

President Coolidge Carries Message Direct to Hearts of Chicago Dealers

Address at Chamber of Commerce Luncheon While Attending International Livestock Show at "Windy City" Has Moral (President Coolidge's address at the commercial club luncheon in Chicago during his visit to the International Live Stock show points a moral as well as adorn a tale. When the president quoted from the biblical story of Joseph and the granaries he carried home to the hearts of the big business men of Chicago...

Introducing his speech the president referred to the thoughtfulness of a Chicago friend, saying: "I am indebted for the reminder that on this day, 250 years ago, Father Marquette and his companions began to erect the first huts to be used by the white men on the site of what is now Chicago. I like to think of that as the founding of Chicago. I like to feel that this great city owes its beginnings to the master explorer who was first a devout missionary of religion..."

The president continued: "Whenever I think of your wonderful Chicago, I think of it first as the great market place to which the world resorts to buy and sell its food. It is because the genius of our commerce and the industry of the people who live in these central valleys have erected here a vast exchange, to which the nations have come in their lean years to traffic for the foodstuffs which you have gathered together for them, that you are first known to fame..."

"And the seven years of dearth began to come, according as Joseph had said; and the dearth was in all lands; but in all the land of Egypt there was bread." "And when all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread and Pharaoh said unto all the Egyptians, 'Go unto Joseph; what he saith to you, do.'"

world through the indiscriminations of mere, unorganized, undirected generosity. We can only help those who will help themselves. In any other rule, I am convinced, would lie disaster for us and increasing misfortune for those whom we might seek to serve. On the other hand, I am profoundly impressed with the fact that the structure of modern society is essentially a unity, destined to stand or to fall as such. It is our fortune and our privilege that in the present exigency we are in a position to take a part of great helpfulness and leadership, and we shall best serve ourselves and help others if we direct our efforts to raising in the broadest way, the standards of human welfare everywhere. We must seek to find and to play a part whereby, without destroying ourselves, we may help others. We can not hope indefinitely to maintain our country as a specially favored community, an island of civilization lifted above the general level of the average of the standards of humanity. I know there was a time when many among us believed this was possible. But who, now, can continue clinging to such a faith, in view of the lesson which the war brought to us? If we could not avoid involvement in a far whose causes were foreign, and whose issues were chiefly alien to us because we had settled them for ourselves long ago, how can we hope to avoid our full share of responsibility in connection with other world problems which, if they are ever to be solved, must be solved in an atmosphere of peace and good will? We must be constantly ready to help both at home and abroad where our help is desired and will be effective.

A Favored People. We have been a particularly favored people. For that we owe a debt that is real and concrete, which we can not repudiate. It is but wish to live in a world which shall be at peace. But we can no more assure permanent and stable peace without cooperation among the nations than we could assure victory in war without allies among them. We know that the way to assured and permanent peace is slow and difficult. We know that no nation can travel that way alone. We tried, and we failed. It is a way that an only be traveled in company with others equally zealous for the same goal. Among these fellows of the road there must be mutual understanding and mutual faith and confidence. It is only when these understandings have been reached and the necessary assurances of that faith and confidence have been given and received, that mankind will be ready more effectively to consider its eternal problems of social and economic adjustment. I can see in the tranquility of Europe a benefit that will reach American industry and agriculture.

Girl Who Survives 12 Mile Ride on Cowcatcher, and Baby Hurlled 50 Feet Unhurt in Auto Smash

Five members of the Clark family were in an automobile that was struck at an Indianapolis grade crossing. Mrs. Mary Clark was caught on the plot of the engine and clung there for 12 miles in zero weather. When her numb-fingered fingers could cling to the metal no longer she fell into a snow-bank beside the tracks. Her little nephew, "Bill" Hartman, was hurled 50 feet but escaped injury. Her grandmother was killed and the other of the family party were injured.

own economic standards. We want to see in their prosperity an opportunity for larger markets for our own production. We wish to help them, moreover, because it is only through service that we can develop our individual and national lives. It is along this course of action that we are most likely to contribute to those conditions which will be most effective for maintaining universal peace and most likely to make the largest contribution within our power to the advancement of human welfare.

DIRECTORS WILL GIVE SUGGESTIONS

Chamber of Commerce Forum Is Expected to Develop Helpful Ideas

Pertinent suggestions are to be made Monday noon by members of the board of directors of the Salem Chamber of Commerce referring to the activities of the organization, with particular attention given to the present year. Each speaker is to talk two and one-half minutes, and in order that enthusiastic speakers do not go over the time limit, a time-keeper and a bell ringer will be on the job.

T. M. Hicks, president of the Chamber of Commerce will be the presiding officer, and the 10 additional members of the board of directors will present their suggestions for the activities of the present year. The directors are as follows: U. G. Holt, vice-president; U. S. Page, secretary; Ross C. Miles, treasurer; Dr. H. E. Morris, social department; Otto A. Hartman, civic department; George H. Grabenhorst, agricultural department; Dr. E. E. Fisher, legislative and taxation; Fred A. Erickson, industrial department; J. C. Perry, King-Bing of the Cherrians, and C. S. Hamilton, president of the Business Men's league.

A committee has been appointed to take down the suggestion that the speakers may make and to put them in execution as far as possible.

Woman Makes Urgent Plea To Have Historic Tree

"Woodman spare that tree," is the plea of Ella M. Finney in a letter directed to Roadmaster Eulver and the county court. The tree in question is an old landmark which has stood for two generations on the Salem-Champagne road.

At the present time there are no indications of paving the road, but it is stated that if action is started the tree will be a center of conflict.

The letter contains a plea that the majestic tree has stood for many years, and to cut it down would be a sin.

Entrance to heaven would be denied the county officials, it was declared, if the tree was cut down. There is no other way, but to build the hard surface around the landmark, if the crisis comes.

Liver Trouble Now a Known Cause of Premature Old Age

Medical science knows that poisonous waste in our bodies would actually cause death in a few days if not eliminated by Nature's processes. Because it destroys these deadly poisons, the liver is our most important organ—the body's wonderful purifier.

The liver prevents the formation of body poisons that cause diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels and are chiefly responsible for premature old age.

When the liver becomes weak, the poisons are sucked up by the blood and health is broken down. Physicians know that the liver cannot be regulated by drugs, but a safe Nature substance has been discovered which will at once increase the vital bile supply. The discovery is purified ox gall. Get from your druggist a package of Dioxol. Each tablet contains ten drops of purified ox gall. In 24 hours the poison toxins will be removed. Your liver will be regulated. Blood purification will begin. Sallow skin will clear. You will feel so much better you will know you have found the cause of your ill health. Dioxol tablets are harmless, tasteless and cost less than two cents each. These genuine ox gall tablets are prepared only under the name "Dioxol." If any tablet is offered you under another name, refuse it. Accept only Dioxol in the original, genuine package.—Adv.
