

SALEM BOXER VIOLATES TRAINING RULES AND IS BLACKLISTED

DEANE BARRED FROM MATCHES

Sewell Deane Not to Be Matched in Any Fights in Salem, Plant Says

Fighting is a clean sport when handled in the proper manner and anything that tends to reflect discredit upon the sport will not be tolerated here, declared Harry Plant, matchmaker yesterday, in an open statement that Sewell Deane, who has appeared in three main events here this season, will not be matched with any fighter in Salem.

Deane has been mixed up with the police once or twice recently after he had imbibed too freely of the anti-prohibition fluid. This, absolutely will not be tolerated in any fights coming under his jurisdiction, Matchmaker Plant said.

Matchmaker Plant was far from satisfied, as were a number of the fans, with the brand of boxing exhibited by Deane in his fight with Franke Doyle, of Spokane. Though Deane received the decision, it was evident to all that his punches did not have the steam that was noticeable in his first appearance against Charlie Dawson, of Eugene. Because of this and the fact that Deane did not observe training rules prior to his matches and hence was not in the best of condition, he was barred from fighting further in Salem.

"We are trying to give the fans their money's worth and give them the best entertainment possible," Matchmaker Plant said. "One or two poor cards gives an awful setback to the sport and it takes time to build it up again. Boxing at present is increasing and more interest is being taken than in the past. We want to improve instead of slipping back. If the fighters do not meet with our requirements we will drop them from our lists."

Plans are now going forward for another big card at the armory Friday night January 23, at which time Billy Gardeau and Charlie Dawson will meet in the main event, of 10 3-minute rounds. Gardeau is well known in pugilistic circles here, having stopped "Dubs" Marlarky when the latter was coming to the front a short time ago. Both are known personally and the brand of fighting of each is understood and appreciated by the fans. Straus and Hennings will meet in a semi-final six round event.

In the semi-finals Spike Crossan will be matched with a good opponent yet to be selected while Bill Byers, of Independence will meet O'Leary of Portland. O'Leary lost his match at the last smoker, but he can hit and does fight, so Matchmaker Plant is willing to give him one more chance. Byers is training in Portland at present. Three 4-round events will be offered at the smoker.

Revival Meetings Prove Popular During the Week

The revival meetings at the First Baptist church began last Sunday. The church was filled to capacity. Several came forward at the morning and evening services, confessing Christ as their Saviour. The meetings will continue the rest of this week and next. Services begin at 7:30 with a rousing song service. Monday night the Barace-Philathea class had charge of the opening, with Fred Peterson as song leader. The sermon was "The Cruse of Nard."

Tuesday night was Brotherhood night. Mr. Winniam Anderson led the singing and Ed Schunke sang a special number. The sermon was on "Lot's Choice." Wednesday night the class of young married people had charge of the service. Special music was part of the song service. Dr. Shanks spoke on "Why Jesurun Kicked."

This evening the young peoples' society will have charge. They have planned a very fine program and Miss Ruth E. Ross will have charge of the music. Sermon: "Lamb's With the Wolf On." Chairs have been placed on the platform for all the young people. Friday night the Count-On-Me class of the Bible school will take charge. They have been working on their program all week and expect to have a large crowd out. Come and receive a blessing from these meetings.

In the afternoons, on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, a meeting for Bible study and prayer is held in the church. Many blessings have been received from these gatherings. Come and join us. Everybody is welcome.

WRESTLING COACH SAYS SQUAD GOOD

Prospects for Year at OAC Is Promising; Heavy Men on Team Lacking

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 14.—A good wrestling squad for Oregon Agricultural college for the year and two years to come is predicted by Robin Reed of Portland, varsity wrestling coach, if present material is kept. A team representative of former years is assured this season, he says. Nixon, 125 pounds, and Selfridge, 145 pounds, members of last year's championship team, will be nucleus for the team.

Beacham, 125 pounds; Hadcock, Carille, 145 pounds; Bryan, Powell, Zehle and Avrit, 158 pound class, and Pubola, 173 pounds, are the men who will compose the rest of the squad. Although material for the 175 pound class is not as available as it might be, several men from the 158 pound class can be shifted to the heavier weight without weakening the team.

SUNKEN TREASURE SHIP RECOVERED

Cargo of $600,000 in Copper Taken From Depth of 300 Feet By Divers

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Captain Benjamin J. Leavitt of Philadelphia has broken all records for deep sea salvage in recovering $500,000 cargo of copper that had lain since 1869 with the wreck of the British freighter Cape Horn off the coast of Chile, said messages received today by the Westinghouse Lamp company from the salvage ship Blakely. Captain Leavitt and his corps of divers were reported to have worked "as though in daylight at a depth of 318 feet," using high pressure diving suits of the captain's invention and pressure resisting deep sea lights.

"It is Captain Leavitt's ambition next to salvage the $4,000,000 to $6,000,000 of treasure that lies in the sunken hull of the Lusitania," the company said. The Blakely was purchased from the shipping board and outfitted for the Lusitania job in view but it was decided to give the diving apparatus and lights a preliminary test on the Cape Horn wreckage.

Friday night, the Bearcats will line up against the College of Puget Sound players, and Saturday night, the Washington State Normal school, at Ellensburg, will furnish the opposition. A game with Whitman college the following Monday night will complete the trip schedule.

The players have recovered from the injuries which gave them such a set back prior to the Oregon clash, and are feeling in good condition. While a win over the Huskies is not to be expected, the Bearcats should give the other three schools a hard fight. Whitman college, Willamette's outstanding rival has played five conference games already this season and has lost all of them by large scores.

The men making the trip are Pasnacht, Robertson, Hartley, Erickson, Emmel and Poling.

NEW YORK, Jan. 14.—Gasoline prices in most of the eastern states will be raised tomorrow by the principal refining companies. Naptha prices will be raised one cent a gallon. The Gulf Refining company will advance the price of gasoline two cents in North Carolina, and 1 and one-half cents in South Carolina. Similar advances are expected in oil trade circles tomorrow by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and other large refiners covering eastern territory.

East-West Pacific Highway Controversy to Be Settled

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 14.—The state highway commission agreed at a meeting here today to go on record soon on its stand on the east-west side Pacific highway controversy.

The question was presented again by a delegation including Mayor Wright of McMinnville, representing communities on the west side highway, who maintained that such communities were being discriminated against by motorists who, desiring to travel the Pacific highway, took the east side branch because highway commission maps and road markers were not specific in designating the west side road also as the Pacific highway.

This information came today from the department of justice to Representative Sinnott, who was responsible for the reopening of the case after the board of general appraisers had upheld the lower duties on foreign cherries found by Pacific northwest growers to be inimical to their industry. Should this case result adversely an appeal will be taken to the court of customs appeals.
