PRISON SHOW TO RUN EXTRA NIGHT

Vaudeville Meets With Phenomenal Success—Will Be Offered Monday

Owing to the phenomenal success of the "Follies of 1924," the vaudeville now being given at the prison auditorium, the show will be billed for an extra presentation on Monday night.

Managerial ability and talent have reached an unprecedented climax in the present show. Never has an offering at the institution been received with such appreciation. The boys have played to a full house during the entire week and hundreds have been turned away for lack of seating room. As originally intended the show was to play for this week only, but the generous expressions of approval from five audiences has influenced the warden, and he has yielded to the wishes of the crowds who had been unable to secure tickets, and another night of fun is promised.

Though the stage hands complain of weariness from raising the curtains to the repeated encores, the singers, musicians and comedians are still full of pep and eager to please. The show gets better with each performance and the cream of the engagement is predicted for Monday night. Tickets on sale at Perry's drug store, as usual, and no one will be admitted after the gate closes at 8:15. Doors open at 7:30 o'clock.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Quarterly Reports Sought In Sterilization Measure

Quarterly reports from superintendents of the state hospital, feeble minded school, prison and state health office to the board of eugenics of all persons who are feeble minded, insane, epileptic, habitual criminals, moral degenerates and sexual perverts who are likely to become a menace to society, would be compulsory if HB No. 254, by Woodward, becomes a law.

The proposed measure requires that the clerk of the court must file a certified copy of the conviction with the state board of eugenics in cases of rape and other offenses specified in section 2099, Oregon laws. The measure is an amendment to section 2, chapter 194, laws of 1923, pertaining to the sterilization of feeble-minded and others.

New Parole Measures are Offered Representatives

Bills designed to create a board of parole and to regulate the pardoning power of the governor were introduced yesterday by Representative Bennett after similar bills by the same author had been rejected by the committee as unconstitutional. The new measures are expected to remedy the defects of the other bills, but will probably suffer the same fate.

H. B. No. 169 would have the presiding justice of the supreme court, governor, secretary of state, attorney general and the warden on the board, meeting in open session. Applications for parole must be received from the prosecuting attorney, in writing, and filed 30 days before coming before the board. A parole officer receiving $125 a month is included in the bill.

Under H. B. No. 170 the pardoning power of the governor and the granting of reprieves would be limited to cases in which the sentence was for more than five years, including life imprisonment.

The speaker then raised his menu card and glanced at it. First on the list was the name of a cocktail; opposite the soup was the name of a fine sherry; with the fish went sautern; with the meat red wine, and with the chicken course champagne. After that there was port for the toasts to the king and president and brandy to go with the coffee.

Before he sat down Mr. Churchill spoke with obvious pride about the British navy and with manifest sincerity about the accomplishments of the Washington arms conference. His words here were in part a repetition of the speech he made a year ago in welcoming Mr. Kellogg.
