

HOLLAND TULIP GROWER VISITS

Jan DeGraf Investigating
Prospects of Large Farms in Salem Districts

Jan DeGraf, of Holland spent Monday in Salem and was taken to the two bulb farms and shown the places where land is supposed to be particularly favorable to bulb raising.

Mr. DeGraf's people have been raising bulbs on the same farm for three hundred years but this land has now become so valuable and the American market so strong that they are figuring on coming to America rather than to go over to England. They already have a large bulb farm in England.

Mr. DeGraf has been all over America and has practically decided that the northwest is the ideal location for a bulb farm. He interviewed all the bulb men here as well as a number of other people. DeGraf is just 21 years old but he has a remarkable business head and is a quiet, unassuming young man. While here he told a story on himself.

In Portland he met a grower who looked him over and said to him, "Why youngster I know more about the bulb business than you can possibly know. I was growing bulbs before you were born." Mr. DeGraf quietly replied that while this might be true, his ancestors had grown bulbs on the same farm for three hundred years and they talked bulb growing in his home all the time, and although he knew nothing else but bulbs, he certainly did know something about them.

Mr. DeGraf expressed himself as highly pleased with Salem and the surrounding country and promised that we should hear from him later.

Linville; and many other bits. "It was choice listening," she said, commenting upon being on the "in" of the workings of the ring.

"LaRonda Pierce wanted me to get Mr. Cleaver to come to a room in which he said a 'fuzzy' were, and as soon as Mr. Cleaver came in the woman was to throw her arms around him," the witness said. She said she and Pierce became "quite chummy," and that it was proposed by Pierce that $500 in money received from Cleaver would be split between them.

Relief

For pain—quick

The worst pains people suffer can be relieved at once. Rheumatic pain, soreness, backache, cold in chest, etc.

Rub the sore spot with red pepper. Nothing else supplies such concentrated, such penetrating heat. And heat that doesn't hurt.

You feel it instantly. In three minutes that heat penetrates to the depths. Circulation starts, congestion is relieved. The pain and the soreness depart.

People used to use plasters, mustard and liniments. But modern science has found a better way, a quicker, more efficient way, a way without objections.

Don't suffer pains which Red Pepper Rub relieves almost at once. Don't let cold in the chest go neglected. Have this rub at hand—get it now. The time will come when its quick relief will mean much to someone in your home.

Red Pepper is saving millions of painful hours. Let it save them for you and yours.

RED PEPPER RUB
for pains of Rheumatism, Backaches, Lumbago, Sprains, Soreness, Neuritis, Corns, Chapped Skin, etc.
At all drug stores.
None genuine without the name Rowles.

London Merchant in the Portland harbor, Houston said that a careful check was made of all liquor taken from the vessel and that this was not sealed when he first saw it. In explaining the extra case that was returned, he said that it had not been checked upon its removal. He denied the reports that LaRonda Pierce had ever been a chief deputy under Cleaver. The manifest of the London Merchant did not quite tally with the stock, he said, being "long on beer and short on whiskey." No objections to searching the ship were made by the captain, who was a prohibitionist. In commenting upon the raid on the Labbe residence in Portland, Houston said that he noticed several under the influence of liquor but none that he recognized. Considerable of Houston's knowledge about certain conditions and affairs was learned from reading the newspapers.

Smith Testifies
A. C. Smith, son of ex-warden Johnson Smith, testified that he had been told by Cleaver not to stop at the sheriff's office in Washington county, for it was "all wrong." Records show that this county has collected more fines than any other in the state by a wide margin and is the banner liquor enforcement county. Culbertson, former chief deputy, was fired because of third degree methods, Smith said. In speaking of the tactics at St. Paul, he said that Culbertson, with the marshal of Newberg, made the arrest, had handcuffed the man and then knocked him down. Culbertson was fired for this the next day. Any information that he received from private or personal sources must first be endorsed by either Culbertson or Cleaver before any action could be taken, he said.

Witness Is Interesting
Senator Gariand, in bringing the session to a close at 6 o'clock, paid Mrs. Washburn the compliment of "being the most interesting witness I have ever heard."

Those whose names were mentioned will be given an opportunity to appear before the committee and refute them if they wish, it was decided. Because of the statements made by Mrs. Washburn, Linville will receive a subpoena to appear before the committee.

The proceedings will continue behind locked doors at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Russians Turn to American Methods in Industrial Life

CHICAGO, Jan. 28.—Indication that soviet Russia is considering plans to turn to industrial activity and an adoption, in part at least, of American commercial methods were seen here in the announcement that Assonova, a Russian architect, society in Moscow, had written Frank Lloyd Wright, architect and engineer of this city, asking him to come to Russia and assist in the new work.

The society invited Mr. Wright to join it first of all in the designing of the "Temple of Work," which it is understood the soviet government has planned to build in Moscow as something of a monument to the end of Czarism and the birth of toilers' freedom.

The campaign workers of the YWCA budget have taken a fresh grip on things and are getting ready for the opening battle today. The various subscribers' names have been sifted and those who were not interviewed during the past few days will be given an opportunity to subscribe to the budget fund.

The workers are facing a deficiency of nearly $1,000 in securing working funds for this year. It is their hope to secure this amount during the remaining days of the campaign.

A fund of $6,000 is required for the activities of the present year, and unless this amount is secured the activities of the YW will be curtailed and possibly be discontinued in part.

Mrs. Harry Hawkins and Mrs. J. J. Roberts, who have been directing the activities of more than 50 of Salem's prominent club and society leaders, are expected to put the budget pledges across the top.

GERMANY OPPOSED TO OPIUM PLANS

Long Silence Broken; Disapprove Method of Electing Central Board

GENEVA, Jan. 28.—(By The Associated Press.)—Germany today broke her silence in the international opium conference and energetically opposed a plan drawn up at private meetings of the leaders for the method of electing the proposed central anti-narcotic board of control.

In order to avoid any misunderstanding, and in a spirit of fairness to all, Stephen G. Porter, head of the American delegation and Viscount Cecil representing Great Britain decided to change the original formula for the creation of the group of states which will elect members of the central board.

Instead of saying these members would be elected by countries which are members of the council of the league of nations, plus the United States, they agreed to say "countries which themselves are members of the council, with one country representing the non-members of the league."

This formula was proposed by Mr. Porter officially to the sub-committee which is studying the functions of the board, but Dr. Eckert, the German delegate submitted an amendment to the effect that two states, instead of one should represent the countries outside the league.

Spring To Witness Opening Of W. H. Hudson Memorial

LONDON, Jan. 28.—The Hyde Park memorial to the late W. H. Hudson, the famous novelist and naturalist, will be ready for opening next spring.

The memorial itself is being done by Jacob Epstein, the modern sculptor whose work is well known in America, while the architectural features, which include a bird bath, a wall and seats with a lily pond, have been entrusted to Lionel Pearson.

Mr. Epstein is carving the monument out of a single block of Portland stone and is doing all the work himself. It is to represent in part an "incarnation of the spirit of nature" inspired by Hudson's "Green Mansions."

The authorities have allotted to the memorial one of the finest sites in London, very nearly in the center of the park. The garden nearby and the surrounding ground and trees have already been declared a bird sanctuary.

Aggies Win From Montana State By Score of 24-22

CORVALLIS, Ore., Jan. 28.—The Oregon Agricultural college basketball team in a hard fought game, defeated Montana here tonight 24 to 22.

A basket shot by Brown, Aggie center, in the last few seconds of play gave victory to the Aggies. The score at that time was 22 to 22. The Aggies closed the first half with a lead of 14 to 8 over Montana.

CHINESE CITY TAKEN

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28.—General Lu Yung-Hsiang, military governor of Chekiang, has occupied the city of Soochow and is advancing on Quinsan. He has instructed his forces not to fight further in the neighborhood of Shanghai, which he expects to take possession of soon.

"If it has been possible to cite words of an American senator which were unfavorable to France, it must be forgotten how many are those in America who remember the common ordeal and intend to treat the problem not as one of exclusively commercial or financial order but almost as one of moral order. France can only say how deeply she feels such words coming from far away and how they touch her at the moment she is searching her resources for her unfortunate devastated regions.

KANSAS GOVERNOR WHO IS ACCUSED WITH SON IN PARDON BRIBERY SCANDAL

A warrant charging Governor Jonathan M. Davis with bribery in connection with the granting of a pardon to Fred Pollman, of La Crosse, Kan., a banker convicted of forgery, was issued the day his term of office expired. It is alleged that Davis's son Russell got $1,250, delivered the pardon and stepped into a trap that had been set for him. Davis was the second Democratic Governor in the history of Kansas. He was the State's favorite son last June at the Democratic National Convention and was mentioned prominently as a possibility when the Smith-McAdoo deadlock broke. Later he was talked of to take second place on the national ticket.

There Are No Melancholy Days

SINCE the advent of the automobile poets have ceased to sing of the "melancholy days." There's no such animal. In these days of unusually low prices for such remarkably good used cars everybody can afford a car. You don't have to sit on the sidelines any more.
