AMERICAN LEGION DOING ITS PART AND SOMETHING BESIDES 1 to aver

An old philosopher once said, "Most men do their duty in this world. Some men do just a little bit more. And it is the men who do the little bit more who move the world."

A few days ago Eugene Post of The American Legion at Eugene, Oregon, sent national headquarters $75 for the great endowment project for the disabled and the orphan. And C. H. Berry Post at Tamagua, Pennsylvania, sent its check for $17.13 for the fund.

These posts had not been solicited. The movement had not officially begun. They simply read in the newspapers about the project. Their wish to support it did the rest. These posts are composed of men who do just a little bit the farmers were divided, of to satisfy the legislature. That more. And they are typical of the Legion. It is men like course the opponents straightway was the main thought of the first these who make up the Legion. When this splendid move- got busy and took this as authority half of the legislature.
