Slips One Over—
A well dressed stranger stepped into the silk shop of a well known store of this city some time ago and so completely sold himself by his story of "the sick wife, who wanted certain silk 'undies' and things" that he managed to get away with about $25 worth of silk clothes. Yesterday the same well dressed stranger presented himself to the owner of the same silk shop which had moved its location to Court street and prevented the same old plea of the sick wife. Surprise held the store-keeper in its grasp, however, and she was unable to recover from the effects until the stranger had vanished to whence he had come.

Howard Speaks Today—
Clinton N. Howard, the great lecturer and apostle of peace, speaks at three places in Salem today. At 11 o'clock he will speak at the First Congregational church; at 3 o'clock at the First Methodist, and at 7:30 in the evening at the First Christian church. Mr. Howard is a speaker of great power and he has a message which he is delivering to Americans in every part of the country. His appeal is not hysterical. It is common sense but effective. That he will have a large audience at each appearance goes without saying. Because of his great reputation Salem people will be glad to hear him, and it is a rare opportunity for the city of Salem to have this man speak three times to its citizens.

Education is almost as expensive as ignorance.

THE CROSS TRIFOCAL IS MAKING OPTICAL HISTORY

Last week when we announced this new wonder lens, we did not anticipate the remarkable reception it would receive. All week we have been demonstrating and fitting this latest optical achievement. Already a great many citizens of this community are wearing "Cross Trifocals" with perfect comfort, and many of them had tried, and found ordinary bifocals unsatisfactory. To date we have not had a single instance where Trifocals have not been entirely satisfactory. If you have not already seen this ingenious lens, we invite you to come in and permit us to explain it further.

THE CROSS TRIFOCAL IS MAKING OPTICAL HISTORY

The distance correction (d) and the reading (r) have been so ground from a piece of solid glass that the jump and confusion, found in ordinary ground in bifocals, has been eliminated. The sections (i) gives clear vision at intermediate distances something heretofore impossible with double lenses.

EVERYONE WEARING BIFOCAL GLASSES should see this new idea in lens making. It will undoubtedly become indispensable especially among business men and desk workers.
