POULTRY INDUSTRY ASKING FOR HELP

Committees for a Veterinarian and for an Egg Laying Contest for Oregon

The committees of the Oregon Poultry association met the legislative committee last night and presented the argument for an appropriation to be used in employing a state poultry veterinarian and also to defray the expense of an annual egg laying contest in this state, similar to those conducted in the states of Washington and California. The committee on state veterinarian comprised Mrs. W. H. Thompson, A. H. Dowsett, W. H. Hart, Andrew Eggman, Ambrose Brownell, and Mr. Nicholson. Committee on egg laying contest, J. E. McRae.

GLEAVER TESTIMONY COMES TO END

land, chairman, has received nearly 75 letters, chiefly from women, complaining of discourtesies. Both the governor and the committee were at a loss to explain their origin until Senator Eddy offered a highly plausible explanation which was accepted.

In opening up the situation in Yamhill county and The Dalles, the governor said. He could not say whether or not a single conviction had resulted by Weinberg's activities, which were controlled by Mr. Herwig.

Herwig Refutes Kietzing
Refuting statements made to the committee Monday night by L. M. Kietzing, of the National Law Enforcement League, Mr. Herwig said that as a business manager of the Western American, Mr. Kietzing had insisted that Cleaver and some of his men were crooked. He denied saying he could replace Cleaver in 12 hours if the right man was found and that he had a list of 20 names. What he did tell Mr. Kietzing, he said, was that if evidence was submitted and Mr. Cleaver proven guilty, he would see that he was removed.

Attacks upon Mr. Cleaver and the governor by the Western American, official Klan publication, were made for the reason that Klan representatives were not being employed in numbers pleasing to the Klan, he said, declaring there was no cooperation between the two organizations.

Loneragan Again Objects
Representative Lonergan took Mr. Herwig to task for his statement to the press in which he said that Mr. Lonergan had insisted that the vouchers for the fund provided by Portland people, $5000, be given to the committee as well as those covering expenditures of the $1500 of state money. Records were quoted to prove Mr. Herwig has misstated the situation and an offer of apology was made by Mr. Herwig.

Mr. Herwig denied ever dictating to the police of the prohibition department, particularly in reference to appointments of agents, and had always acted in the spirit of mutual cooperation, to help Cleaver his one main object.

Cleaver Reaffirms Position

Mr. Cleaver reiterated his previous remarks that he had had no experience in prohibition or law enforcement prior to taking the office and had been advised to counsel with those who had had experience. This understanding was reached at a conference between Governor Pierce and Mr. Herwig prior to the appointment. His policies met with approval by the governor, he said, and he had tried to satisfy Governor Pierce and Mr. Herwig to the best of his ability. The proposed Labbe raid in Portland was discussed with the governor when the "tip" was brought to Salem, Mr. Cleaver said.

Governor Pierce concurred in the interpretation of the law that it was the duty of the district attorneys and the sheriffs to cooperate rather than place the burden upon the state prohibition department.

barrier at present; HB No. 176, by the Yamhill delegation, providing tax assessments to pay bounties on gray squirrels, gophers and moles; HB No. 218, by Coffey, giving authority to counties having agricultural fairs for the last three years permission to tax themselves for the purpose of erecting new buildings; HB No. 237, by the game committee, enlarging the present wild bird and game refuge in Yamhill county; HB No. 248, by the committee on public lands, authorizing the state land board to sell timber on state lands and the proceeds to go to the irrevocable school fund, and HB No. 266, by the game committee, shortening the game refuge along the upper Columbia river by moving the western boundary to the east entrance of the Cello canal.

Adjournment Early

After considerable discussion, with many members in opposition, HB No. 196, a substitute for No. 94, was withdrawn by Representative Hercher when it appeared doomed to failure. The proposed law sought to limit the qualifications of voters at school district elections and meetings, when the matter of a bond issue was to be decided, to owners of real property.

Col. W. D. G. Mercer, chaplain of the senate, offered the opening prayer. Just before adjournment at 3 o'clock the house adopted house joint resolution No. 6, by Collier and others, requiring voters to register before election day or face being disfranchised for the election. The measure met with a little opposition.

The house will convene at 10 o'clock this morning.

SENATE ADJOURNS FOR LIQUOR PROBE

Little Work Accomplished in Short Afternoon Session; Few Bills Read

Few bills were introduced in the senate yesterday, due to the fact that only a 15 minute session was held in the afternoon, to enable the members to attend the final hearing of the investigation of the Cleaver department.

Senate bill No. 144, introduced by the committee on revision of laws, relating to assault and battery cases, was read for the first time. The others were: SB No. 145, by Senator Magladry, authorizing the board of regents of the University of Oregon to convey title to a portion of the university campus to the city of Eugene, SB No. 146, by Senator Klepper, relating to mutual life insurance companies, other than fire and theft, incorporated under laws of other states and counties, and provides for granting of permissions to such companies to operate here.

A number of bills were up for second reading during the morning session, and were referred to the proper committees. Several measures were re-committed. House Bill No. 173, introduced by Representative Swan, relating to the real estate of minors, was passed.

Recommendation of a bill to provide a committee to make a deeper investigation into the special consolidation of state departments, was made by the committee now acting. Inability to devote sufficient time to the matter caused the committee to make this report.

House concurrent resolution No. 7, was tabled. It calls for the appointment of special committee to study the effect on health of persons using paint spray guns. HB No. 93, introduced by Representative German, providing for hawking and peddling without a license, by disabled ex-service men, was postponed indefinitely.

Red Cross Campaign to Get Under Way Monday

Nearly 250 workers will meet at the Chamber of Commerce Monday morning to organize for the annual Red Cross roll call which opens February 9. The workers will be divided into groups of two, according to plans made by T. M. Hicks, who heads the work in Salem.

About $7500 will be needed to carry on the work in the county, and Salem will be called upon to contribute the major portion of this amount. Red Cross buttons will be bestowed upon all those contributing, a donation of $1 being sufficient to enroll for the year.

Placed in Jail

An unidentified man giving the name of A. Nuisance, was arrested by Officer Putnam, as he alighted from an Oregon Electric freight train in North Salem. The man was intoxicated and when searched at the police station a bottle of liquor labeled denatured alcohol was found in his possession. From the fumes of his breath, and the befuddled condition of the conversation it was presumed that the man had been drinking the alcohol. He was confined in the city jail. Simple tests carried on at the station showed that the contents of the bottle was of high alcoholic percentage.

Third Annual Concert of Auxiliary of YMCA Offered to Scattered Crowd

Music of Various Kinds Presented at First Methodist Church Last Night; Proceeds Go to Complete Pledges

An all too small and scattered audience heard the third annual concert of the Woman's auxiliary of the YMCA last night at the First Methodist church.

Prof. T. S. Roberts opened the program on a dignified key with the Prologue from Organ Suite of Rogers, following with the trilling and tremulous "Meditation" number from Struges. The Willamette Glee club gave the next group, under the baton of Prof. E. W. Hobson. "Shadow March," full of subdued melody, and "Sweet Canaan" with its shouting close, were numbers chosen.

The program thenceforward was more or less rearranged, the Willamette quartet following the Willamette club. The quartet numbers were Duna, a substitution for "Heaven, Heaven," and "De Coppa Moon," a favorite Barleigh composition.

Mrs. Harry Harms, whose soprano voice is of unusual clarity and exuberance, sang "My Dream" and "Good Bye," both Tosti numbers, and responded with a pleasing encore. Miss Genevieve Findley accompanied her at the piano.

In a decidedly lighter strain were the three orchestra numbers played by the Pied Pipers, Miss Maxine Glover, Eidon Adolf, Don-

ATTEMPTS TO RELEASE MAN SEEM IN VAIN

Eight members of the Kentucky national guard under command of two lieutenants left Smith Grove for Sand Cave with the intention of assisting with such excavation as is being done.

Shortly after the eight guardsmen left Smith Grove, a telegram was sent to Governor Fields asking for troops to maintain order in Cave City. The request emphasized that no disorder existed at present, but that the situation lacked order.

Gerals, for whom Collins has been calling, has worn himself out in his four days of fruitless rescue work and is reported to be under the care of a physician.

An attempt to bore through the hillsides into the cavern by which it was hoped to reach Collins from behind and thus get at the rock which bears down on his leg, was abandoned upon advice of workmen within the cave. Those underground at the time asserted that there was danger of falling rock crushing or imprisoning them as a result of being loosened by vibration originating from the outside.

lary, which would bring the production of lime to close proximity of over 50 percent of the users. In addition, the advantages of cartage and freer access of delivery the lime crushing machinery could keep prisoners employed.

At the present time the lime bureau has obtained option on machinery to start immediate operation, the committee in charge has considered to sell part of the machinery which is now at the quarries near Grants Pass.

It is stated that lime rock from the Beaver Cement works can be secured for the machinery here when it is installed, and that the quarry at the Marble mountains can produce enough lime rock to make Salem famous for the material.

The men meeting here yesterday were Dean Cordley of OAC, Tom Moore, chairman of Corvallis Martin Brown of Gold Hill, and E. T. Gilbert of Shaw.

BITS FOR BREAKFAST

Keep date open—
Open for a dance
And if you do not dance, buy a ticket any way.

This all refers to the dance of the American Legion, on Feb. 14, to raise the money to clear of debt the soldier monument on the Marion county court house grounds.

The debt is $1320. All paid but that. Paid largely by the American War Mothers, with cooked food and rummage sales, etc.

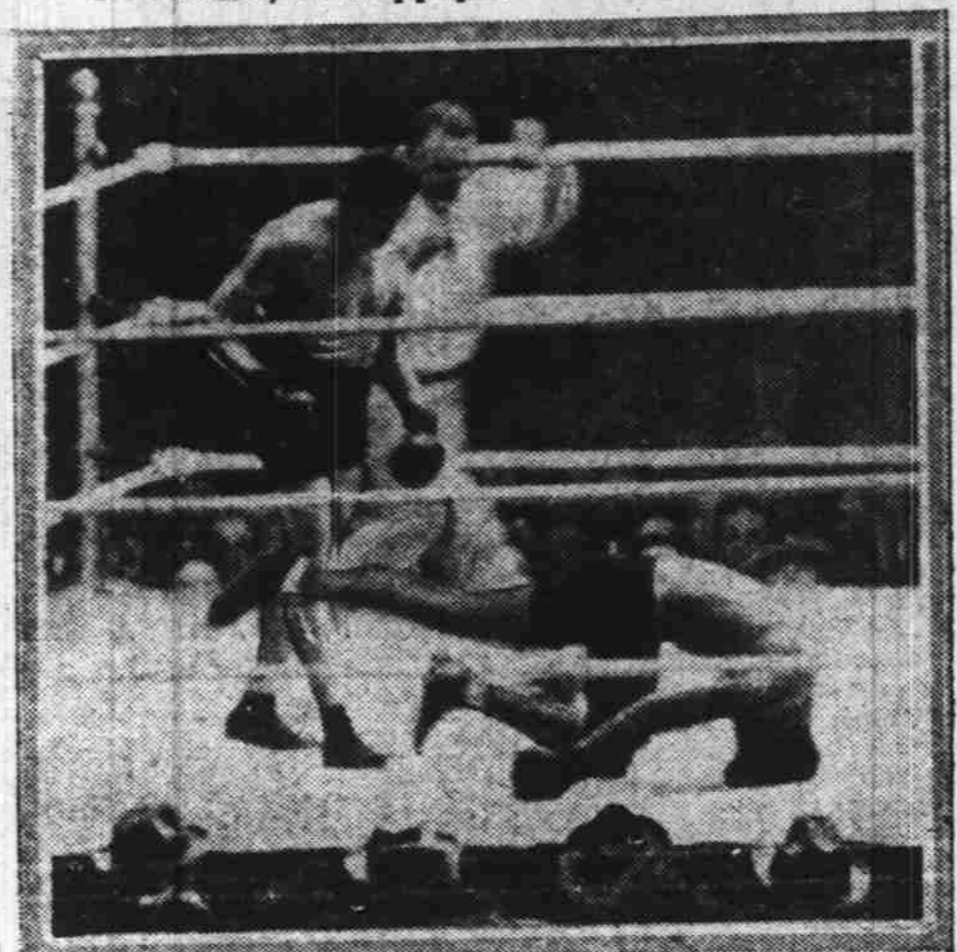

This dance is to be in the new Crystal Gardens, Liberty and Ferry streets, and it is proposed to sell enough tickets to take up this $1320 debt.

Can the American Legion do it?
This was done at McMinnville, and even a larger sum realized from a single dance, to pay for their soldier monument there.

Can there be a better way to celebrate St. Valentine's day? Who will refuse to buy a ticket for such a worthy object?

And then for those who dance it is going to be one of the most

Four Proposed Army Sites Meet With Approval

Four proposed Army sites have met with approval of the military affairs of the legislature and passage of such measures recommended by the ways and means committee for final consideration.

Appropriations as recommended are: $40,000 for La Grande; $30,000 for Cottage Grove; $30,000 for Forest Grove and $10-

Governor's Request for Office Requirements Cut

Governor Pierce stands to lose $1800 from his request for money to his department of the recommendations of the ways and means committee are carried out. The committee cut his $41,800 request to $40,000 after considerable discussion. Secretary of State Koser was granted his request for $95,650 while Dr. R. E. Lee Steiner will not get the $1,053,108 sought.

for the state hospital for the next two years. The budget commission suggested that $854,525 be allowed.

COMMUNITY TROUBLE SHOOTER HERE

An expert of the University of Oregon was in this vicinity last week in the interest of harmony and cooperation, says the Mt. Angel News.

The first town he visited was Monitor. Monitor is a thriving little town. Not large in population, but the center of considerable activity. From Monitor the expert came to Mt. Angel and pursued his studies here.

The object of his investigation is to ascertain the reason or reasons for the apparent lack of harmonious cooperation of the various groups in rural towns. He questioned various people and of course received various answers to his questions. Some of those questioned thought that a little more brotherly love might bring people together on problems which must be met and solved nearly every day. Some thought that the difference in creeds among the people might be an obstacle to the attainment of lasting harmony. Of course the economic side of the question also came into consideration.

So much for the research work of the university expert. It would seem that nearly all obstacles to a harmonious working together may be described by one word: Intolerance.

The dictionary describes intolerance as being a "want of toleration of the opinions and practice of others; inability to bear or endure." Intolerance is not confined to one individual or group. In the present age everybody seems to make an interdependent life a little easier. In the past there might have been more reasons for an intolerant attitude than now. But at least there is one outstanding reason that has always existed and is more in evidence now than at any other period. It is greed. Greed for power, money, and authority, has made many people intolerant. Tolerance is the antidote and the remedy the expert is seeking.
