Ernest H. Shanks, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Lois Vinton as maid of honor while the groom chose Mr. Cleon Collier as his best man. A number of delightful social affairs were given in Mrs. Steeves' honor. Dr. and Mrs. Steeves report a pleasant journey, with weather conditions most congenial.

At a delightfully given miscellaneous shower the engagement of Miss Marian Steiwer to Mr. Ed L. Ketchum of McMinnville was announced at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Allison, by the ladies of the Hopewell and Fairview districts. The bride was made the recipient of many useful and attractive gifts at this time.

of Music as an Art." A delightful luncheon was served by the hostess late in the evening.

Tuesday was a scintillant day for Miss Elizabeth Levy who not only received a letter of greeting from her famed violin master, Cesar Thomson, wishing her success in her coming concert, but also had the delightful opportunity of meeting in Portland Miss Alice Seckels, founder and manager of the Master School of Musical Art which has newly been established in San Francisco and endowed by Mrs. Alice Campbell McFarlane in San Francisco, with a branch in Los Angeles. Of course, the main interest to Miss Levy was the fact that Cesar Thomson had been chosen to give the violin instruction. One almost gasps at the fee, but it is interesting none the less, — the minimum number of five private lessons calling for a tuition of $140, this, as one readily sees, averaging $28 for each half hour.

Wide interest is attending Miss Levy's coming concert. Edgar E. Coursen, the eminent Portland musician, will accompany her. Mr. Coursen is both accompanist for the Portland Apollo club and for the soloists of the Orpheus singers. On Monday, February 2, he is accepting an interesting invitation to play for Carl Kiesch, world-known concert violinist, in Missouri, Mont.

Mrs. Paul Hauser will entertain the members of the Kensington club this afternoon at her home, 925 Saginaw street.

Mr. and Mrs. William McCall entertained pleasantly on Sunday for small groups of their friends. As guests to dinner Mr. and Mrs. McCall had Mr. and Mrs. Amos Vass. Later in the afternoon Justice and Mrs. George M. Brown and daughters, Marjorie and Elaine, joined the group for the radio program.

Guests in the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Marsters and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Marsters.

The women's society of the First Baptist church will hold their quarterly business meeting and tea on Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. J. Mathis, 161 South Fourteenth street. Mrs. Theo. Turner, Mrs. Earl Gregg, Mrs. Floyd White and Mrs. Ethel Walker will assist Mrs. Mathis. "The Wise Women of the Bible" is the topic chosen by Mrs. O. B. Neptunes, who has charge of the devotions.

A short business session will be followed by a musical program rendered by Mrs. W. F. Foster, Mrs. Earl Peary and Miss Betty Siddall, and a reading by Mrs. Geo. King. All women of the congregation are very cordially invited.

From Cincinnati, Ohio, comes a most interesting and sincere letter from Miss Myrtle Maxwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Maxwell, who is engaged in social service work among her own people, representing the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church.

The letter opens in this manner: "It was so kind of you to remember me, and you must just wait until I tell you what I did with that money." And then it continues as follows: "I had gloves, so I knew that you would be glad for me to spend it in a way that made me very, very happy."

"Friendship Home has a rummage sale frequently, and it happened that I spent this money at this sale. I bought a coat for 25 cents, a hat for 10 cents, three suits of heavy underwear at 15 cents a suit, a pair of fairly good shoes for 10 cents, and two pair of stockings at five cents.

"For myself? No, for a dear little girl who lives down the street. I was taking the children home from kindergarten, and I met little Entella on the street. It was very cold, and she was wearing barefoot sandals in the real sense of the word, because her sandals had no soles. She had on a thin voile dress, a pair of bloomers, a ragged sweater and some ragged stockings. That is every piece she had on. The coat I bought was very nice, I cleaned and pressed it, and had the little hat blocked, for it was a nice little hat, and dressed up this little girl. She was so happy. She lives in one room, cold, damp and dark, with mother and father and four younger children. She is a child who needs a chance, but there are so many in her same condition. It surely makes me heart-sick when I call in these crowded places and see the bright-faced little children, each one full of possibilities for making a mark in the world. And then when I look at their sordid environment, their crowded living conditions, I feel as though all effort on our part to help lift them above the evil influences of their environment is in vain.

"I know though that it is not in vain, for when one is working for the Lord he can rest assured that every effort will bring about some good, even though it is not visible. There are such wonderful opportunities for service in this work. I do enjoy my work so much. I never can thank the dear Salem women for taking such an interest in me and giving me such a wonderful opportunity. The came just at the right time the turning point in my life, when I had to make up my mind just what road I was to travel, that of seeking success for self or that of service for the Master.

"There is only one way I can ever halfway repay my debt of thankfulness and this is by giving myself unreservedly for the uplift of humanity and for the bringing in of many souls for Christ. I need your prayers that I may grow stronger and do more for the Kingdom."

The West Side Circle of the Jason Lee Aid society will hold a special meeting at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mrs. Richard Erickson, 1515 North Liberty street. The meeting is called in order to make plans for the new year.

Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding will act as chairman for the first bridge tea planned in the series as benefits for the building fund of the Salem Woman's club house, which is announced for Friday, February 6.

Those on the committee with Mrs. Spaulding will be Mrs. Frank G. Bowersox, Mrs. John L. Rand, Mrs. Wilson H. Darby, Mrs. Fredrick H. Thompson, Mrs. P. A. Ericker, Mrs. W. L. Pemberton, Mrs. Merrill D. Ohling, Mrs. Homer Gouley, Mrs. J. Shelley Saurman, Mrs. Phil Newmyer, Mrs. Frank W. Durbin, Mrs. G. E. Schuneman, and Mrs. Max O. Buren.

Mrs. Spaulding has called a meeting of the committee for 2:30 o'clock this afternoon when details will be worked out. The group meeting at her home, 1630 Court street, will later attend the Scholarship Loan tea at the club house.

Delightful in every way was the meeting yesterday of the Sweet Briar club for which Mrs. Imah was hostess. The paper of the afternoon, on "Egyptian Art," was given by Mrs. Rose Adams. Two charming solos were given by Mrs. Arthur Utley. Tulips gave an attractive floral motif in the rooms.

The next meeting of the club will be in two weeks with Mrs. M. C. Petteys.

Child Health Work in Marion County Presented to Rotarians Yesterday

Dr. Walter H. Brown, who is to have charge of the five-year child health program in Marion county for the Commonwealth fund of New York City, was the principal speaker at the Rotary club yesterday.

"We have made marked material successes," declared Dr. Brown, "but we have paid little heed to the life saving processes. The appalling losses of children in the early periods of life, the enormous death rate from preventable diseases, and the fact of the 33 and one-third per cent of were physically defective to bear arms during the late World war has opened the eyes of the people of the United States."

The policy of the Commonwealth health program officials is cooperation and not domination. They plan to work with and through the present health agencies that are in operation in the county, and to supplement the agencies now at work.

Dr. Brown declared that the commonwealth fund is to be used to pay for the demonstration that is put on here, and their purpose is to evaluate a health program that will place physical health on the same plane that is given to material things.

Bill Would Prohibit Misuse of State Cars

Joyriding in state owned motor or horse-drawn vehicles is prohibited in H. B. No. 195, introduced yesterday by Representative Randall. The measure makes it unlawful to authorize or permit any person to drive state owned automobiles or trucks, or horse-drawn vehicles, who is not directly in full authority to use the vehicle. A fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100 is provided as a penalty.

but a large amount in this section last year, is in Woodburn this week signing up contracts for next season. He expects to also be here a part of next week, after which farmers can sign acreage at either of the banks of this city.

Farmers are signing up and it is gratifying to note the interest being taken, especially when the No. 1 cucumber has been eliminated. This will mean less work and more money to the farmers. —Woodburn Independent.

Hospital Appropriation Sought By Hurlbut

An appropriation of $17,500 for a hospital on lands owned by the Louise Home in Multnomah county is sought in H. B. No. 191, introduced by Representative Hurlbut. The home is for unfortunate and delinquent girls.

Migratory Bird Act Is Rejected By Lower House

Two memorials introduced by the game committee were adopted by the house yesterday, some debate centering around the adoption of House Joint Memorial No. 1, relative to the migratory bird refuge act. It was pointed out by Representative Kirkwood that the only reference to a public shooting ground was in the title of the bill and that those first in favor of it had reversed their opinion. Representative Woodward championed the cause, but the memorial asking congress to reject the bird refuge act was adopted with only four negative votes.

Seeking to keep Diamond lake as a trout egg-taking station and opposing a move to include the lake in the Crater Lake national park, House Joint Memorial No. 3 was also approved by the representatives.

DOCTORS SAY: DON'T NEGLECT COUGH OR COLD

Physicians warn against neglecting cough and cold as well as the serious complications that may result. Leading physicians now prescribe BALSAMEA for all bronchial affections. BALSAMEA is a pure vegetable preparation made from a newly discovered plant, Dr. Benj. F. Crabtree, Anderson, Mo., writes, "I use it exclusively for my practice and my family. It is quick, sure and safe in its action like nothing else."

Toward the end of the influenza epidemic a government physician noticed that a tribe of Indians in Nevada, by the use of a herb from a native plant were immune from the ravages of influenza. He used these herbs among his white patients and then in a hospital overflowing with "death" cases. News of the results swept the world and for some time it was not possible to supply the demand.

BALSAMEA has now been standardized and gives uniformly miraculous results in four ways: 1. It soothes the inflamed membrane and relieves irritation. 2. It increases secretion of mucus and permits easy expectoration. 3. It stimulates pores of the skin in throwing off body poisons and 4. It strikes at the cause, blocking germ action immediately.

Do not confuse it with ordinary balsam cough syrups that do not go to the base of the trouble. Unlike other cough remedies BALSAMEA is free from coal tar and other harmful narcotics. Pleasant to take and absolutely safe to give to children.

Be sure you get BALSAMEA with the picture of the Indian on the package. Guaranteed to relieve any cough, no matter from what cause, or your money back. All druggists sell BALSAMEA. In Salem buy it from J. C. Perry, the Druggist—Adv.

BALSAMEA

"Improvement was almost immediate," writes Mrs. A. Lynch, 1011 Adams St., San Francisco, after giving BALSAMEA to her small daughter who suffered from Bronchitis. Give it to your children.
