CANDLES

Dear sweet, when dusk comes up the hill,
The fire leaps high with golden prongs;
I place along the chimneysill
The tiny candles of my songs.

And though unsteadily they burn,
As evening shades from gray to blue
Like candles they will surely learn
To shine more clear, for love of you.

—Christopher Morley: Chimneysmoke.

ALL LOVERS OF MUSIC in the city will be a-tingle with anticipation at the announcement that Miss Elizabeth Levy, Salem's own premiere violinist, has chosen a date in the near future for her first formal concert appearance since her study in Brussels, Belgium, and her last year's study in New York with Cesar Thomson, internationally known violin master. Miss Levy will play on Wednesday evening, February 4, at the First Christian church, this concert marking the first of a number in a tour through the state which she will give. Her many friends will be gratified to know that it was Miss Levy's own choice to give her Salem concert first.

"Jamestown," the second in the Yale university film series, will be shown next Thursday, Friday, and Saturday at the Liberty theater is an announcement that will greatly please those who found so much satisfaction in the recently shown picture, "Columbus." These films are being shown in Salem under the sponsorship of the American Association of University Women, with Mrs. A. M. Chapman heading the committee on better films.

At the luncheon meeting yesterday at the Marion hotel, at which Dean Ava B. Milan was the speaker, the association voted to subscribe to the bulletin put out by the National Motion Picture League.

Other business matters included the reading and adopting of the new constitution as well as the appointment of three trustees for the scholarship loan fund. The following were named: Miss Frances M. Richards, who will serve a term of three years; Mrs. C. A. Downs, who will serve for two; and Mrs. Lewis Griffith, trustee for one year. Applications for aid from the fund should be made to Miss Richards at Lausanne Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Dalrymple have as their house-guests for the week-end, Mrs. Glen Piper and little son, Phillip, of Portland.

WIDESPREAD INTEREST is attracting itself to the proposed organization in Salem in the very near future of a branch of the National League of Women Voters under the direction of Miss Hester Hollingshead, regional secretary.

A number of Salem's most prominent women have expressed their interest in such a movement, which is entirely distinct from the radical program of the Woman's party and which, further, is strictly nonpartisan.

The object of the National League of Women Voters becomes primarily one of education in citizenship which will work not only for efficiency in government but also for needed legislation, for international cooperation, and for the prevention of war. The league is strictly nonpartisan in policy. And, more, the league is not a woman's party, but its members are those who believe that men and women have a common interest in government and should work together for the maintenance of these. Neither is the league opposed to political parties, but frankly urges its members to enroll in the party of their choice, believing that through their work in the league they will receive education in citizenship, making of them more efficient members.

The league was first organized in 1920 at the passage of the suffrage amendment, until a branch has been organized now in practically every state. A particularly enthusiastic plan for group study has been adopted in Portland.

Among those in Salem who have been interested in the tentative arrangements under Miss Hollingshead's direction are: Miss Cornelia Marvin, Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Mrs. Louis Lachmund, Mrs. Dan Fry, Jr., and Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. I. L. Patterson, Mrs. Z. J. Riggs, Mrs. Fritz Slade, Mrs. Harry Hawkins, Mrs. James Humphreys, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. C. K. Spaulding and Mrs. Charles Weiler.

Mrs. Homer Goulet was the recent guest of honor at a charming bridge luncheon for which Mrs. Arthur Bryan of Portland was the hostess at the Campbell Court hotel.

Among the Salem PEO's who plan to be in attendance at the Founder's day luncheon at the Benson hotel tomorrow noon are Mrs. E. E. Fisher, Mrs. G. W. Laffar, Mrs. B. J. Miles, Mrs. Harwood Hall, Mrs. W. H. Byrd and Mrs. Parks of Chemawa.

On Friday of this week Miss Marjorie Grimsey will be in town to inspect both local chapters—G in the afternoon and AF in the evening.

Miss Jennelle Vandevort, after a five weeks' absence in the east returned home yesterday afternoon, reporting a trip interesting and profitable from every standpoint. Miss Vandevort went east primarily to attend the national executive meeting of the Student YWCA, held over the Christmas and New Year holidays in Madison, N. J. Many matters of interest, including reports and policies for the coming months, came up for thorough consideration. In session at the same time with the YWCA conference attended by Miss Vandevort was the national executive council of the Student YWCA. An adjacent conference being held simultaneously by the executive body of the Student Volunteers made it possible for all three mentioned groups to be together for one day.

Of interest to Miss Vandevort's many friends will be the news that she was elected to sit with the ad interim committee which exercises authority over both the Young Men's and Young Women's Christian associations. A group of 24, 12 men and 12 women, constitute this committee. The next national executive meeting will be held next September somewhere in the middle west.

Miss Vandevort, who went east by the Great Northern route, had the opportunity of returning by

The southern way with stop-overs both at New Orleans and Los Angeles, and in going, at Spokane and Chicago. In New York city Miss Vandevort was a guest at the home of the Peter Brodericks. She was entertained at numerous delightful social affairs.

Miss Margaret Collier of Green Briar farm at Newberg, Or., will return today to her home after a 10-day visit as her house guest of Mrs. C. A. Park.

One of the most attractive among university affairs is the annual Lausanne Hall open house at which time the girls who are residents entertain. The affair for last night was charmingly held at night with calling hours for a large throng of guests from 7:30 to 10:30 o'clock.

The guests were greeted at the door, during the first hour, by Miss Gladys Morton, Miss Mildred Tucker, Miss Oma Emmons and Miss Marjorie Kadow, and during the second, by Miss Dorothea Wiley, Miss Mabel Flock, Miss Louise Kaufman, and Miss Irma Taylor.

Receiving last night were: Miss Anna Best, president of Lausanne hall, Miss Frances M. Richards, and Miss Edith Denise.

A lovely floral arrangement of roses and narcissi was used in the first floor living rooms, while pink carnations were attractive in the table in the second floor living room. Presiding at the lunch bowls during the evening were: Miss Lelia Johnson, Miss Marion Linn, Miss Laura Phipps and Miss Irma Taylor.

A delightful and varied program planned for the pleasure of the guests included piano numbers by Elizabeth Vinson and Miss Vanda Elliott, violin solos by Miss Mary Keith and Miss Betty Siddall, and vocal solos by Miss Deane Smith.

The girls assisting in the dining room for the evening were: Miss Irene Clark, Miss Esther Clark, Miss Helen Lockwood, Miss Margaret Brown, Miss Margaret Johnson, Miss Grace Linn, Miss Helen Baird, Miss Ruth Drew, Miss Wanda Elliott, Miss Elizabeth Vinson, Miss Eleanor Meriwether, and Miss Anna Howell.

Attractive favors were given to those calling by Miss Phoebe Smith and Miss Sevilla Ricks.

An enjoyable social time was had by the members of the choir of the Central Congregational church on Friday evening at the parsonage of Rev. and Mrs. Harry Johnson. An evening of games and general jollification was enjoyed, refreshments being served at a late hour.

Mrs. George Green and daughter, Gloria May, have returned to her home in Eugene after visiting with Mrs. Green's grandmother, Mrs. Sarah Jones.

The members of the Marion Lawrence class of the First Methodist Sunday school met Friday evening at the home of Mrs. B. E. Carrier for a delightful 6:30 o'clock dinner honoring the esteemed teacher of the class, Mrs. M. C. Findley, on the occasion of her birthday. Seventy of the ninety-six members of the class were present for the evening, the fact being revealed that many have been members for as long as sixteen years, with seventeen in the class exceeding in their ages the three score years and ten.

COLOR IT NEW WITH "DIAMOND DYES"

Beautiful home dyeing and tinting is guaranteed with Diamond Dyes. Just dip in cold water to tint soft, delicate shades, or boil to dye rich, permanent colors. Each 15-cent package contains directions so simple any woman can dye of tint lingerie, silks, ribbons, skirts, waists, dresses, coats, stockings, sweaters, draperies, coverings, hangings, everything new. Buy "Diamond Dyes"—no other kind—and tell your druggist whether the material you wish to color is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton, or mixed goods.

The dinner was served in tray style to couples, with the partners being found by the matching of conundrums which had been cut apart.

Joe Nee, accompanied at the piano by Miss Gilbert, added to the pleasure of the evening by the singing of rollicking Scotch songs. A further feature of the program was the giving by the individual members of the recitations they had spoken during childhood. At the business session U. G. Holt was elected president of the class to take the place of Mr. Talbot, Special guests for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Shanks.

Dr. and Mrs. Harry Charlton are house-guests over the weekend of Mrs. J. A. Propp.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold installation of officers, Chamber of Commerce rooms, 7:30 o'clock.

Mrs. A. M. Chapman is spending the week-end as the guest of friends in Portland.

Mrs. Frank Spears and Mrs. Paul Hendricks entertained on Friday with a Gamma Phi Beta luncheon. Those present were Mrs. Hugh McCammon, Mrs. John H. Carson, Mrs. Orris Fry, Mrs. Carl Nelson, Mrs. Hollis Huntington, Mrs. Kenneth Cockerline, Mrs. Frank Spears and Mrs. Paul Hendricks.

Miss Bertha Chittick is spending the week-end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Gogel of Lebanon where this afternoon she will be the bridesmaid at the wedding of their daughter, Katherine, to Mr. Merrill Richmond. Mr. Richmond is well known in Salem.

The Highland Parent-Teacher's association will meet at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening at the school house. J. L. Brady will be the speaker of the evening.

The First Methodist church choir will give a beautiful and well arranged program at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the auditorium at Monmouth. Prof. E. W. Hobson will direct the choir, while Prof. T. S. Roberts will be accompanist for all numbers. The soloists for the evening will be Miss Jean Hobson, pianist, and Mr. Channan violin.

Members of the WCTU will meet at 2:30 o'clock, January 20, to celebrate the fifth anniversary of prohibition. The Highland Union will be guests for the afternoon.

In their delightful manner Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Oglesby entertained the members of the Entre Nous club Wednesday evening. The affair was given at the Oglesby home on Hazel avenue, proving to be one of the most enjoyable parties of the week. The early part of the evening was devoted to five-hundred, with Mrs. Hale and Mr. Wenderoth winning first award, and Mrs. Wenderoth and Mr. Cooper the consolation prize. Refreshments were served at the card tables.

Those enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. H. Hummel, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Oglesby, Mr. and Mrs. George Wenderoth, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Smart, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Hale, Mr. and Mrs. B. Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. A. Henderson, and the hosts, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Oglesby.

The Capital bridge club was charmingly entertained on Wednesday of the past week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Daney. The high score of the evening was won by Mrs. E. L. Baker and O. C. Locke. Special club guests included: Mrs. J. E. Flanders of Portland, Mrs. Jessie Jones, and Miss Rosalie Jones.

The Civic Arts and Landscaping section of the Salem Arts league met Friday for an unusually helpful meeting, with S. H. Van Trump, the leader. The work for the beginning of a new year was outlined along the same lines as were followed up to two years ago. Two points were particularly stressed at the Friday meeting of the class, the first, pruning, and the second, early planting. Particular attention was given to the matter of pruning on account of the critical results of the recent freeze. The two theories the one for immediate, and the other for later, pruning, were advanced, it being the belief of the advocates of the first that the sour sap produced by the excessive cold returns to the roots with disintegrative effects. Since this has never been proved many prefer a postponed pruning in order that the work, on account of the drying stems will not have to be repeated.

The project of early planting will receive full treatment at the next meeting of the class on February 6. The landscape gardener at the Asylum grounds has proposed to bring his blue prints for the new bed of perennials planned to go in this spring. This will give an admirable idea of what plants may be used in this manner for successive bloomings.

The membership in this section is open to all interested, the class-work being based on a cooperative exchange of suggestions and experiences.

Three patriotic orders held joint installation at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday evening in the WOW hall, the Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans, the Daughters of Veterans installing in order. A large crowd was present, completely filling the hall. The drills and floor work put on were of particular interest. Among the many guests of the evening were Department Commander McKay of the GAR and his wife who came down for the ceremonies from Portland. Mr. McKay spoke on what the Daughters and the Sons of Veterans mean to his organization. Others of the GAR were also present in appreciated number.

Mrs. Norma Terwilliger, department president, was the installing officer for the Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans, while C. E. Foster of Portland, state commander, installed for the Sons.

The installing staff for Barbara Friehtie tent included: Lucy S. Looe, department president; Nellie Morton, department secretary; and Marie Bennett, department guide, all of Portland.

For the new year Glen Adams will preside over the Sons of Veterans, Louisa King over the auxiliary, and over the Daughters of Veterans, Alma Fischer.

The complete personnel for the officers of the latter two organizations for the year are, Barbara Friehtie tent, Daughters of Veterans: President, Mrs. Alma Fischer; senior vice president, Mrs. C. M. Lockwood; junior vice president, Miss Adonna Cochran; chaplain, Mrs. Neva Johnston; patriotic instructor, Mrs. E. E. Bergman; treasurer, Miss Julia K. Webster; council, Mrs. F. L. Waters, Mrs. Myrtle Putnam and Mrs. M. F. Brewer; secretary, Mrs. Mabel Nash; guide, Louise Kezar; press correspondent, Gladys Bartholomew; guard, Pearl Ralph, assistant guard, Anna Simmons; musician, Mary Entress; color bearers, one, two, three and four respectively, Truma Huston, Laura Arpke, Rose Huston and Mabel Needham.

For the Auxiliary of the Sons of Veterans: President, Mrs. Louise King; vice president, Mrs. Gertrude Remington; trustees, Mrs. Lizzie Smith, Mrs. Ida Traglio and Mrs. Mary Lickel; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Cameron; chaplain, Mrs. Elizabeth Proctor; patriotic instructor, Mrs. Lizzie Smith; guide, Mrs. Emily Prescott, assistant guide, Mrs. Mary Lewis; color guards, Mrs. Della Clearwater and Mrs. Lulu Boring; inside guard, Elsie Robinson; outside guard, Mrs. Susie Bots; press correspondent, Mrs. Lena Robins; musician, Mrs. Mabel Lockwood; national delegate at large, Mrs. Lizzie Smith; alternate, Mrs. Mary Lewis.

WHOOPIING COUGH
Whooping cough ranks third in fatalities among the communicable diseases of early childhood. This statement is made as a refutation of the prevalent belief that whooping cough as a disease resulted in less than half as many fatalities as whooping cough in the State of Oregon during the last ten years. Not only is whooping cough serious in itself but it infrequently pulmonary tuberculosis follows in its wake.

Whooping cough is prevented with the greatest difficulty. Typhoid fever, smallpox, diphtheria and scarlet fever have been conquered and measures are available for their complete control. We know that whooping cough is caused by a definite germ and we know how it spreads. But just as long as parents keep on thinking that the disease is a mild disorder and hence maintain indifference to the efforts of health officials to check its spread, just so long will epidemics continue to exact their toll of young lives. Another reason for lack of control is that often the disease is not recognized, for the well known "whoop" may not occur until a week even two weeks after the onset. In the meantime the child is spreading the infection all over the neighborhood, for it is during this period that the disease is most contagious. This fact emphasizes the necessity for keeping a child, suffering with what may seem to be just an ordinary cold, at home and away from other children. A cold may be the first sign of whooping cough or it may mark the beginning of any one of several infectious diseases.

Whooping cough is spread only through contact with the fresh secretions of the nose and mouth of another person suffering with the disease.

The prevention of whooping cough consists in keeping all children with colds away from other children. This is a matter solely within the control of parents. Take precautions with your child and insist on your neighbor doing likewise. It is a state law that you report all cases of whooping cough to the health officer.

A vaccine has been developed; while it seems to help little in preventing the disease, it is of considerable value in reducing the severity of the disease. Don't trifle with whooping cough but give it expert care.

Modern Health Methods Applied to Palestine
JERUSALEM, Jan. 17—That Palestine, the land of many diseases, can become a land of health, was the sermon preached during "Health Week" introduced into this country by an American organization. The lessons of health were taught by word of mouth through lectures in schools, synagogues and churches. They were made real by slides and motion pictures, and were popularized by specially prepared leaflets and articles in Hebrew and Arabic press. The campaign was carried to practically every town of any size and to numerous Arab villages and Jewish agricultural settlements.

Proposed by Dr. Simon Tannenbaum of New York, Palestine director of the Hadassah Medical Organization, whose hospitals and sanitary activities are supported by the Women's Zionist Organization of America, "Health Week" rapidly gained the interest of leaders of the Jewish, Christian and Moslem communities and the unofficial support of the Palestine
