

OREGON FLAX IN BIG EXHIBITION

In That of the Retail Merchants' Convention in New York

Warden A. M. Dalrymple of the Oregon penitentiary has received from D. M. Sanson, president of Dominion Linens, Ltd., a letter acknowledging the receipt of samples of flax sent on request.

Mr. Sanson says the flax straw and fiber arrived at the Donegal Mill, Lockport, N. Y., in good condition, and that they are arranging to send the samples on to make up a part of their exhibit.

Mr. Sanson suggests that if there are any Oregonians in New York, they will be welcome at the exhibit. It will be at the Retail Merchants' convention, from Feb. 7 to 14, in the Grand Central Palace, in booth No. 70.

No doubt Oregon will get a lot of advertising from this exhibit of flax and fiber by the big Canadian concern. All such advertising is of great importance now, when we are seeking to attract more capital to help develop our flax and linen industries.

held at the home of Mrs. Emma Beckett.

Not only the classes in millinery and dressmaking will start on Monday at McCornack hall under the direction of Mrs. F. E. Barker, but also a class in interior decoration. Special attention will be paid to the principles underlying simple and artistic house-furnishing and to the making of bookends, lamp shades, and candlesticks. Especial interest is being expressed in the pre-Easter classes in millinery and dressmaking.

Scire Buell, a student under Professor William Wallace Graham, was one of the three participants yesterday at the noon-time concert broadcasting over KGW under the sponsorship of the Portland Civic Music Club. Mr. Buell's numbers were: "Legenda" (Wienawski) and "Liebesfreud" (Kreiser). His accompaniments were played by Nora Bayes Stone.

The many Salem friends of Mr. Buell will be interested in the following interesting statement from the Oregonian occasioned by his former radio program: "Scire Buell's former appearance as a radio entertainer netted him many commendatory calls expressing appreciation of his artistry."

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Ghormley have moved from Corvallis to Salem to make their home.

In celebration of the 66th anniversary of Oregon as a state, a banquet will be given by the Society of Sons and Daughters of Oregon Pioneers in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, Oregon building, February 14. The complete programme had not yet been arranged. A huge birthday cake with 66 candles, a reunion hour, a Valentine's day number and a concert will feature the event. J. N. Neal will be toastmaster—Oregonian.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Townsend were hosts on Wednesday evening for the last of the January meetings of the BE club. About the rooms were attractive baskets of Oregon Grape and pussy willows. In the serving at the close of the evening Mrs. Townsend was assisted by Mrs. Ed Keene. The high playing awards went to Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bussey, and the low to Mrs. O. L. Scott and Mrs. Hauk.

Special guests of the club for the evening were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Hauk, Mr. and Mrs. C. Jepson, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bussey, and Mrs. Jennie Ferguson.

The club personnel includes: Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Fandrick, Dr. and Mrs. O. L. Scott, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Olmstead, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Keene, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Kightlinger, and Mrs. Frank Turner, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Davies, Mr. and Mrs. John Spang, and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Townsend.

The next meeting of the club will be in two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bussey.

Mrs. J. E. Flanders was the honor guest at the delightful luncheon on Tuesday at which Mrs. W. A. Jones was hostess. Mah Jong was the chosen diversion of the afternoon. Covers were placed for: Mrs. J. E. Flanders, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. L. F. Griffith, Mrs. H. H. Olinger, Mrs. W. H. Dancy, Mrs. C. C. Locke, Mrs. E. L. Baker, Mrs. Frank Meredith, and the hostess, Mrs. Jones.

The Salem Floral society will meet tomorrow night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms. Election of officers will be held at this time. The speaker of the evening will be H. V. Bateham, gardener at the state hospital, who will talk on color combinations in perennials. Special musical numbers will also add to the pleasure of the evening.

Those who take their mid-day meal downtown will be interested in availing themselves tomorrow of the cafeteria service at McCornack hall, with the members of the Woman's Relief corps in charge. The hostesses for the dinner are: Mesdames Boris, Bouffeur, Thompson, Bennett and Krapps.

Mr. John Evans and Mrs. John Caughell are home from a four weeks' trip to San Francisco, Los Angeles, San Diego and Tia Juana.

A special invitation is extended to all visiting Past Matrons of the Eastern Star to be guests this evening at the no-host 8 o'clock luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ida M. Godfrey, 405 North Liberty street, on the corner of Liberty and Center. This is the first meeting of the year with a large number of members and guests expected to be in attendance. Mrs. Godfrey's telephone number is 1443-J. Each member will, of course, pay her own cover charge for the luncheon.

Mrs. Edwin L. Baker is entertaining as her house-guest (ill the close of the legislature Miss Nean West of Portland.

The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Devers, 599 North Summer street, when Mrs. Augusta Higert will be the hostess. Miss Maude Covington, city librarian will contribute to the afternoon's program.

The Woman's society of the First Baptist church will meet at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Matthis, 161 South Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Frank Crawford was hostess yesterday afternoon for 20 of the Brush College Helpers. The afternoon was devoted to the making of sunbonnets for the interesting project in relation to the Old People's Home. Refreshments were served late in the afternoon.

An interesting program has been arranged for tomorrow night by the "Verena Harmonic club to be given at 8 o'clock at St. Paul's parish house. A special feature will be the group of 24 singers coming down for the occasion from Portland. Instrumental and vocal solos will combine to make the evening a pleasant one.

Approximately $55 was realized yesterday afternoon as a result of the Salem Woman's club tea, one of the eminently successful social affairs of the season.

The club rooms were attractive with many potted plants. Red carnations and greenery with red candles were used on the beautifully appointed tea table, where Mrs. Richard Cartwright and Mrs. W. C. Kantner and Mrs. Henry J. Bean and Mrs. C. P. Bishop alternated.

The entire afternoon was interspersed with delightful musical numbers. Mrs. Martin Fereshtian gave a charming group; Miss Elizabeth Lewis played her piano numbers with unmistakable talent, while every one of the Pied Piper stringed instrument numbers was vastly pleasing.

Receiving with Mrs. C. K. Spaulding, the club president, were: Mrs. F. A. Elliott, Mrs. J. A. Churchill and Mrs. George H. Alden.

The hostesses in the rooms, both drawing room and dining room, were Mrs. W. F. Fargo, Mrs. Seymour Jones, Mrs. B. E. Carrier, Mrs. E. H. Kennedy, Mrs. Horace Williston, Mrs. C. E. Bates, Mrs. T. S. Roberts, Mrs. Frank Myers, Mrs. Frank Erickson, and Mrs. Nerle Rosecrans. Mrs. Harwood Hall, Mrs. Ronald Glover, Mrs. L. H. Mabon, Mrs. Max Buren, Mrs. U. G. Shipley, Mrs. W. D. Clark, Mrs. G. R. Donnell, Mrs. W. E. Kirk, Mrs. E. C. Richards, Mrs. Frances Richards, Mrs. H. T. Love, Mrs. John Scott, Mrs. A. M. Chapman, Mrs. W. E. Anderson, Mrs. C. A. Kells, Miss Lenora Carver, Mrs. Morton E. Peck, Miss Margaret Cosper and Miss Mattie Beatty.

The committees in charge won the approval of all for the manner in which the arrangements were carried out. The next large club affair will be the bridge tea on next Friday with Mrs. Walter L. Spaulding in charge of arrangements.

Salem Does Not Realize Advantage of Willamette

"Many people of Salem do not fully realize what a great institution they have in their midst," said Dr. G. L. Tufts, field secretary of Willamette university. "My work takes me to all parts of the state," he said, "and I find the college is growing in popularity. A lady from eastern Oregon said to me last week that her town would not employ any teacher in their public school except Willamette graduates.

"At the present time," said Dr. Tufts, "there are 100 more students in attendance than the board of trustees decided they could accommodate. This proves the importance of securing the million-dollar endowment fund as soon as possible in order that other buildings may be erected and the capacity of the school enlarged. The endowment fund will yield $60,000 annually in interest to be expended here at Salem. The present student body spends about $300,000 each year in the city and every additional student who brings to Salem about $2,000 during the four-year course.

"I find," said Dr. Tufts, "that some of our business firms take objection to the student body sending any of their work to other towns. While it is the policy of the university authorities to patronize home institutions, yet it may be well to remind ourselves that the business men of Portland and Eugene are each giving more to the endowment fund than our local firms. Yet the business men of those cities are not asking for any favors in return for their gifts to the university. Nearly every town in the state is pouring its money into the treasury of the university, which practically means into the lap and pockets of Salem."

FIGHT FOR COUNTY SEAT IS RESUMED

Jacksonville-Medford Court House Feud Resurrected By House Bill

Echoes of the Jacksonville-Medford fight for the location of the county seat of Jackson county were heard in the house yesterday in HB No. 214, introduced by Representative Carlin by request of the Jackson County Bar association. So far efforts upon the part of Medford and the remainder of Jackson county to move the court house from Jacksonville to Medford have proven fruitless.

The measure provides that upon petition signed by one-fifth of the votes cast at the previous general election may be sufficient to force the county court to call a special election within 90 days. Prior to this time the petition was available only upon the signatures of three-fifths of the voters.

A previous bill provided that the place selected by the court must be designated and the offices moved within 90 days. Holding that such a transfer would be an impossibility, the new bill gives one year's time to make the change.

As a rule you can judge a man by the size of the man he envies.

FIXED SALARY TO BE ASKED IN BILL

Fixing of salaries of district attorneys by law and providing for slight increases in a number of counties is asked by Representative Mott, of Clatsop county, who has introduced H. B. No. 213. The proposed law designates the method of all additional revenues received for payment of salaries by establishing fees in certain other than criminal cases.

Under the provisions of the measure the salaries of district attorneys in Marion and adjoining counties would be $3000 instead of $2400 in Marion; $1800 instead of $1200 in Polk; $2400 instead of $2100 in Linn and $3000 instead of $2400 in Clackamas. The salary of the Multnomah county district attorney would be $6000 instead of $4500. No changes of salary were suggested in several counties and in others the increase was but slight.
