court street. The young married people's and the business group classes have all been extended special invitations for the evening.

The speaker of the occasion will be Mrs. Wesley Wire of Newberg, who is a returned missionary from China with a wealth of vivid information at her command. To add further to the interest of the occasion, Mrs. Wire will appear in her exceptionally beautiful Chinese costume.

This will also be a tea meeting with Mrs. Ronald Glover the committee chairman for the evening.

The beautiful service, which pledged the new officers of Sedgwick post No. 1, Woman's Relief corps, was read Saturday afternoon, January 3, by Past President Sarah Peterson. Mrs. Mary Lickie was the installing conductor and Laura McAdams, Mabel Lockwood, Susanna Botts and June Townsend were honorary color bearers. Those serving for 1925 are: President, Jennie Jones; senior vice president, Clara Adams; junior vice president, Sarah Dreger; chaplain, Helen Southwick; treasurer, Hallie Cameron; conductor, Bertha Loveland; assistant conductor, Florence Shipp; guard, Mary Ackerman; assistant guard, Anna Simmons; secretary, Mary Lickie; patriotic instructor, Louise King; press correspondent, Bernice Bouffleur.

The new president, Mrs. Jones, chose as her color bearers Della Clearwater, Cordella La Bare, Frances Thompson, Lulu Boring. The new officers elected presented the installing officer, Mrs. Peterson, with a beautiful bouquet of carnations as a gift of appreciation for her work. A large crowd witnessed the ceremony.

A very pleasant afternoon was enjoyed by the members of the Willing Workers class of the First Christian church when they met in the church parlors Friday afternoon for the first class meeting of the New Year.

The officers elected for the coming year were: President, Mrs. Beatrice Crawford Newcomb; vice president, Mrs. D. B. Simpson; secretary, Mrs. I. Carper; assistant secretary, Mrs. C. A. Lewis; treasurer, Mrs. Chester Lee.

Mrs. E. H. Robertson gave comic readings which were much enjoyed. Miss Trista Wenger sang in her customary sweet manner, and Mrs. John Humphreys told a beautiful story. Piano duets by Miss Helen Currie and Mrs. E. H. Robertson concluded the program. Hostesses for the tea hour were Mrs. C. A. Lewis, Mrs. D. B. Simpson, Mrs. Earl Wood and Mrs. Clifford Elgin.

The following were present: Mrs. H. H. Stanton, Mrs. B. W. Macy, Mrs. E. H. Dickenson, Miss Gladys Hausel, Mrs. Albert Cox, Mrs. Grant Teeter, Mrs. John Humphreys, Mrs. Relley, Mrs. I. Carper, Mrs. Copp, Mrs. Muzey, Mrs. Charles Ruggies, Mrs. W. Grilton, Mrs. Conklin, Mrs. J. C. Perry, Mrs. W. P. Ellis, Mrs. C. R.

Lester, Mrs. A. B. Seeley, Mrs. Wishback, Mrs. R. F. Peters, and Mrs. Will, May teacher of the class.

A group of prominent Salem matrons are those who make up the personnel of the Capital Bridge club which was entertained during the mid-week at the home of Mrs. W. H. Dancy, with an attractively appointed luncheon and an afternoon of cards.

Special guests were: Mrs. Homer Goulet, Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mrs. Jessie Jones, and Mrs. William Walton. The high score of the afternoon went to Mrs. L. F. Griffith.

The club members are: Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. George G. Brown, Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner, Mrs. Frank W. Durbin, Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. O. C. Locke, Mrs. Milton L. Meyers, Mrs. Frank Meredith, Mrs. H. H. Oliner, Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner and Mrs. W. Carlton Smith.

Dr. and Mrs. Grover Bellinger, Dr. and Mrs. Phil Newmyer, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Colony, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zimmerman were among those hearing Sophie Braslau with the Portland Symphony orchestra last week.

Byron D. Arnold will present a group of his piano pupils in mid-winter recital at 8 o'clock Friday evening in Waller hall. The public is invited. The assisting artist of the evening will be Master Halbert, violinist, of Corvallis.

Master Harold won the scholarship with Marguerite MacManus with whom he studies, and is a thoroughly gifted young player.

The group who will appear in recital Friday evening are: Edith May Jenks, Cora Mae Fehler, Ruth Palmer, Ann Reed Burns, Mildred Drager, Esther Elliott, Elizabeth Bonell, Winstanley Jenks, and Homer Gouley, Jr.

The members of the Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church, instead of meeting at the church next Friday, will meet at the home of Mrs. J. R. Pollock, 602 North Winter street, who will be the hostess. The meeting will be at 2:30 o'clock, with the annual election of officers taking place at this time.

Outstanding among the events of the past week was the annual Epiphany party on Tuesday which was held at St. Paul's Parish house, and which was attended by
